TODAY'S GAME: HOPEFULLY NOT A REPLAY OF 1969 EXCEPT IN OUTCOME

When IUP and the Wilkes Colonels last met on the Miller Stadium gridiron, the year was 1969 and the date was Nov. 15 and the Indiana freshman team, 1972's seniors, had just staggered to a 1-4 season's mark. But both varsities on the field that day entered the first meeting between the two schools with just a single loss. Indiana had been upset by Slippery Rock, 23-21, and Ithaca had ended Wilkes's unbeaten string at 32, 13-7. There was, however, on the field that day a third strong opponent, another powerful force, one that would attempt to neutralize the attacks of both teams: snow. Seven inches of snow! And after the field was scraped, probably six inches of mud! Despite the snow and the mud and the cold (26° at gametime and falling fast) and a solid Wilkes defense, the Indians, propelled by three interceptions by Barry Ruffner, two other thefts and a blocked punt by Jim Steppling, managed to prevail, 14-0.

The Scouting Report On: WILKES

IUP assistant coach Bob Letso scouted Wilkes the last two Saturdays in their games with Upsala and Ithaca. Here in brief, for the benefit of today's Miller Stadium Homecoming fans, is a summary of his report to head coach Bill Neal.

OFFENSE:

Letso observed that Wilkes uses a multiple offense, so multiple in fact that the Colonels employ as many as 12 different formations. For the IUP coaches and players this means that valuable practice time must be used to prepare for any contingency, for all variations in the attack. But basically Wilkes runs from a Pro-I set with two running backs lined up behind quarterback Jeff Giberson (6-0, 170). Giberson is a "good leader," according to the Indiana scout. Fullback Andy Check (5-10, 180) is the principal ball carrier on the offensive unit that sports lettermen at eight of the 11 spots. Among the linemen, Letso singled out junior center Tom Panetta (6-2, 200), who will work against IUP's outstanding middle guard-linebacker Greg Palchak in trying to exploit Wilkes's main offensive weapon, the run.

DEFENSE:

Coach Roland Schmidt has even more experience on defense with 10 letter winners among the starters. And as on offense, Wilkes showed Letso a dozen different defensive sets starting from the basic 4-4-3. Thus, lots of work for the IUP blockers. Impressive among the defenders are four stars who held the Indians, even with Larry Monsilovich, to just one TD last year (IUP won, 13-7, but one score came on the 47-yard return of a blocked punt by Palchak). Tackles Joe Pavill (6-0, 230) and Jeff Grandinetti (6-2, 220) return along the forward wall along with defensive end Pat Ratchford (6-1, 195). Letso says that linebacker Frank Galicki (5-11, 210) is one of the best IUP will encounter this season. With speed, quickness and hitting ability, he will move to middle guard in a five-man line.

KEYS TO VICTORY:

The two previous IUP-Wilkes games forecast a tough defensive battle today. Against one of IUP's finest and most talented squads, the 8-1 1969 team with Dan Cox, Tony Ferrari, Dave Smith, Wally Blucas, Bob Prokay, Jack Neptune, Barry Ruffner and others, the Colonels yielded grudgingly, 14-0. And the point spread became even closer last year, 13-7, as mentioned above. To finish the current Wilkes series 3-0 with a win today, IUP, according to Letso, must have an outstanding game from its offensive line which has to more than neutralize the stunting tactics of the Wilkes front four. "A heady game is a necessity," he says. If the two lines fight to a standoff, then quarterback George Yokitis might find it advantageous to test the strength of the Wilkes secondary. Defensively, the Indians will have to stop an attack devoid of "razzle-dazzle" but one directed by a veteran at quarterback in Giberson. Despite Wilkes's inclination to run the ball, it must be remembered that Giberson hit on 13 of 25 passes for 173 yards last year against IUP, and only three interceptions marred his day. Letso summed up his opinions by saying that the 1972 Homecoming foe is a "typical Wilkes team — definitely tough."

IUP Director of Athletics

Herm Sledzik was named acting director in January, 1970, and officially appointed Indiana University of Pennsylvania director of athletics in May, 1970.

Prior to becoming the head of the IUP sports program, Sledzik served as assistant director of athletics. During the 1969-70 academic year, his first full year on the job, Indiana competitors compiled a 70 per cent winning average. Overall, the 11 varsity teams won 110 contests, lost 47 and tied one. And in 1970-71 that record increased to 120-46 and 72 per cent as all 11 teams posted winning marks. In his three years, the overall winning percentage is an outstanding 70 per cent, and only two of the 33 squads fielded concluded with losing records.

His contributions to IUP include not only his recent administrative ones but also seven years as head basketball coach. Those seven seasons produced a composite record of 103-53. And in his last three years, Sledzik directed the Indians to marks of 18-6, 22-2 and 21-4 and berths in the NAIA District 18 playoffs. At the close of the 1968-69 campaign he was unanimously elected by his fellow coaches the District 18 Coach of the Year.

A graduate of Elders Ridge High School where he competed in football, basketball, baseball and track, Sledzik spent his college freshman year at Penn State's DuBois Center before moving to the main campus at University Park in 1950.

For the Nittany Lions he lettered for three years and was elected captain for his final season. A forward, Sledzik made the starting lineup for coach Elmer Gross early in his sophomore season as he and Jesse Arnelle paced the team to a 53-22 record over the three years.

During Sledzik's junior year, Penn State captured 22 victories in 26 games advancing to the NCAA tournament but lost to the Frank Ramsey-Cliff Hagen Kentucky team in the opening round.

In his final year, he totaled 335 points averaging nearly 18 per game.

Following his 1953 graduation from Penn State, two years as an Army officer and a year of graduate study, Sledzik coached at the high school level from 1956 through 1963 at Montoursville, Shannock Valley and his alma mater, Elders Ridge. His overall high school basketball coaching record was 127-44.

He and his wife, Jean, a graduate of IUP, have two children: Jim, 7, Bob 4.

Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the NCAA

Laguna Colonnade Hardtop Coupe

The new 1973 Chevelle Laguna. Good news, Chevelle fans. Now you can move up to more car without leaving the make you love most. You can move up to the new 1973 Laguna.

Laguna is a new kind of Chevelle, the top of the line. It has a special front, a special rear and a special interior.

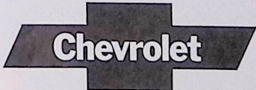

The distinctive front is made mostly of a material called urethane that resists dents and dings. Styled right into the front end is the new improved front bumper system that retracts on minor impact and helps cushion the shock.

Inside there are rich-looking fabrics, wood-grain vinyl accents, a soft-rim color-coordinated steering wheel, map pockets and other luxurious appointments.

Laguna, like other '73 Chevelles, has the new Colonnade hardtop roof design, power flow-through ventilation, front disc brakes, and more rear seat leg room than ever before.

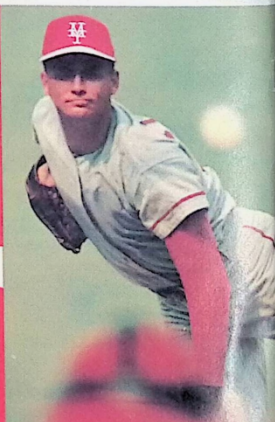

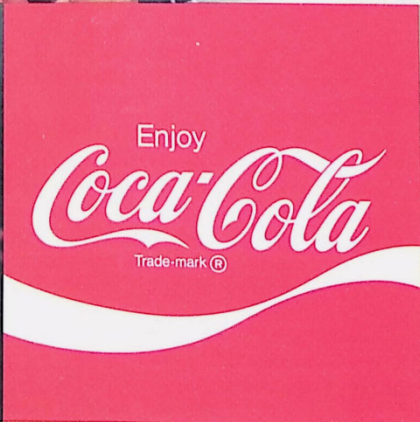

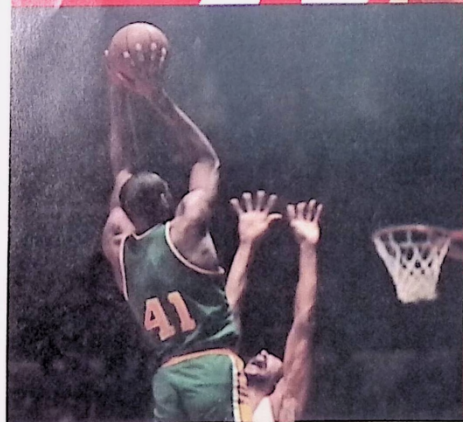

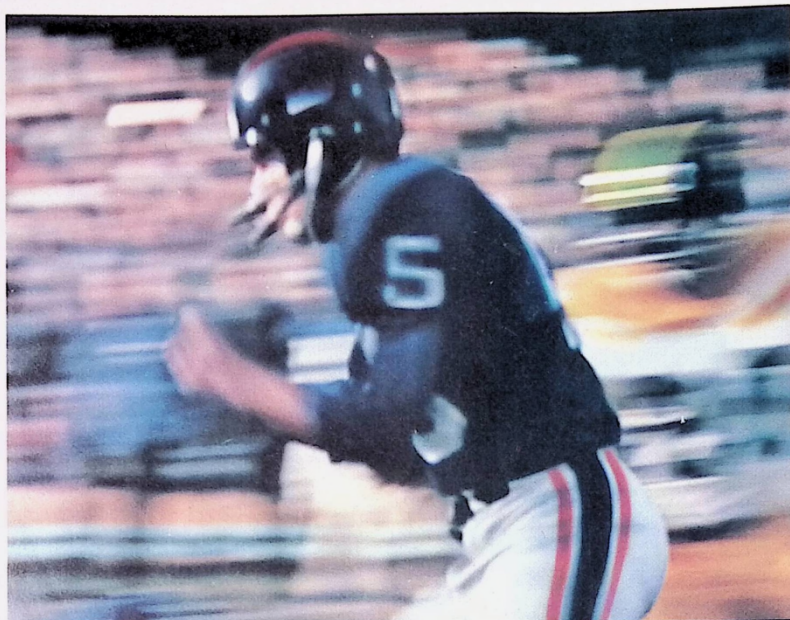

The 1973 Laguna. A new and better way to see the NCAA.

Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

Chevrolet

Enjoy the game. And remember to buckle up on the way home.

The IUP Marching Band

"Lassus Trombones"

Greatest Show on Earth

Under the direction of Richard S. Knab and featuring the special music arrangements of Charles A. Davis, the IUP Marching Band presents the finest in quality entertainment for college football audiences. This year's graduate assistant with the Marching Band is a former drum major, Gary Jackson. Returning for his second season as IUP Marching Band's "Man Up Front" is drum major Richard Dosch, a senior trumpet major from Kittanning.

The band is made up of both music majors and non-music majors. Instruments, uniforms, music, and other equipment are completely provided by the Student Co-operative Association.

Each year the season begins with a one-week training camp prior to the start of school. During the football season, the band rehearses three hours per week and performs pre-game and halftime shows at all home football games.

In addition to its 1972 home football schedule, the band will be appearing December 3 in Three Rivers Stadium at the Pittsburgh Steelers-Cleveland Browns football game.

In keeping with the Homecoming theme of "Nostalgia and the Good Old Days" the IUP Band presents "The Greatest Show on Earth."

The band marches downfield to the tune of "Circus On Parade" from the musical "Jumbo" by Rogers and Hammerstein. Featured next is an old fashioned steam calliope playing "Man on the Flying Trapeze." On with the show featuring the trombones in "Lassus Trombone" and a 3-ring circus with acrobats, jugglers and tumblers performing to Barnum and Bailey's favorites. And to end "THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH," the IUP Marching Band exits to the popular hit, "Candy Man."

This afternoon the IUP Marching Band wishes to extend a welcome to all alumni. Marching band alumni met this morning for a rehearsal and will be performing with the band this afternoon in the pre-game show. The pre-game show includes the downfield march "Cherokee," the IUP Alma Mater, "America," "The Star Spangled Banner" and fight song.

Once Upon A Time . . . When IUP's 26-year-old linebacker, Tom Anderson (#66) was lettering in football for Indiana in 1964, many of his current teammates were high-voiced fifth-graders barely big enough to pick up a football. And in that 1964 season when the Indians clashed with Slippery Rock, freshman Tom Anderson bumped heads with an all-conference tackle for the Rockets named Jim Mill, the same man who presently coaches Tom Anderson. In the scene above, Tom Anderson, with the wisdom of age (and the help of a relaxing rocking chair), tells his entranced pupils what it was like to play football way back when. Once Upon A Time . . .

TOM ANDERSON: Once Upon A Time

By Ed Bouchette, Sports Information Student Assistant

"What's an old man like you doing in a game like this?"

That's a question many a young football player at Indiana University of Pennsylvania would probably like to ask of their teammate and co-captain Tom Anderson.

Or maybe the question should be revised to read: "What's an old man like you STILL doing in a game like this?"

The question seems a fair one when you consider the facts: Tom Anderson, a starting senior linebacker for the 1972 Indians, is 26 years old. And if you think that is interesting, let it be known that the same Tom Anderson was also a starting linebacker for the 1965 Indians after lettering in 1964!

That not only puts him in the running as one of the oldest captains of a college football team in the country but he also could be one of the few players in history whose college football career has spanned nine seasons.

Imagine a scene between the creaky Mr. Anderson and the spright, 17-year-old freshman Nick Rodio, a defensive tackle from Jessup, Pa., following a tough Saturday afternoon football game. Young Nick asks the exhausted old-timer if he knows about any parties that will be going on that night. The only answer he receives from the aging veteran, however, is in the form of a mutter: "If I were only 10 years younger," and "How do these kids do it nowadays?"

And Tom says it's not true that he is bitter that the players voted not to let him bring his favorite rocking chair into the team locker room.

In reality, though, Tom is "just one of the guys," and though his football career at Indiana has spanned nine seasons, he has been a member of the IUP squad for just four of them.

It all started way back in the fall of 1964, the year Lyndon Johnson was elected President, when a promising freshman by the name of Tom Anderson earned a letter as a second-string linebacker on Indiana's football squad.

And following an excellent season as a starter in 1965, the future looked bright for the young Homer City native as a football player for the Indians.

But then Tom got into grade trouble and he left school to join the Air Force.

"I don't regret what I did," says the veteran. "I enjoyed the service, but I didn't realize I'd miss football as much as I did. All I could think about was playing football. I watched every game, read every story, and played flag football every chance I got. When I finished my second year in the service, all I remember thinking is that I still had two more years to wait until I could play in college again."

Those two years, though, finally ended and the way was open for Tom to complete his two years of eligibility in football at Indiana.

But after four years of a desk job in the Air Force, it wasn't an easy comeback.

"In spring drills in 1971 I was out of shape and slow," says the 6-0, 174-pounder. "But that summer I got into the best condition of my life."

It was a hard fight, however, in trying to recapture his starting position of seven seasons ago. But after lettering in 1971 and regaining his feel for the game, Tom was back in his old spot as a number one linebacker this season which leads to his present position of being nearly a decade older than some of his teammates.

"I don't think my age has any effect on the other players," Tom remarks. "Sure they have nicknames for me such as 'Old Man' and 'Dad' but no one makes a big thing of it."

To the local townspeople, however, Tom Anderson is someone big, something special, and one of their favorites.

As a resident of Homer City, located just a few miles outside of Indiana, and as a graduate of Homer-Center High School, Tom plays before many of his friends and relatives when IUP is at home.

"I wouldn't want to play anywhere else but Indiana," says Tom, whose brother Ed is a senior fullback for the Indians. "It's a thrill everytime I go out on the field."

It's also a thrill for his coach.

"Tom is an excellent ballplayer and he blends in fine with the younger players," notes coach Bill Neal. "The only difference is that his maturity gives him a better outlook on the game. He has a better sense of security and sometimes helps keep the others settled down."

Settling down is something most 26-year-olds have already done, but the unmarried physical education major has no certain plans for the future.

"I won't graduate until 1974 and then I may try coaching, but I'm not sure yet," he says.

As a 27-year-old graduate, Tom will be just embarking on a career when most people his age have already established themselves in their field. This means that he will have to compete with much younger graduates for a job.

But then, Tom Anderson knows what it's like to compete with the young.

And, more importantly, he knows how to get along with them. After all, he was young once, too.

Army ROTC pays. When you're in, and when you're out.

Army ROTC pays you $100 a month during your last two years of college. But the money, handy as it is, isn't the real reason you should enroll in ROTC.

There is a bigger payoff. The one that comes after you've earned your degree and commission. After you've served your country as an officer. That's the time you'll know the real value of Army ROTC.

When you begin your civilian career. You'll find you have the combination that just about guarantees success—a good education, fine tuned with military management and experience. Let us tell you about the options.

ALMA MATER

Words and Music by Eleanor C. Farley

*Wilkes, our Alma Mater
We pledge our hearts to thee,
Honor, Faith, and Courage,
Truth and Loyalty.
In our work as in our pleasure
Guide us as a friend;
We shall always love thee,
Loyal to the end.
Thou shalt lead us onward
In search of finer things.
May we find the wisdom
That thy spirit brings.
May our deeds of love and service
Ever swell thy fame —
Wilkes, we stand to greet thee!
Glory to thy name!*

COLONEL BRAINTRUST

ROLAND C. SCHMIDT

Roland Schmidt will begin his 11th season at the helm of the football Colonels this fall. During his first decade of coaching at Wilkes, which spanned 1962-1971, the personable mentor compiled an outstanding 53-24-1 record.

From 1965 to 1969 his squads terrorized the Middle Atlantic Conference and other eastern foes, winning 37 of 40 contests.

Included in this impressive accomplishment are five straight Northern Division MAC titles (1965-69); two Lambert Bowls, symbolic of ECAC Division III supremacy (1966, 1968); three straight undefeated seasons (1966, 1967, 1968); and a 32-game winning streak, the third longest in the history of NCAA College Division football.

Not to be outdone on other fields of sport, Schmidt coached the Blue and Gold baseball team from 1962 to 1969, and in 1970 assumed duties as head golf mentor.

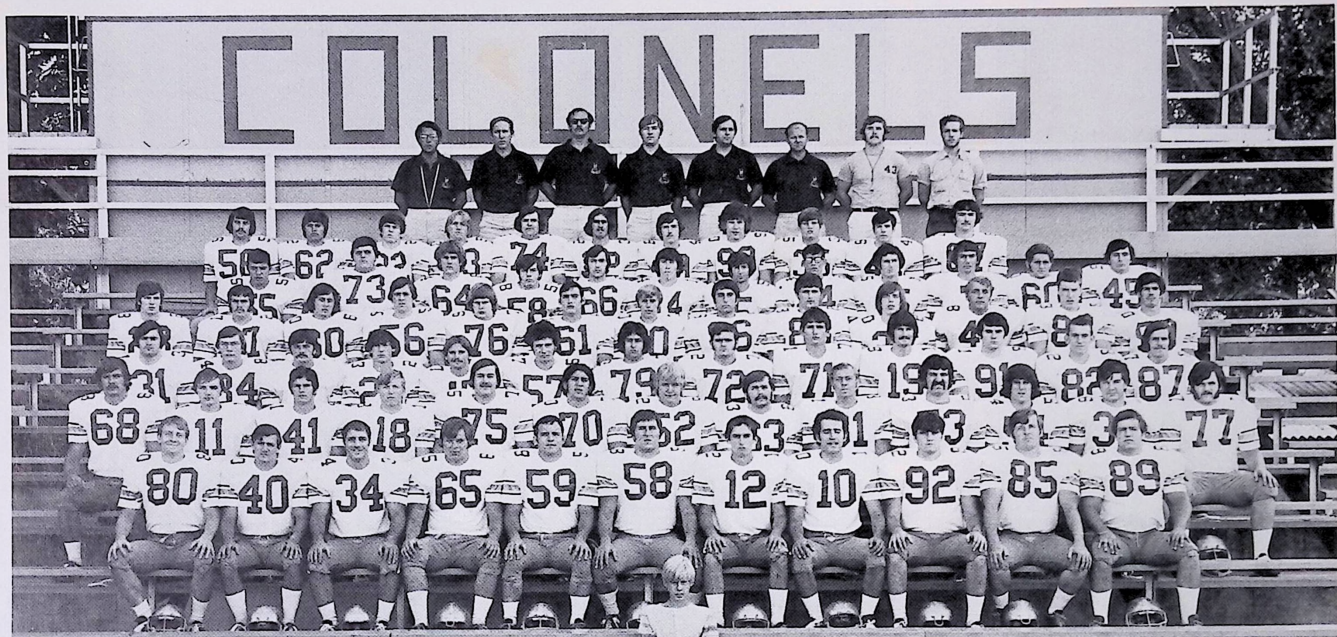

His 1968 and 1969 baseball teams exploded for a 22-5 combined record. This streak included a MAC crown in 1968. Although loaded with underclassmen during his rookie golf year, the Colonels responded with an 8-3 dual record for the best links showing ever. Rollie hit the plateau in 1970 and continued the glory this spring, capturing successive MAC golf titles.

A 1950 graduate of Wilkes-Barre Coughlin High School, Rollie took part in football, wrestling, and track. He attended Bloomsburg State College for two years before serving a two-year stint in the Army. Returning to Bloomsburg upon the completion of his military obligation, the Colonel taskmaster participated in football and track for the Huskies.

His coaching career began at Clarks Summit High School where he served as assistant football, track, and head wrestling coach for three years. Schmidt put in another three-year tour with Kingston as a football assistant before arriving at Wilkes in 1962. The Wilkes mentor is married to the former Margaret Dombrowski of Hudson.

WILKES - OUR ALMA MATER

A warm welcome is extended to all friends of Wilkes College who are in the stands today helping to cheer a fine Wilkes football team on to victory over Ithaca College.

An especially warm greeting is meant for all of my fellow Wilkes alumni who have returned to the campus for our Twenty-Fifth Annual Alumni Homecoming.

As we witness today's football game, and I assure you that the young men who make up this 1972 Colonels grid squad are an outstanding group of young Wilkesmen, our thoughts can be directed to the success of Wilkes intercollegiate athletic teams — success measured in terms of winning seasons and a winning attitude. There are many factors which may be considered as significant. Among them are a sound athletic policy which focuses on athletics as an integral part of the overall instructional program, sound leadership and excellent coaching, and adherence to the student-athlete principle whereby quality academic standards are maintained and the athletic participant is a student "first" and an athlete "second."

Relative to this latter factor, our alumni have helped, and hopefully will continue their help, to make an outstanding contribution to our Alma Mater. Through the recruiting efforts of alumni, outstanding students and student-athletes are encouraged to attend Wilkes. This type of cooperation from fellow alumni has given all of us increased pride in our mutual endeavors to keep Wilkes College a winner in all areas of higher education.

Again — my thanks and best wishes.

ART HOOVER '55

Director of Alumni Relations

This Weeks Game

Look for a real thriller as Wilkes tangles with Ithaca College for the fifteenth time. The Blue and Gold haven't been able to trip the Ithacans since 1968, when they notched a 28-19 conquest at Ralston Field.

Since then the Blue Bombers from Ithaca, N.Y. have stung the Colonels on three straight occasions. The latest being a 41-28 decision last year at South Hill Field.

Wilkes jumped out to a 14-0 lead in that one, only to have perennial nemesis Doug Campbell come back to rip the Colonels apart with his quarterback wizardry.

Campbell finally has graduated but the Ithacans showed no lag in the offensive department, piling up 1,630 yards in their first five games.

Ithaca, 3-2 on the year, relies mainly on its "wish-bone" running offense to get the job done. Although their passing game has not shown impressive performance on the year, Colonel taskmaster Rollie Schmidt will be constantly aware of the bomb potential.

Despite possessing two losses on the year, the Blue Bombers have been devastating in their last two outings, decking RIT, 30-13; and Fordham, 38-13, last Saturday.

Ithaca depends on three men to get the ball toting job done — Rich Bryant, a 6-1, 180-pound junior, has gained 345 yards of turf so far. Just behind are Dave Remick, 5-10, 185-pound sophomore, 273 yards; and Mike Welch, 5-10, 190-pound senior, 249 yards.

The Bombers' limited aerial attack has been directed on split-end John Nunn, who has latched on to ten catches for a 110-yard assemblage.

Watch Bob Wojnar at guard. He was a first-team choice on the ECAC Division II team last fall and Ithaca's leading choice for Little All American honors this time around.

Top tacklers for Ithaca through the first half of play have been defensive back Chuck Kroll, 56 hits, and end Randall Garrett, who has 52 total bumps.

Coach Jim Butterfield is also happy with the fine effort of defensive back Dennis Leyden, who already has four interceptions to his credit.

It's homecoming again for the Wilkes Colonels, and nothing would be anything happier than a victory after consecutive alumni game losses to Ithaca (25-21 in 1970) and Indiana (13-7 last year).

Memories of 1969's setback, which brought to close the Colonels' 32-game winning streak, and last season's defeat which eventually tripped the locals of a bowl bid, all loom big in the minds of the Wilkes gridders.

The Blue and Gold came up with a crucial 14-0 triumph over Upsala last Saturday to keep their Middle Atlantic Conference championship hopes alive.

Although the offensive attack was less glittering than hoped, the Colonel defense rebounded in a giant way, limiting the Vikings to only two yards rushing.

This would seem to be the big question today as Wilkes, which has allowed only 267 yards on the ground, faces the Ithaca machine, which has bitten the gridiron for 1,331 yards.

Colonel field general Jeff Giberson has a habit of getting up for the big one, and today will surely be his top challenge of the campaign.

The Mt. Holly, N.J., native has connected on 39 of 70 passing attempts for a completion rate of 56 percent and 391 yards.

His favorite targets have been George Sillup and Bill Horan, who have combined for 28 receptions.

Andy Check and Fred Lohman, with 276 and 121 yards, respectively, are getting better with each week's action.

Little has been said about the Colonel offensive line which has been getting some yeoman work out of Bill Metzger, John Holland, Rich Lorenzen, Tom Boshinski, and Tom Panetta.

Senior Frank Galicki, number 58, will be the most noticeable man on defense but keep your eye on end Pat Ratchford, tackle Jeff Grandinetti, and linebacker Rich Lack.

Freshman safety Fred Marianacci, who has three interceptions, is also an exciting player who is rapidly gaining some of that unpredictability left by all-time great Joe Wiendl.

It will be an exciting game all the way. Final outcome will probably be decided by that one big play.

1972 College Football Rules Changes

by Ellwood A. Geiges

Assistant to Commissioner, E.C.A.C.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee during its 1972 meeting continued its campaign to modify the present rules and institute new ones in order to make the game safer for the players and more spectacular for the spectators. Following are some of the major changes for the coming season:

1. Six officials are now permitted in order to more efficiently cover areas now demanded by the increasing open deployment of players on offense.
2. After an invalid or illegal signal for a fair catch, the ball is declared dead where caught.
3. A substitute must enter the field directly from his team area.
4. A free kick which strikes the ground in the end zone untouched by the receiving team is a touchback.
5. The mandatory maximum length of shoe cleats has been reduced to one-half inch.
6. Striking an opponent's head, neck or face with an extended forearm, elbow, locked hands or the heel, back or side of the open hand is prohibited.
7. Penalties for fouls committed by the team not in possession of the ball and behind the spot where the ball is declared dead will be enforced from the dead ball spot.

MINOR CHANGES AND ALTERATIONS INCLUDE:

(a) Officials signals: For blocking below the waist a chopping motion in front of leg, a tipping of the hands to indicate partial deflection of the ball by defenders on kicks and forward passes, hacking forearm with hand for personal fouls, grasping and pulling down wrist for holding.

(b) Flags or pylons must be placed at the eight intersections of the sidelines with the goal lines and end lines.

(c) A legal fair catch is declared dead where caught, not where first touched.

(d) If a number on a player's jersey becomes illegible, his team is charged with a time out unless the jersey is changed within the 25 second interval. Otherwise, the player may leave the game to avoid a charged time out.

(e) If an obviously injured player cannot leave the field under his own power, the time out is charged to the Referee. However, such a player must be removed from the game for at least one play.

(f) A player who has been in the game on the previous down may request a time out without being within 15 yards of the ball when it is declared ready for play.

(g) The goal line is a vertical plane when the ball is in possession or touched. The restraining line on free kicks is a vertical plane when the ball is in possession or touched.
