

Kirby Hall, 202 South River Street, was added to the pretentious list of building by Allan P. Kirby, who gave it to the College in honor of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan Kirby, his parents. This was in 1941. The building was named the Kirby Home for Education and was used as a library up to the completion of the new Eugene Shedden Farley Library in the summer of 1968. Today Kirby Hall is the center of the Foreign Language Department.

To the rear of Kirby Hall stood the old coach house of the Kirby property. This was converted into a cafeteria. In 1955, an addition to the building made it possible to accommodate more than 500 students and was to become known as the Dining Commons.

Taken when Kirby Hall was still a home. 'Tis now a library.

ary

FRED M. AND JESSIE A. KIRBY
HOME OF EDUCATION

PRESENTED TO BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY
JUNIOR COLLEGE

BY ALLAN P. KIRBY

IN MEMORY OF HIS FATHER AND MOTHER

1941

KIRBY HALL
COLLEGE & RESEARCH LIBRARY OFFICE
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
45
46
47
48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79
80
81
82
83
84
85
86
87
88
89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100

FRED M. AND JESSIE A. KIRBY
HOME OF EDUCATION

PRESENTED TO
BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY
JUNIOR COLLEGE

BY ALLAN P. KIRBY

IN MEMORY OF HIS FATHER AND MOTHER

1941

Photograph by C. Salonick

ph 717-824-5145

©1992

8-19

F93 1/2 Duo.

