Dear Dr. Marts:

In order for you to avoid paying the six percent sales tax for your book, it would seem wise to obtain a resale number.

Your accountant would be more familiar with the process, and perhaps you had ought to speak with him. There would be a considerable saving for you, as well as giving you some tax advantages.

Best regards to Mrs. Marts.

Sincerely,

David L. Hurwitz

Dear Dr. Marts:

We are sending you samples of possible cover material for your biography. Please let us know if you are interested in any of the colors shown.

I have also enclosed a repro for possible mailing label as well as blueprint/samples of a few of the photographs from the book. Mr. Hurwitz thought that you might like to see something of our work in progress.

We are looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear David:

In reply to Miss Groesbeck's letter of January 12, it will not be necessary to put the name of the book on the label. Just give us 500 labels, with the return address as follows:

Mrs. Arnaud C. Marts, 41 Park Avenue,
New York, N. Y. 10016
and a place for the name and address of the addressee.

As to the possible cover material for the book, we like the blue, "Arresto A - 45730" and for the dust cover we would like the color red (?) "Arresto A - 66000."

We enjoyed seeing the blue print samples of the photographs. They have come out very nicely. Thank you very much.

We expect to be here if you wish to communicate with me at any time.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

A. C. Marts

(Some notes from Anne Marts)

We are typing individual labels which should be ready by the end of the week.

We are adding names to a list which you are considering to send book to ... this should not be a big list unless you have some ideas about making it so our concentration presently is on the labels, but will follow with list of names which has been started as they turned up.

What decision was made about Frank Robeson?

Do you think some friends may want Dr. Marts to autograph the book?

Were you able to get the plate from Tiffany?

Stationery:

I like the Arnaud C. Marts stationery you are printing. Using same design at top - with my name for informal use - and not monarch - size similar to white sample showing name of Anne Marts with address to the right; and white envelope, matching, with imprint of name and address. 250 will be a starter to see if it rightd

CONTRACT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Sec. 1. (a) The carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described shall be liable as at common law for any loss thereof or damage thereto,

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

(c) Any carrier or party liable on account of loss or damage to any of said property shall have the full benefit of any insurance that may have been effected upon or on account of said property, so far as this shall not avoid the policies or contracts of insurance: Provided, That the carrier reimburse the claimant the premium paid thereon.

Sec. 3. Except where such subject to necessary cooerage and baling negligence, all property shall be subject to necessary cooerage and baling owner's cost. Each carrier who whose route cotton or cotton liners is to be transported hereunder shall have the privilege, at its own cost and risk, of compressing the same for greater convenience in handling or forwarding, and of pressing the same for bulk for unavoidable delays in procuring such compression. Grain in bales consigned to a point where there is a railroad, public elevator or grain elevator, may (unless otherwise expressly noted herein, and when it is not promptly unloaded) be there delivered and placed with other grain in the same kind and grade without respect to ownership (and prompt notice there shall be given to the consignor), and if so delivered shall be subject to a

[illegible]

Forfender is released, and the carrier is required to receive it within 15 days after notice of arrival shall have been duly sent or given, the carrier may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, at such place as he may first mail, sent, or given to the carrier. Provided that the property has been refused or remains unclaimed, as the case may be, and that it will be subject to sale under the terms of the advertisement containing a description of the same, the name of the party to whom consigned, or, if shipped order notify, the name of the party to be notified, and that the date of general place of sale, once a week for two consecutive weeks at the place where such newspaper is published: And provided, that 30 days shall have elapsed before publication of notice of sale, after said notice that the property was refused or remains unclaimed.

(d) Where the perishable property which has been transported hereunder to this destination is refused by consignee or party entitled to receive it, or said consignee or party entitled to receive it shall fail to receive it promptly, the carrier may, in its discretion, to prevent deterioration of the property, sell the same for the best advantage at private sale or public sale: Provided, That it time serves for notification to be given to the consignee or owner of the refusal of the property or the failure to receive it and request for disposition of the property, such notification shall be given, in such manner as the exercise of due diligence requires, before the property is sold.

(d) Where the procedure provided for in the two paragraphs ~~1A~~ ¹ preceding is not possible, it is agreed that nothing contained in said paragraphs shall be construed to abridge the right of the carrier at its option to sell the property under such circumstances and in such manner as may be authorized by law.

(e) The proceeds of any sale made under this section shall be applied by the carrier to the payment of freight, demurrage, storage, and any other lawful charges, and the expense of notice, advertisement, sale, and other necessary expense and of caring for and maintaining the property; if proper care of the same requires special expense, and should there be a balance it shall be paid to the owner of the property sold hereunder.

(f) Property destined to or taken from a station, wharf, or landing at which there is no regularly appointed freight agent shall be entirely at risk of owner after unloaded from cars or vessels or until loaded into cars or vessels, and except in case of carrier's negligence, when received from or delivered to such stations, wharves, or landings shall be at owner's risk until the cars are attached to and after they are detached from locomotive or train or until loaded, unloaded, and after unloaded from vessels.

Sec. 3. No carrier hereunder will carry or be liable in any way for any documents, specie, or for any articles of extraordinary value not specifically rated in the published classifications or tariffs unless a special agreement to do so and at a special rate for such articles are entered hereon.

provided) shall not be liable for such charges. If the shipper or consignor has been instructed by the shipper or consignor, such consignee shall not be liable for transportation charges in respect of the transportation of or for property (beyond those billed against him at the time of delivery for which he is otherwise liable) which may be found to be due after the property is delivered to him. If the consignee (a) is an agent only

If a shipper or consignor of a shipment of property (other than a pre-shipment) is also the consignee named in the bill of lading and, prior to time of delivery notifies, in writing, a delivering carrier by railroad (a) to deliver such property at destination to another party, (b) that such party is beneficial owner of such property, and (c) that delivery is to be made to such party only upon payment of all transportation charges in respect of the transportation of such property, the carrier shall not be liable for such property.

retention of such property, and delivery is made by the carrier to such party without such payment, such shipper or consignor shall not be liable for charges but the party to whom delivery is so made shall in any event be liable for transportation charges but no other charges until the time of receipt after delivery of the property, except that if such party prior to such delivery has notified in writing the delivering carrier that such property is to be delivered to another person, such notification shall not be binding upon the carrier unless it contains the name and address of such beneficial owner, such party shall nevertheless be liable for any additional charges which may be incurred by the carrier in delivering to such person, and the carrier shall not be bound to deliver to such person unless he is the carrier erroneous information as to the beneficial owner, such party shall nevertheless be liable for such additional charges; provided, however, that if such party notifies the carrier in writing of the name and address of such beneficial owner, such shipper or consignor shall himself be liable for such transportation charges notwithstanding that such party may have notified the carrier of the name and address of such person to the contrary in the bill of lading or in the contract of transportation under which the shipment was made, the term "delivering carrier" shall mean the carrier who issues the bill of lading.

Nothing herein shall limit the right of the carrier to require at time of shipment the prepayment or guarantee of the charges. If upon inspection it is ascertained that the articles shipped are not those described in this bill of lading, the freight charges must be paid upon the articles actually shipped.

Where delivery is made by a common carrier by water the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply, except as may be inconsistent with Part III.

Sec. 8. If this bill of lading is issued on the order of the shipper, or his agent, in exchange or in substitution for another bill of lading, the shipper's signature to the prior bill of lading as to the statement of value or otherwise, or election of common law or bill of lading liability, or in connection with such prior bill of lading, shall be considered a part of this bill of lading as fully as if the signature or mark made in or in connection with this bill of lading.

Sec. 9. (a) If all or any part of said property is carried by water over any part of said route, and loss, damage or injury to said property occurs while the same is in the custody of a carrier by water the liability of such carrier shall be determined by the bill of lading of the carrier by water (this bill of lading being such bill of lading if the property is transported by such water carrier thereunder) and by and under the laws and regulations applicable to transportation by water. Such water carriage shall be performed subject to all the terms and provisions of, and all the exemptions from liability contained in the Act of the Congress of the United States, approved on February 13, 1893, and entitled "An act relating to the navigation of vessels, etc.," and of other statutes of the

(c) If the owner shall have exercised due diligence in making the vessel all respects seaworthy and properly manned, equipped, and supplied, no such carrier shall be liable for any loss or damage resulting from the perils of the lakes, sea, or other navigable waters, or from defects in hull, machinery, or appurtenances.

any other defects in the vessel, her machinery or appurtenances, or from any cause whatsoever existing at the time of shipment or at the beginning of the voyage, whether the latter or any of the said unseaworthiness was not discovered (provided that the due diligence), the shippers, consignees and/or owners of the cargo shall nevertheless pay salvage and any special charges incurred in respect of the cargo, and shall contribute with the shipowner in paying the average nature payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenditures of the vessel and the cargo, and shall pay the expenses incurred for the common benefit or to relieve the adventure from any common peril.

(c) If the property is being carried under a tariff which provides that the carrier or carriers party thereto shall be liable for loss from perils of the then as to such carrier or carriers the provisions of this section shall be modified in accordance with the tariff provisions, which shall be regarded as incorporated into the conditions of this bill of lading.

(f) The term "water carriage" in this section shall not be construed to include lightering in or across rivers, harbors, or lakes, when performed by rail carriers.

Sec. 10. Any alteration, addition, or erasure in this bill of lading shall be made without the special notation hereon of the agent of the carrier issuing this bill of lading, shall be without effect, and this bill of lading shall remain according to its original tenor.

Stationery

Dear David:

A few thoughts come to mind to be commented on when you next telephone.

1. Enclosures ... a) Tiffany die which you requested for ACM stationery;
b) Additional labels for books to sent; 23-24 lbs (2 to 3 lbs)
2. Mailers ... May we have 100?
3. Postage ... We learned to send book "Fourth Class-Return Postage Guaranteed" - all in U.S. - 18¢. Important that the imprint appears on wrapper or label.
mailings from "41"
We do not know mailing class you are using.
4. Pictures ... to be returned. Perhaps you might send these back to respective owners. However, it will be necessary to send the pictures here: some additional pictures to be included; and believe one or two or possibly more of M&L to be replaced in frames. We can group them properly and see just how much of a mailing or shipping problem is involved.
Pics mailed from here
5. AAFRC ...
Don't believe sent
We are interested in your contact with Mr. Schwartz. Has he decided to mail the books to members?
6. REVIEW ...
nothing done
Also interested in knowing what you and Frank Robeson plan to do, if that is the decision, for Review by Algonquin Press.
7. Dinner ...
You have a raincheck when you and Sally are ready. Perhaps we can have Frank and Donna join us.

Dear David,

This may cross the shipment of books you are sending to me. However, I really need some. I have ten, and two to be mailed, and two to take to church on Sunday. My supply is depleted as you can see.

I have no problem, so do send the balance so that I can do as I wish, and when, by having the books with me. By problem, I mean available space.

Hope all is well with you. Perhaps you are on a vacation. This seems to be the usual quiet time for you. That is another reason why I want you to send the books now, rather than later.

Affectionate greetings to you and Sally.
Sincerely,
