THE COACH'S MESSAGE

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you all back and wish you a pleasant reunion. It will be quite a thrill for me to see so many of the old timers back at one time. The memories and thrills you have provided in the past years are enough to last any coach for a lifetime. I have always been immensely proud of my teams and the boys on them. The wonderful attitude and tremendous desire to win was always present when you wrestled, and many times it was the deciding factor in our matches. The last few years have been different as far as team makeup is concerned. Instead of having the majority of our team members from the Valley, we have more from out of town. Consequently, we have had more problems keeping the same boys in school each year, and it has been difficult to build that same kind of attitude and pride that was our trademark in the past. This year we have a great group of young wrestlers that could go on to win many matches. If we can keep them intact, you will be hearing from us.

In closing, I would like to say that I hope you have enjoyed wrestling for Wilkes as much as we have enjoyed having you on our teams. Best of luck in the future and make sure you keep in touch.

WILKES WRESTLER OF THE DECADE

The photo at left, taken in March 1961, appeared in the WILKES-BARRE MORNING RECORD after the Annual Wilkes College Sports Banquet. The article which follows also appeared in the local newspaper and it explains why we again honor Marvin A. Antinnes as the "Wilkes Wrestler of the Decade."

Marv Antinnes, right, is receiving a special athletic "Honor Roll" award from Wilkes Sports Information Director Arthur Hoover for his superior and record-breaking performance in intercollegiate wrestling. Antinnes' four-year record in dual meet competition includes 36 wins and one loss. Thirty-three of the 36 wins have been consecutive with 19 of the victories coming via the fall route. He also contributed 146 team points to give the Colonels their current string of 29 straight victories and five consecutive Middle Atlantic Conference championships.

"In addition to his dual meet record, Antinnes won the MAC championship crown at 167 in 1959, at 177 in 1960 and in 1961. During his freshman year he won the second place medal at 167. He also holds the NAIA 177-pound wrestling crown for 1960 and two second place trophies from the Wilkes Open Tourney. This season he served as captain of the champion Wilkesmen."

Since his graduation from Wilkes in June 1961, Marv has served as assistant football and head wrestling coach at Meyers High School and is currently head football and wrestling coach at Plymouth High School. In the summer of 1963 Marv was married to his high school sweetheart, Elaine Richards of Forty Fort, and they are now residing at 204 Academy Street, Wilkes-Barre, with their 3-month old son Mark.

MATMEN'S MEMORIES

THINKING BACK OVER THE LAST DECADE, SOME OF THE FOLLOWING THINGS COME TO MIND . . .

.... the match with Lycoming in 1960 when, with the score 11 - 11, Bob Sislian pinned his man to give us the victory. The students paraded Bob around the gym and almost trampled the official.

.... when we won our first Middle Atlantic Championship without having a single champion. Keith Williams, Jim Ward, Don Reynolds, and Dave Thomas all lost in the finals.

.... the "Bloomsburg Affair" in 1956 when we lost the meet on an ALLEGED ILLEGAL HOLD. Don Reynolds was leading 10 - 0 when the call was made and he lost by default.

.... our first win over Hofstra when Walt Glogowski and Bob Masonis won the last two matches and gave us the win, 20 - 13.

.... our first undefeated season in 1956 - 57 when we won ten meets and averaged 25 points to 7 for the opponents.

.... the match with Millersville in 1958 that ended our 23 meet winning streak. We won four decisions and had a draw, and they got two falls, a decision, and a draw to beat us 15 - 14.

.... the Lycoming match in 1959 when we were behind 13 - 3 and Ted Toluba, Marvin Antinnes, and Walt Glogowski got three falls in a row to win the match.

.... in our 1959 bout with Ithaca, Girard Senick and Marvin Antinnes both got takedowns in the last 30 seconds to win their matches and the meet 17 - 13.

.... in 1960 - 61 we shut out two teams and only lost one bout in four others. The team average over the season was Wilkes 25, opponents 5½.

.... our trip to Dartmouth when we got snowed in and had to stay an extra day. That was their Winter Carnival, and we ruined it by beating them 28 - 0. We came back from that trip with a slogan that we kidded about all season. "If you can do it, do it — if you can't do it, don't do it."

.... in the 1958 MAC Tourney all eight men placed. Three first places, two second places, one third place, and two fourth places.

.... the look on the Lycoming coach's face when we switched Bob Herman to 177 a half hour before the meet and ruined his strategy of switching his upper weights.

SATURDAY, MARCH 11

JACK HANCOCK

Now in his twelfth year as Mines' head wrestling coach and trainer, is Jack Hancock. A graduate of Colorado State College, he has also attended the State University of Iowa and the University of Denver. Prior to coming to Mines, Hancock coached at Holly (Colorado), Fort Morgan (Colorado), and Sheridan Union (Colorado) High Schools. He is a regular attendant at medical and training clinics throughout the West and is a highly regarded trainer.

He comes from a coaching family — son of John W. Hancock, the Helms Hall of Fame wrestling coach at Colorado State College, and brother of Tom, head football coach at Lakewood (Colorado) High School. Hancock again this year is chairman for the NCAA wrestling All American Selection Committee.

JIM HOWARD

Jim Howard is now in his fifth season as varsity coach at Oswego, his teams have won State University Conference championships and posted winning records each season he has coached. As a coach, he's never had a losing season at any level, high school, college freshman and varsity.

Jim was an outstanding 130-pound wrestler for Ithaca while an undergraduate there. He was a runnerup in the NCAA nationals, won the Wilkes Open and 4-1 titles twice. Later, while in the Army, he won an All-Army title.

Jim is an assistant professor of physical education and holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Ithaca College.

DAVID N. CAMAIONE

David N. Camaione, assistant professor of Physical Education at MacMurray College, also serves as co-ordinator of men's physical education, assistant director of athletics, wrestling and tennis coach.

Camaione, who has been at MacMurray since 1961, was named 1966 "Wrestling Coach of the Year" in NAIA District 20. He is co-author of a text on wrestling scheduled for publication in the spring of this year, and is chairman of NAIA District 20 Wrestling (Illinois) this year.

His MacMurray wrestling teams have won many titles including: 1966—ranked 7th NCAA College Division, Lake Forest Invitational Champion, Wheaton Invitational Champion and Knox Invitational Champion; 1965—NCAA College Division Championships - 7th in the nation; 1964—Wheaton and Lake Forest Invitational Champions.

SCORING RULES

Championship bouts are eight minutes long, divided into three periods of two, three and three minutes each. The first period will start from a standing position. Second and third periods begin on the mat in the referee's position, contestants alternating in the positions of advantage each period.

A FALL is decided when either wrestler has held his opponent's shoulders to the mat for one second. This terminates the match.

A DECISION is awarded to the contestant who scores the greater number of points in a bout where no Fall occurs. If there is a tie the contestants shall wrestle two extra periods of two minutes each (consolation matches, two periods of one minute each) starting from the referee's position as in the second and third periods of the regular match, the first choice of position determined by the toss of a coin. A jury of two judges and the referee shall observe the overtime periods and select the winner by ballot.

MATCH SCORING POINT SYSTEM

TAKEDOWN —

Taking opponent to mat with advantage..... 2 points

ESCAPE —

Defensive wrestler attaining a neutral position.... 1 point

REVERSAL —

Defensive wrestler comes from underneath and gains control of his opponent..... 2 points

PREDICAMENT —

A predicament is a situation in which the offensive wrestler has control of his opponent in a pinning combination and a fall or near fall is imminent. Two points are awarded for a predicament .

NEAR FALL —

A near fall is a position in which the offensive wrestler has his opponent in a pinning situation with both shoulders or the scapula area held in contact with the mat for less than one second or when one shoulder of the defensive wrestler is touching the mat and the other shoulder is held within one inch or less of the mat for two full seconds. Three points shall be awarded for a near fall.

TIME ADVANTAGE —

The offensive wrestler who has control in an advantage position over his opponent is gaining time-advantage. A timekeeper assigned to each wrestler records his accumulated time-advantage throughout the match or a multiple timer may be permitted to record the time-advantage. At the end of the match the Referee subtracts the lesser time-advantage from the greater. If the contestant with the greater time-advantage has less than one minute of net time-advantage, no point is awarded. If he has one full minute or more of net time-advantage he is awarded one point by the Referee. If he has two or more minutes of net time-advantage, he is awarded two points. The contestant with the lesser time-advantage receives no points even though he accumulates several minutes of time in the advantage position.

FORFEIT —

A forfeit is received by a wrestler when his opponent for any reason fails to appear for the match. In order to receive a forfeit, a wrestler must be addressed and appear on the mat.

DEFAULT —

A default is awarded in a match when one of the wrestlers is unable to continue wrestling due to an injury.

In the National Collegiate championships six places are awarded. The defeated wrestlers in the consolation semifinals shall wrestle off for the fifth and sixth places.

The loser in the final match automatically wins second place.

Wrestlers must wrestle at all times. Penalties are awarded by the referee under the point system for stalling, illegal holds and technical violations.

Any hold for punishment alone is prohibited.

Tournament Scoring

TOURNAMENT POINTS - First Place 10, Second Place 7, Third Place 5, Fourth Place 3, Fifth Place 2, Sixth Place 1. Fall, Default or Forfeit 1. Advancement 1.

In addition, one point shall be scored for each match won in both the championship and consolation eliminations exception for the final first and third place matches. No points are awarded for a bye in any round.

FIRST ANNUAL NCAA Division III WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

WILKES COLLEGE
WILKES-BARRE, PA.
MARCH 1-2, 1974

$1.00

Welcome to Wilkes College

I am very pleased to welcome to the campus of Wilkes College the member teams and guests of NCAA CD III wrestling.

It is a tribute to the years of dedication of Coach John Reese, who has contributed so much to the development of collegiate and olympic wrestling, that Wilkes College should be selected as host to the first Tournament of Division III wrestling.

The lessons of self-discipline required of men and women athletes are a significant element in academic as well as athletic competition. Participation in victory, as well as defeat, is a human experience we can all share, for all our lives will be composed of series of victories and defeats.

As men and women concerned with education, we take pride in sharing our campus and our traditions of academic and athletic excellence with our visitors.

Francis J. Michelini
President

The National Collegiate Athletic Association — the NCAA — is now in its 68th year and hasn't stopped growing yet.

The NCAA stands for many different things, but it is best known for its service to its member institutions.

The NCAA has more than 750 members and has established 33 annual National Championships in 18 different sports — including four new championships in Division III. Although best-known to the public for its Championship program, the NCAA does much more than conduct this national series.

The Association serves as the governing body of intercollegiate athletics. It is truly the athletic voice of the nation's colleges and universities.

It enforces a detailed code of regulations, is a means of professional communication for administrators and coaches and is a source of films, records and statistics.

It started in 1905 when President Theodore Roosevelt was about to ban intercollegiate football because of the violence of play.

Football representatives from 13 institutions met in December of 1905 to bring about reforms in college football. Later in the month, at a second meeting, the group formed the Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

On March 31, 1906, it was officially constituted and in 1910 the ICA became the NCAA.

The NCAA moved from a discussion group to an important and vital force in the conduct and administration of intercollegiate athletics when the membership voted itself legislative and executive powers shortly after World War II.

The change quickly shifted the NCAA's main responsibility from playing rules to considering and acting upon any athletic problem which has spread across regional lines and becomes national in character.

The enforcement program of the NCAA is designed to assure compliance with the legislation, the member institutions and allied conferences have adopted.

At annual Conventions of the Association, the NCAA is the nation's colleges and universities themselves speaking and acting on athletic matters at the national level.

More specifically, the NCAA:

- Conducts 33 Championships in 19 sports. Three Championships (Division I, Division II and Division III) are held in cross country, outdoor track and wrestling. Two Championships (Division I and Division II & III) are held in baseball, basketball, golf, gymnastics, lacrosse, soccer, swimming and tennis. In 1973, for the first time, Division II and Division III will decide a national champion in football through a playoff system. The National Collegiate Championship series dates back to 1883 in tennis, and during this 90-year span more than 60,000 student-athletes have competed in these events, with more than 6,000 earning the coveted title of "National Collegiate Champion."

- Maintains 13 rules committees to formulate, copyright and publish rules of play for the government of collegiate sports. Members of these committees are elected by representatives of member institutions at the annual Convention in January.
- Publishes "Official Guides" annually for nine sports through the National Collegiate Publishing Service.
- Collects, compiles and distributes to the press and college officials the official statistics of college football, basketball and baseball through its New York City record-keeping arm, the National Collegiate Sports Services.
- Maintains its national headquarters in Mission, Kansas, under the supervision of Executive Director Walter Byers.
- Conducts studies as a means of developing solutions to athletic problems. Recent surveys have been made on television, post-season events, length and time of playing and practice seasons, participation and budgets for intercollegiate baseball, activities and facilities for international competition.
- Annually awards 80 Postgraduate Scholarships of $1,000 each to outstanding senior student-athletes who have excelled in sports, in the classroom and on the campus. A total of $624,000 has been distributed through these scholarships.
- Enacts legislation to deal with athletic problems when they spread across regional lines and member institutions concur that national action is needed.
- Administers group insurance programs whereby member colleges can provide catastrophic medical coverage for student-athletes injured in practice, play or transport. More than 85,000 persons are enrolled annually in the athletic medical and travel accident programs.
- Maintains a central clearing and counseling agency in the field of college athletic administration.
- Maintains a large film library, covering play in national meets and tournaments. This library of more than 500 titles includes films on baseball, basketball, boxing, gymnastics, ice hockey, swimming, track and field and wrestling.
- Provides financial and other assistance to various groups interested in the promotion and encouragement of intercollegiate and intramural athletics; actively assists the various national associations in projects which provide better teaching, better competition and sounder administration.

1974 NCAA CD III WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

Preview of Things To Come

by Owen J. Costello

It's a whole new ball game as host Wilkes College, ranked first in the most recent Amateur Wrestling News CD III ratings, stands as the team to beat in this weekend's inaugural national mat event.

Colonels of John Reese recently copped their sixth straight Middle Atlantic Conference title and placed 5th in last year's NCAA CD tourney at Brookings, South Dakota.

This winter the Blue and Gold have wrestled 18 dual matches against perennial national powers — Lehigh, Navy, Oklahoma, Syracuse, North Dakota State, and Army. Wilkes more than held its own against this stiff competition.

Leading Wilkes are co-captains Art Trovei (142), who placed 5th in the 1973 NCAA CD confab and has a lifetime 41-6-3 dual record; and fellow senior Mike Lee (150), who finished 3rd in the 1972 national event. Lee concluded with a 38-7-2 mark.

Backing them up are experienced wrestlers John Chakmakas (134), Gene Ashley (158), Jim Weisenfluh (167), and Al Scharer (Hwt.). Additional point gatherers could be freshmen Rick Mahonski (118), Lon Balum (126), and junior Jeff McDonald (177).

If Wilkes can't capture the marbles, both Ashland and Montclair State have the firepower to go all the way.

Montclair State, located in Upper Montclair, N. J., features three tough Metropolitan Conference crownholders in Ed Alber (118), Craig Spencer (134), and Larry Hayspell (142). Indians also possess one of the finest 126-pounders in the nation in the person of Nabil Guketlov.

Joe Reid (190) and Steve Strellner (177) are also exceptional grapplers.

Ashland College of Ohio, 9th in last March's NCAA CD tournament, is paced by Ron Angello (118), Rollie Clenons (150), Clay Barnard (158), and Elijah Whitten (177).

Millersville State College is on the move, as evidenced by their 3rd place team standing in last season's tough Pennsylvania State Conference. Stan Smith (134), Joe Jacquelin (167), Rick Zinck (142), and Jim Zoschy (190) are outstanding competitors.

Brockport State, which is a member of the fast rising SUNY mat conference, could back into the title with Dave Foxen (134), John Martellucci (142), Lee Finch (158) and Paul Burns (177) capable of creating a stir.

Other challenges should come from Mt. Union, John Carroll University, Binghamton State, St. Johns University, Coe Olivet College and Cornell. These are all well balanced squads and are capable of cracking the top five.

The task of analyzing Division III schools and individuals was extremely difficult due to the lack of information available. With the passing of this weekend's initial confab the task should be easier in the future.

Three of last year's conference champions lead a cast of several fine performers. Ed Alber, Montclair St.; Jerry Ancona, Cornell; and Jim Aquilo, Mt. Union all looked impressive in copping circuit crowns.

Ron Angello of Ashland is also an experienced grappler and the top seed should probably come from this group.

Dave Whare of Millersville placed 3rd in the tough Pennsylvania State Conference last annum. Eric Mast, Elizabethtown, has also enjoyed a fine season.

Loras's Mike Fiorello is also an experienced wrestler, placing 1st in the District NAIA tourney. Tim Essex of Coe College won the tough Coe Invitational. Mike Jia-nelli of John Carroll also looked good in the same event.

Other potential placewinners include Tim Drake, Ohio Northern; John Laboy, Brockport State; Larry Parker, RIT; Rich Hurt, Colorado Mines; Al Solomon, Geneseo State; Al Berti, Binghamton State; Jerry Pleskatch, Potsdam State; and Rick Mahonski, Wilkes.

Former All-American and Metropolitan Conference champion Nabil Guketlov, Montclair St., is 21-0 on the dual season. Nabil won the rugged East Stroudsburg Open and should be seeded number one.

Cornell's Bill Thomsen and Wartburg's Dedric Doolin are both tough. George Fidunk, Kutztown State, has looked impressive along with Abe Lang, Brockport State.

Jim Leyndyke of Lake Superior State was the mvp in the Golden Northern Tourney. Wilkes freshman Lon Balum was 14-3 against topflight competition.

Others who could crack the dias are Jim Craddox, Trenton State; Jay Carothers, Franklin & Marshall; Bill Albrecht, Oswego State; Neil Brown, Colorado Mines; Chuck Dimarco, Ashland; and Walt Wilce, Binghamton State.

RAE McDONALD
Mt. Union College

CRAIG SPENCER

Prima bracket may be the 134 where the top seeds will go to Craig Spencer, Montclair State; Tom Svendsen, St. John's (6th in the 1973 NCAA CD) or John Chakmakas, Wilkes.

Spencer was voted mvp in the NYAC Freestyle for his efforts in defeating Mark Massery, 1973 NCAA champ and Tetsu Ikeno. Chakmakas upset Spencer in dual competition last month.

Mt. Union's Rae McDonald is undefeated as is Monmouth three-time conference titlist Mike Castillo. Brockport State's Dave Foxen is a class wrestler.

Reggie Hicks, Trenton State, and Stan Smith, Millersville State, are also impressive. Potential place-winners include Bill Senior, Franklin & Marshall; Rick Wilce, Binghamton State; Ken Glueck, MacMurray; Scott Schell, Moravian; Gary Papa, York; and Octavius Jones, Oneonta State.

JOHN CHAKMAKAS

Art Trovei, Wilkes College, placed 5th in last year's NCAA CD tourney and most likely should draw a top seed.

Right behind him are John Martellucci, Brockport State; and Larry Hayspell, Metropolitan champion for Montclair State. Tom Baker of Colorado Mines placed 6th at 137 in the 1970 NCAA CD confab.

Franklin & Marshall's Bill Kametz was the National Junior College standard bearer in 1973 at 142. Others who should score a lot of points are Mike Miller, Mt. Union; Alex Bethea, Trenton State; Tony Peraza, Potsdam State; Ray Ruliffson, RIT; and Tim Law, Oswego State.

ART TROVEI
Wilkes College

Early favorites include Mike Lee, Wilkes or Dave Berry, Binghamton State. Lee, a two-time MAC crown-holder, finished 3rd in the 1972 NCAA CD tourney. Berry, who drew with Lee in a dual last season, has been consistent.

Rick Zinck, a 4th place winner in the Pennsylvania State Conference last winter, has the credentials to go all the way. Rollie Clenons of Ashland and Tom Maddock, Brockport State, has also placed high in several tournaments.

Stiff competition will come from Bill Shegog, Olivet; Dave Kalkman, St. John's; Kevin McCleary, Franklin & Marshall; Bill Rawding, Swarthmore; Rick Chamberlain, Elizabethtown; Bill Roman, Loras; and Jim Lindsey, York.

This weight class is wide open and top seeds will probably come from Jim Fallis, Lake Superior State; Fred Jensen, Wartburg; Larry Osterhaus, St. John's and Gene Ashley, Wilkes.

Fallis has copped several tourneys and placed 5th last year in the NAIA. Jensen won the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title in 1973. Ashley, who lost a close decision to NCAA placewinner Rod Kilgore in duals, placed runnerup in the prestigious Wilkes Open.

Other potential point gatherers are Al Hess, John Carroll; Ron Woods, Montclair State; Lee Finch, Brockport State; Clay Barnard, Ashland; Joe Waltemeyer, York; Mike Fenton, Millersville State; Dave Lange, Olivet; Cabot Christianson, Swarthmore; and Rick Tschantz, Mt. Union.

Elijah Whitten, Ashland, should be king of the roost on the basis of his 5th place showing at the 1973 NCAA CD tourney.

Brookport's Paul Bruns; Dan Pugh, Mt. Union; Steve Strellner, Montclair State are all experienced tournament wrestlers. Coe's John Walton is a real pinner. Mike Polakoff, Binghamton State; and Gene Dehler, St. John's are both strong contenders.

Dark horse of the category is Wilkes' Jeff McDonald.

Other potential placewinners include Eric Guyll, Millersville State; Steve Wiser, Lycoming; Doug Cope, Delaware Valley; Tony Companion, Oswego State; and Mike Borsa, York.

Three-time Midwest Conference champion Andy Fairle, Coe, sports an 82-8 lifetime mark and this should project him to the top of the mountain.

Stiff competition will be provided by Tom Stokes, Montclair State; Ed Hissa, Ashland; Greg Reilly, Binghamton State; Fran Campbell, Delaware Valley; and Jim Weisenfluh, Wilkes.

Wisensfluh, who charted nine dual clamps, and Stokes have gained respect as pinners.

Also tough are Ricardo Bailey, Elizabethtown; and Bill Hays, Trenton State. Joe Jacquelin of Millersville is an experienced and cagy wrestler.

Additional contenders will come from Chet Shoemaker, Mt. Union; Randy Bailey, Susquehanna; Mark Hunner, John Carroll; and Bruce Fowler, Wabash.

Most of the movement is expected at 190 as some of the best wrestlers during dual season could drop to 177 by the time of weigh-ins.

Top seeds will come from this pack — Joe Reid, Montclair State, who placed in the 1970 NCAA CD tourney; Coe's Dan Schmidt, who is undefeated; Rick Molbury, Potsdam State; and Willie Sapp, Nebraska Wesleyan.

Molbury has been torrid in the SUNY conference while Sapp turned a few heads in last year's NCAA tourney.

John Carroll's Tony Corbo will be real tough along with Lowell Kuechler, Wartburg.

Possible contenders in this group are Jim Zoschg, Millersville State; Dave Kelley, Colorado Mines; Wayne Goodrow, Lycoming; Skip Fair, Ashland; Steve Sanko, Lebanon Valley; Dana Kolter, Wabash; and Paul Neff, Marietta.

Best of the class includes Rudy Vido, SUNY titlist from Albany State; Sam Martin, Nebraska Wesleyan; and Brad Eustice, St. John's.

Middle Atlantic Conference champion Al Scharer of Wilkes has lost close to 70 pounds since last year and will be a worthy challenger.

Just One Big Happy Family

by Paul Domowitch

Whoever coined the phrase, "the family that plays together stays together," must have been an avid follower of the 1973-74 Wilkes College mat edition. In the world of athletics where the increasing emphasis seems to be centered on individualism and depersonalization, the Colonel grapplers seem to have found a happy escape.

Close friends on and off the mat, Wilkes mentor John Reese feels that this intimacy among his proteges has been a driving force in the Blue and Gold's struggle for national wrestling supremacy.

"This is probably the closest knit squad which I have ever coached at Wilkes," Reese pointed out. "These kids really stick together and help each other. Their mutual feelings towards one another has been a major reason for our success."

Two of the Colonels top middleweights — senior co-captain Mike Lee and junior Gene Ashley are both married and this has contributed much to the "family atmosphere."

Wendy (Lee) and April (Ashley) are always close to the team and mother the younger guys. This has had a tremendous effect on newcomers Rick Mahonski and Lon Balum and helped them make the big adjustment from scholastic to collegiate ranks.

The Wilkesmen have run into some tough wrestling competition this year, and the man who has kept the team loose and at ease under the myriads of pressure has been 142-pound All American, "Party Artie" Trovei.

His vibrant personality and well timed clowning has given his teammates a big lift — attitudewise. This has aided in the teams mental preparation for a match, which Coach Reese considers 50% of wrestling. On the mat, Artie is exciting to watch, but always succeeds in adding a few gray hairs to John Reese's receding hair line.

On more than one occasion during his career, co-captain Trovei's daredevil technique has backfired, causing him to lose a battle. During the past season Trovei has cut down on his miscues and has been a better wrestler for it.

Wilkes teams have always been known for their outstanding lightweight grapplers during the past decade, the Andy Matviak-John Marfia and Jay McGinley-Bob Roberts combinations only to name a few.

This year is no exception as super freshman Rick Mahonski and Lonny Balum have combined for a 27-8 log in their maiden effort.

Rick, a Williamsport (Pa.) native, encountered severe problems before the start of pre-season practice sessions when an older brother was fatally injured in an automobile accident.

As would be expected of this year's squad, the team was quick to rally to his side and saw him through the difficult months. Rick was a PIAA State champ as a junior but sustained a back injury as a senior and was forced to sit out competition.

Close observers feel that this inactivity was Mahonski's major problem early in the year. Coach Reese observed, "The layoff had a definite effect on Ricky, not physically, as much as mentally. He hadn't wrestled for a year and had to come and prove himself all over again."

In contrast to Mahonski, Balum is a very relaxed type of performer. Lon's biggest asset has been conditioning, which on more than one occasion has helped him to beat highly touted opponents.

"He never gets flustered," Reese acknowledged, "Lon is aware that he has eight minutes to wrestle and when the third period rolls around, not many wrestlers can keep pace with him."

Two big surprises for Coach Reese this year has been Juniors John Chakmakas (134) and Gene Ashley (158). Both are basically the same type of combatants, utilizing a great deal of aggressive-ness which could put them in line for a national title.

Chakmakas, like Trovei emits a charisma which makes people immediately take a shine to him. John, who probably worked harder than anyone else on the team, is constantly trying to improve his technique.

To many, sophomore Jim Weisenfluh (167) might appear cocky and brazen but to those who really know him, he is more like a caged animal waiting to spring on an unsuspecting foe.

The former New York State gymnastics placewinner backs down to no one and his results have been impressive (eight pins in 16 dual bouts). "Jimmy has gotten himself in trouble against tougher foes because of his aggressiveness and untimely roll throughs," Reese reflected, "He goes for the fall immediately and you just can't do that against a strong and seasoned opponent."

After the national tournament last year, heavyweight Al Scharer defied normal mat practice and cut his sophomore 285-pound bulk to a lean and trim 225-pounds.

Early in the year, the weight loss seemed to have an effect on his grappling as he appeared a lot weaker and was being handled by a number of smaller opponents. The subsequent rough schedule and superb conditioning has seemingly paid off and the 6-5 athlete could be one of the best in the nation at present.

Molding the unit together, which many critics consider the best squad in Wilkes history is the other co-captain, Mike Lee. The Falls Church, Va. resident placed third in the NCAA CD as a sophomore but has had rough going this winter.

"Mike's problem is that he has been putting so much pressure on himself because he is a co-captain," Reese confided. "Mike feels that he has to do well and this has caused him to get a little tense and nervous for some of the big matches. He won't get much of a chance to get tense in the tournaments, with the matches coming up so quickly."

No matter what happens this weekend, each Blue and Gold competitor realizes what is expected of himself. They are more than just teammates and friends — they are part of a family, who have one goal at the moment — to be number one.

If they fail, they will fail together, and if they succeed, they will succeed as a team. They realize that one person cannot put them on top of the pack, but rather it must be a combined effort of everyone on the team.

Colonel Mentor John G. Reese

John G. Reese is completing his 21st season at the helm of the Wilkes College Wrestling Colonels. Over the years his teams have compiled an outstanding collegiate dual record of 198-37-6 including undefeated seasons in 1958-59 (7-0); 1960-61 (11-0); and 1970-71 (13-0).

During this period the Reesemen have also won 13 Middle Atlantic Conference championships and a runner-up trophy in the 1966 NCAA "College Division" tourney.

The successful Wilkes mentor has produced four NCAA and one NAIA champions. In Middle Atlantic Conference tournaments, 44 Wilkesmen have emerged as titlists.

A Wyoming Valley native, Reese attended Kingston High School, where he began his grappling career. While there the Blue and Gold head mentor achieved honors on the district level and was also a PIAA State finalist.

After attending Millersville State College, he completed his undergraduate work at Penn State University where he earned a B.S. degree in Physical Education in 1951. Since coming to Wilkes in 1953, Coach Reese has succeeded in building the Colonels into national prominence.

In addition to his coaching duties, Reese is also Director of Athletics at the College. A past member of the NCAA Wrestling Rules Committee, he is also a former president of the NCAA College Division Wrestling Coaches (1968-69).

Other grappling affiliations include the United States Olympic Wrestling Committee and the governing board of the United States Wrestling Federation. Reese is also the inventor and developer of a new type of wrestling protective headgear, now being used extensively across the country.

John is married to the former Patricia Tosh of Wilkes-Barre and they are the parents of three children.

MAT HISTORY OF THE NCAA COLLEGE DIVISION

1973 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal Poly San Luis Obispo won its sixth straight College Division wrestling championship and its seventh in the last eight years in the meet held at South Dakota State University.

Cal Poly won going away, piling up 108 points to runner-up Clarion State's 80. The winning total was the third highest in the meet's history. North Dakota State was a distant third with 59½ points.

Larry Morgan of the national champions pinned his opponent in 0:34 of the final match in the 134-pound class and was named the meet's Outstanding Wrestler.

Wade Schalles and Bill Simpson of Clarion State reigned in the 158-pound and 167-pound classes respectively and went on to win those divisions in the University Division meet.

THE BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA

History is being made this weekend as the NCAA conducts its first Division III wrestling tournament ever.

With the idea of getting more small college teams involved in post-season mat competition, the NCAA in its winter meeting last January divided the sprawling college division into two distinct categories.

NCAA officials feel that this change will have a marked effect on attracting new schools to national tournaments which normally would not have participated because of school sizes.

Forming the backbone for future history of the spanking new CD Division III are small colleges such as Colorado Mines, Franklin & Marshall, Albany St. (N.Y.), Brockport St. (N.Y.) Ashland, Lycoming, Augustana, Cornell, New York Maritime, Oswego St., Saint Olaf, Wheaton, and Wilkes — which copped at least one individual NCAA champion in the 11-years that the College Division (1963-73) operated as one entity.

PIN 'EM

At last the world has a wrestling game — PIN 'EM. The game was created by inventor Charles I. Bryant, author of "School Spirit and Your Wrestling Team" and former high school wrestling coach, as an instructional aid. PIN 'EM comes as near to an actual wrestling match as one can humanly imagine.

PIN 'EM can give your cheerleaders, Pom Pom and Girls' Wrestling Auxiliary the actual participation experience to assist them in becoming better wrestling fans.

To keep youth pointed in the right direction...

The fine athletes you see today didn't enter sports yesterday.

They reached this level of competition through years of athletic growth and development in their home towns. It was through local school and community athletic programs, under the guidance of coaches who are also teachers, that these athletes attained the physical and character strengths of winners. These are strengths which last a lifetime.

Tomorrow's athletes need, and deserve, the same opportunity to grow and develop through hometown competitive athletic programs. But they might not have the chance.

A recent nationwide COMPASS survey points out the problem facing organized athletics: In more than one out of every five U.S. communities, school athletic programs have been, or will soon be, curtailed due to lack of community support—moral or financial.

If athletic competition is allowed to wither and die at the community level, our nation as a whole will be the real loser.

If you want to help support the values and goals symbolized by today's NCAA competition:

- Take this support home with you to your local interscholastic and community athletic programs.
- Attend local school athletic events. Many athletic programs are being curtailed due to lack of spectator participation.
- Encourage your friends and neighbors to stand with you in voicing their support for local athletic programs.
- Contact civic leaders, clubs, and groups in your community to gain their endorsement and support for these programs.
- Write positive letters to the editors of your local newspapers.
- Cooperate with local school athletic booster clubs.
- Work for passage of local school bond referenda earmarked for extracurricular and athletic activities.

For years, local athletic competition has given strength and support to the values of American life. Now it's time for concerned citizens to return the favor.

COMPASS—Competitive Athletics in Service to Society—is a community service program, co-sponsored by The Athletic Institute and The Sports Foundation, designed to help you keep youth pointed in the right direction. Write for information free-of-cost to
