

C

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

74

FAX on Friday.
Double-space final

-26-

P-547

It is time

~~I expect this time~~ to explain ~~more closely~~ what my relation ~~has~~

~~been~~ to the events at the field. Even as I was not present at the Coronation

(a leading ~~actor~~ during ~~not~~ ~~on the field~~ for the ~~harrowing~~) so was I absent for the most part from the episodes I have just described.

For me,

~~So~~ (it had to suffice ~~Grosvenor~~)

~~For me~~, it was enough that I had foreseen the possibilities of the project and ~~that~~ the Maestro ~~had~~ ^{so} approved my intuition and ~~subsequently~~ ^{that he did} placed the greater part of his resources ^{out at the field Khadgusker,} ~~on Khedinka meadow (as Nicky)~~

~~at the field~~ ^{looking} rather than going in for an attempt to disrupt the Coronation itself.

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

75

Book 4 9/29/04

348

During the first weeks I was present St. Petersburg, ~~then in Moscow, I~~

~~I~~ had assumed I would be one of the Maestro's field officers ^{assigned to} ~~on a fraction of his stock of souls in Hambro~~ ~~commanding for reinforcement?~~

~~the task of~~ in order to ~~on the field~~ ~~less disruptive and dis-affected working~~ ~~disrupting the proceedings, but I was disabused of that~~ ~~before I came~~ ~~environment for himself?~~ I suspect this may have been the case. I would down to Moscow. The Maestro stated it directly, ~~which was~~ ~~it is~~ ~~also assume that our O.O., looking to make his way up onto a nearer plane~~ of equality to the D.K., was, of necessity, ready to accept God's exudate—~~new mode of communication~~. Simply put, I was not sufficiently familiar ~~all these spoiled human possibilities. Over the centuries, over—it well may~~ ^{Russia reads} ^{Muscovite} ~~with the country. Certainly not enough to give over a large share of his~~ ~~be the imminent, the Maestro had to~~ ~~give over a large share of his~~ resources to shaping and training the low-grade and highly disturbed ~~would use for the purpose behind the scenes or to infiltrate the field.~~ Better, ^{for you} ~~material we did receive. It is analogous in difficulty to developing a~~

suggested the Maestro for me to ~~be presenting a close character~~ ~~symphony orchestra from applicants who have yet to learn to play an~~ ~~instrument.~~ ~~I~~ will not pursue these difficulties further. Not at this point. I ~~of the event, and more important—my real mission.~~ ~~I~~ keep a close watch on ~~will only say that the agents I had left in Hafeld, the leas, so to speak, of my~~

~~the Romanovs and whatever family discords were bound to ensue thereafter.~~ ~~small squad, and then best to report on Alois' ongoing efforts at~~ ^{the that after}

~~at was all over.~~ ~~keeping, but they did not~~ ~~have a close enough~~ ~~of his~~ ~~I cannot pretend there was no disappointment in being relegated to~~ ~~difficulties, certainly not enough to satisfy my understanding.~~ ^{I was?}

~~a~~ tangential proceedings. Yet, ~~in~~ ~~as I studied the letters, and became to~~ ~~forewarned, forewarned.~~ I will now present my small improvement on the summary I received of what went ~~on~~ ~~with Alois, his~~ ~~and his wife, and~~ ~~that limited degree,~~ ~~familiar with Nicky, Alix, and~~ ~~their families, I had to~~ ~~his children from the end of 1895 until the following summer.~~ ^{be his wife?}

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

76

~~star relatives, I had to~~ recognize the wisdom of the Maestro's choice. He had, after all, to contend

~~But I also ~~have~~ know~~ with the morale of his Russian cohort. ~~He could hardly place a foreign~~

~~agent over them. Moreover, (and this may be where I felt the pang) I may~~

~~that he had concluded I was not,~~ which is to say,
~~not have been judged by him to be~~ strong enough for the job, ~~We devils~~
~~not pitiless enough. We may serve him, but we~~ ~~have our vanity, and mine was that I was capable of handling any sort of~~ assignment, high or low. Now, I had to recognize, ~~the Maestro was more~~

~~inclined to use his local devils, and, on balance, I had to admit that was fair~~

~~and~~ ~~enough~~ I should have known it from the start, ~~that~~ my assignment to study the ~~letters would become my~~ ~~role~~ All the same, ~~letters not only became my basic assignment in Russia, but indeed, it would~~

~~that might~~ ~~afford~~ be of real use now. As it turned out, I did have, in the aftermath of ~~Khodinka~~ ~~Khodinka~~, some interesting reports, ~~to offer the Maestro~~ ~~If the event had been~~ ~~Khodinka~~ ~~some interesting reports~~ ~~to offer the Maestro~~ ~~If Khodinka was~~

~~a direct disaster for those~~ ~~in that much~~
~~for the poor humans who perished on the field in a olla podrida of blood,~~

~~the~~ flesh, broken bones, torn finery, and suffocation, ~~the wreckage to the~~

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

77

~~Emperor~~ ^{Emperor} ~~flourish~~ ^{flourish} ~~their own~~ ^{their own} reputations of the Romanovs ~~would yet eat at the foundations of the Empire~~ variety of depredations.

~~Many of the peasants, conceivably, might yet have forgiven the Tsar, but~~

~~some of them~~
~~not Nicky's relatives. Many of their worst divisions took place in the next~~ ~~few days.~~

One immediate result was that the ~~I will tell it as I was to perceive it over the week that ensued. I can~~ ~~Cadogan, now had gaps in their~~ ~~circle~~
~~or protection awarded Nicky.~~ ~~soon that it was now possible to come closer to the situation. I was, for~~ ~~the Tsar~~ example, within viewing distance of Nicky when he and Alix ~~first~~ showed to sit in the viewing stands that had been up early in the afternoon at what the authorities had termed "the popular set up in advance at one end of the field (Given that) celebration." I was then privileged by means of the narrow and much-

~~bequeathed passage the Maestro still commanded into his mind, I report~~ ~~in from the Maestro that Nicky was~~ not only ~~that~~ Nicky was pale as he approached the pavilion, but that ~~the~~ ^{his} ~~throb~~ ~~unusually~~ ^{unusually} ~~pallor~~ ^{pallor} came from ~~his~~ ^{his} I could certainly feel its intensity. Some turn red with rage. He was pale with rage. His unspoken fury at the peasants was

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

78

~~these people~~ comparable to Alix's. How could ~~they~~ have been so pushy, so stupid, so ungrateful, so ridiculous, so self-destructive, [?] ~~and~~ yet—heavy as a load of chains lying upon his heart—his duty was to forgive them. ~~Man~~ ^{Could he call} ~~upon himself to feel such a sentiment when he~~ ~~was maddened in anger. There were so many~~ was enraged at the ineptitude of the police, and even more furious at ~~he was angry~~

~~could not be expected~~ himself. He ~~was certainly not obliged~~ (to watch over every detail, but ^{some} nonetheless! Why had he not paid ~~more~~ attention to the arrangements for security? ~~So~~ ^{even} much of this could have been prevented! Or was that true?

~~He did not know~~
Were the events inevitable? ~~He~~ could hardly know. Later that night,

~~tried to sleep~~
~~before he went to sleep~~, he put down a few sentences in his diary ^{where} and ~~I soon received~~ ~~received the contents on the following day by the usual route. The diary is~~ ~~worth quoting.~~

Up till now, thank God, everything went perfectly but today a great sin has taken place. The crowd spending the night on the Khodynka meadow, in anticipation of the distribution of food and mugs, broke through the barrier and there was a terrible crush, during which it is terrible to say about 1300 people were trampled.

The news left an ugly impression. We lunched at 12:30 and then Alix and I went to the Khodynka to be present at the unfortunate popular celebration. There was nothing in particular to see; we looked out from the pavilion over the huge crowd surrounding the platform, where the national orchestra kept on playing the national anthem and "Be Glorified!"

~~Needless to say, this entry, written at night, was very much in the full~~

~~echo of the aftermath~~ I kept studying the phrase, "a great sin has taken place." I could not determine what he meant. Nor, so far as I know, could

~~most of his~~ ~~any of my colleagues.~~ ~~Word of the disaster, as I have indicated, was to have~~ Yet, even on the

~~its endless repercussions, but most could be anticipated. Even on the~~ afternoon of May 18th, Sergei Witte, who was considered to be the most practical statesman Russia could present in those years, sent word to the Tsar: "In respect for the dead, all festivities should be cancelled immediately." Then he added, "Most particularly, the French Ambassador's Ball." That, scheduled to take place on ^{this ~~evening~~ the night of May 18th,} ~~this very same night~~, would be the ^{largest} ~~largest~~ ^{A note answered by a man who held no small opinion of himself or his powers, that was the} largest social event of the Coronation. The Governor General of Moscow,

~~the~~ Grand Duke Sergei Alexandrovich, who was married to Alix's sister Ella,

~~he~~ ^{position of} had taken over, among his many other duties, the ~~task~~ ^{position of} Director of the Peasants' Festival, ~~was the one who replied to Witte:~~ "The Tsar considers Khodynka a great disaster, ^{but} ~~but~~ ^{Sergei Alexandrovitch replied by} would inform you that in effect it was not so great a disaster that it should darken the Coronation holiday."

The older Grand Dukes, Alexandrovitch's brothers, were ^{immediately} in accord.

But their ^{if} ~~unanimous~~ ^(was unanimous, it) conclusion was hardly shared by Nicky's cousins, the younger generations of Grand Dukes. Nicky's ~~closest cousin~~ ^{his} dearest friend, ^{his first cousin, Sandra} Alexander Mikhailevich ^{who was} married to Nicky's sister Xenia, ^{considered} and called ~~Sandro by all, was, for example, full of his own fury. So were his brothers,~~

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

81

~~the other sons of Grand Duke Mikhail.~~ ^{the} The attitude of ^{his} ~~their~~ uncles, these older Romanovs, this senior level of Grand Dukes, ~~as nothing less than~~ ^{Sandro} monstrous ~~as far as~~

~~by far was one of four brothers, sons of Grand Duke Mikhail, and they, in turn, were as upset as Sandro~~ they were concerned. How could one attend a fancy ball on this night?

This night of all! ~~It would be~~ ^{What} an outrageous insult to the dead, ^{was a} ~~a slap in the~~ ^{It was a} face of Russia's ~~honor~~ ^{the Tsar's} honor. Sandro said as much to Nicky. In turn, Uncle

Alexey, who was now the oldest ^{remaining} brother ~~remaining~~ of Nicky's dead father, ^{his nephew} told Nicky to beware of Sandro and his brothers.

"Nicky," said Uncle Alexey, "surely you are aware that your cousins, these Mikhailovichs, and Sandro ^{most} particularly, are not ~~the~~ people you should listen to. ~~Beware of them.~~ They are young and inexperienced, they are radical, they are silly. ^{They are worse} ~~Worse~~ than silly! I tell you, they will not admit it, but they are siding with unholy forces. ~~They are on the side of every~~ ~~revolution~~ Now, they wish to depose Sergei Alexandrovitch and put in one

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

82 of their own as Governor-General of Moscow. ~~They are trying to get the~~

~~Moscow office for themselves.~~ Think what that will do to Sergei

Alexandrovitch and to Ella. Your wife will be distraught that her sister Ella has to suffer such an ~~unfair~~ disgrace.

That would be a ~~unfair~~ "disgrace."
So on point!

Past as As

Again the

As (these opinions came in, I heard them ~~all~~ The Cudgels were ~~for~~

~~one~~, not about. They were in ~~disarray~~ too much and rushing to many places — too such a host of just perished souls go in need of succor!
many dead souls to succor — ~~that for~~ the once that I found it ~~possible~~ not impossible to stay close to Nicky.

So, I heard

He spoke to ~~an~~ ^{the} Tsar

(Sandro's brother, Nicolai Alexandrovich, ~~spoke to Nicky~~ right after his speech commenced with some Uncle Alexey, and ~~I was impressed with the eloquence of his speech.~~ eloquence.

"Nicky, I beg of you, ~~don't~~ do not go to the French Ball tonight. Recognize what I ~~am~~ saying.

~~telling you.~~ Whether we like it or not, we are still living in the shadow of Versailles. Louis the XVI and Marie Antoinette could dance all night

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

83

because they were naïve. They could have no sense of the approaching storm. But we can. We know. Nicky, search into your heart. What happened, has happened. The blood of those men, ^{those} ^{those} women, and children will remain forever upon your reign. That is unfair, ^{because you} ~~but it is your shadow.~~ You are good, you are kind. I know, if you could, you would revive the dead.

But you cannot. So, Nicky, it is crucial that at the least, you ^{must} show your

Your respect. Your allegiance to them sympathy to their families. (How can you allow the enemies of this regime—who are everywhere—to say that our young emperor danced while his slaughtered subjects were taken to Potter's Field?"

(Nicky did not want to go to the Ball.)

He had succeeded in touching the center of Nicky's feelings. But this his most eloquent and (cousin was young ~~and~~) did not have enough experience to ^{this} ~~maintain~~ ~~his~~ advantage, and ^{surrender} so he soon ~~lost~~ (the eloquence of these words in his rage, ^{to} ~~to~~

^{and he wanted out, didn't} ~~attack the Governor-General of Moscow.~~ "Why, I would ask, didn't Sergei

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

84 anticipate how great was the need for police?" Any Cool could have told him, "He went on from there"

~~He wanted~~
~~had no direct influence on him, but I could, by a little, increase the heat of~~ hinting)

~~his mood. Soon enough, he was ranting about incompetence. Then, he~~

~~hinted that some~~ Shady ~~nasty tricks had been played with the money set aside for~~

~~the~~ Coronation events. He did not know exactly what he was talking about, but I could recognize the theme. He

~~he~~ had been listening to the same rumors I had heard even before the

In Moscow, they Processional on May 9th. The word had been out that the Governor-General

~~of Moscow~~ was siphoning off ~~some of the~~ Coronation funds to pay for his gambling debts. It was not ~~literally~~ true. Sergei Alexandrovitch was not ~~personal~~ guilty of that. It was his ~~assistant had been the guilty one.~~ (He was not only in debt to the Crown, certain So, it was the

 and to ~~other~~ gamblers, but to us—he was one of our agents. ~~The~~ assistant who had to protect himself ~~even~~ initiated the rumor that it was the Governor-General.)

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

85

That proved one of our ^{more} ~~most~~ effective gambits. For indeed, there was certainly not ~~enough~~ ^{enough} money on hand to hire ~~enough~~ ^{more} police for the night before the ~~19th~~ ^{Moscow} at Khodynskoe Field. And we had managed through our devices, and our loyal Colonels in the Russian Army, ^{a number of} ~~to keep most of the~~ ^{also} we had arranged to keep the body of available soldiers off ~~at~~ ^{protecting} the gates to Moscow.

Poor Nicky. If he had one weakness, it was that he could not hold two contrary ideas in his mind long enough to decide which argument might have the most to offer. ~~It was the nearest he ever came to feeling like a rich~~ ~~young boy who does not know how to restrain two embattled suitors from~~ ~~pummeling each other to squash~~ ^{in the midst of giving} Just as he was ready to give real attention to his cousin Nikolai's fine speech, so two of his uncles came upon the echo ~~of the last argument~~, and proceeded to explain in the sharpest terms that it would be an insult of incomparable consequence if the ~~ball~~ ^{III} were called off.

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

86

The French Embassy had gone to such ~~extensive and~~ generous lengths of preparation. ~~His~~ ^{Tip of the Tovar and Tovarina} absence could actually cause a rupture between the two nations. "Nicky, ~~nothing like this can~~ ^{your absence can not} even be considered, ~~not now~~. We depend ^{upon} ~~on~~ the French alliance. Nicky, you have to attend the ~~ball~~. It would be a sign of great weakness not to appear. The French pride themselves on the ~~and~~ ^{The Grand Froideur!} sanity they can bring to heated emotion. (They detest sentimentality. They will not see you as a man, but as weak, womanly, sentimental in the worst way. Foreign policy must not be determined by unfortunate accidents or personal grief."

Nicky attended the ball given by the French Ambassador. He had the first dance of the evening with Countess Montebello who was the wife of the French Ambassador, and Alix danced with the Count. In his diary,

Nicky left ^{this} ~~his~~ comment:

The Montebello Ball was very magnificently done, but the heat was unbearable. We left after supper at two o'clock.

φ

One of the reasons he left may have been the smile on the face of the Governor-General of Moscow. Grand Duke Sergei was enjoying the Ball.

He had a favorite saying: "It does not matter how awful ^{the} day has been.

One ~~has to~~ ^{must} possess the character, ^{and} the wit, ~~and the intelligence~~ ^{and the} to be able, to ~~enjoy an evening to the full~~ when the music is lively, and the drinks inspire special thoughts, to be able to enjoy an evening to the full. That is also our duty. "Is also our duty."

I know to a certainty that ~~this same smile was the reason for Sandro~~ ^{Sandro} and his brothers ~~to depart~~ ^{were not aware of} They knew Sergei's epigram. ^(they had heard it, know them once) On this night they ~~found it~~ ^{found it} as odious. They ~~wondered if he had lost his mind~~ ^{decided that} So, they departed, a y

~~The~~ ^{These} four brothers left at the exact moment that the dancing began, left, even

~~as Nicky and Alina were taking their first steps~~ ^{out} Uncle Alexey spoke loudly enough for them to hear, "There go the four imperial followers of Robespierre."

I was content. The Maestro would be pleased. He would ^{also} be amused, ~~I was certain~~ when he learned that I had been able to insinuate myself into the Royal Chamber ~~long enough~~ ^{long enough} that night to enter Nicky's mind again. ~~It~~ ^{That} was hardly to be believed. I was in the Bedroom, yes, the Cudgels were in more disarray than I could ever recall.

So, for a few minutes, (before they came back once again and I decamped) I was able not only to ^{live just a little in} ~~enter~~ Nicky's mind but to feel close enough to him to be able to ^{report} ~~say~~ that he felt doomed. Doomed and damned.
~~Together with his hopes.~~ ^{that} He knew ~~it~~ with some certainty of vision. His vision, not ours. It would take 21 years to confirm what he knew on that night. But that was the night when he knew. If I had it in me to feel

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

89 compassion (or for that matter could afford to), I might have been moved by how he suffered. He was ^{truly} appalled. ~~That night~~ he told Alix that it might ~~soon~~ be his duty to retire to a monastery where he could pray for the victims. It was no way to speak to a wife on a night so full of a sense of future disaster. It may even account for the letter Alix would yet write to her friend, the German Countess Rantzau.

I feel that all who surround my husband are insincere. And no one is doing his duty for Russia.
They are all serving him for their career and personal advantage and I worry myself and cry for days on end as I feel my husband is very young and inexperienced—of which they are taking advantage.

How much more she might have wept if she had known ^{how} ~~with what~~ ~~decision~~ Moscow was talking about her.

notes emailing copy chs 26-27 triple 1/12/05

102

~~route ahead~~
That is the ~~road~~ far down. For the present, we are back at the farm

~~little dist road~~ and I see the little dist road that leads to Der Alte's house.

-18-

Except for those occasions when we ^{appear in the} ~~are sent out in the guise of men~~ ^{genre of humans} ~~or women~~ (and so must accompany ourselves with ^{an} ~~a human~~ assortment of garments and paraphernalia) we ~~to~~ travel quickly. Since I was in Russia ^{needs avoided by assuming a physical entity} with no obligation to cater to the ~~demands of a physical form~~ (the ensuing shift from St. Petersburg to Moscow caused me no difficulty. It may be recalled that I had dared to advise the Maestro to bring the full weight of our effort onto the second and more minor festival scheduled to take place four days after the Coronation. On that occasion, the Tsar would honor the hundreds of thousands of Russian peasants who had made their way to Moscow for the occasion.

Dearest Nicky,

It was my good fortune to help you secure that charming and accomplished angel who is now your wife. May God's blessing be on you both, especially in the next month when you are going to be crowned under admiring assistance of the world.
Your affectionate cousin and friend,
Willy

a day, she accepts her mother's breast. Milk, after all, is still milk even when a hint sour.

KR, Diary, 10 April 1896, St. Petersburg

How sweet and friendly she is; it's only a pity that she finds it so difficult to overcome her shyness. At the moment she is feeding once a day, in the morning while she has coffee with the Emperor; I asked when exactly, before or after the coffee! She replied that the infant feeds while she is drinking her coffee, how delightful!

Actually, I could feel a shift within the court. ~~Elation and dread were~~ ~~stirring~~. The Coronation of Nicholas II was approaching. It is safe to add that there could have hardly been a devil or angel present who was not stirring with elation and dread experiencing many of those emotions. When are we devils able to feel as human, or crowds as demonic (~~and, on occasion,~~ ^{and} exalted) as before a great ceremony?

Only the faintest echo of this appears a few days earlier on April 7 when Kaiser Wilhelm II writes to Nicky from Coburg:

~~Dearest Nicky,~~

so profoundly different, and never by any other means to ^{know} enjoy cohabitation, (or even suggest it!) can, nonetheless, enjoy this open ^(yet surreptitious) connection of the flesh.

Less than half a year later, Alix has certainly resumed relations with Nicky.

29 March St. Petersburg [in Alix's hand] sweet precious Nicky mine, no words can express how deeply I love you--more and more, day by day, deeper--truer. Lovy sweet do you believe it, do you feel hearty throb so quickly, and only for you, my husband ^{3 close up}

^{3 open up}
 She has sent a new message to him: Nicky has been so good about the birth of a princess rather than a prince, that Alix to her sweet surprise has had a "hearty throb" on the moment he entered her, a novel event, or, at least, ~~using my particular powers of perception~~, so I assume. Let me admit that being obliged to see them only at a distance across a crowded space, or else limited to the ^{close} ~~closest~~ study of their letters, I do have to take a few chances to arrive at an interpretation. Certain conclusions have to alter, therefore, with time. Olga, for instance, has come to accept the given. Once

6 November 1895

Thank God, all is well, but the baby does not want to take her breast so we had to call the wet-nurse again.

I was not surprised. I cannot speak for the Maestro, but few ~~of our~~ at my level are ready to devils will make the claim that they can interpret the sentiments of an Not even embryo in the last months. There is, however, a bit ~~we seem able~~ to glean. ~~I~~ ~~expect it is true that these not yet birthed creatures can~~ do express themselves
It seems evident (in the last trimester) through their mothers' dreams. ~~I would offer that~~ that most babies come into the light of the birthing room with an affection or an antipathy toward the benevolent caretaker (or the surly warden) who so recently constituted the walls of their womb. That is exactly why women feel so desolate when their milk is refused by their own babe. There is guilt is aroused. They know how mixed were their Nonetheless, these two, the wet-nurse and the young Empress, are avoid such recognitions, doing their best to ~~make the most of such embarrassment~~. As is Nicky who is quick to declare that yes, it is very funny indeed. I expect Nicky is ready ~~just~~ ~~human enough~~ to tell himself that huge little Olga has the sturdy instinct to wish to smell and taste the paps of a strong Russian woman, even as the wet-nurse's suckling will be close to a slim and lovely queen at least once in his young life. And I, from my funds of cynicism think that the two women, feelings

Alix came through childbirth well and felt quite alert in the evening.

~~He~~ goes on. By the morning of the next day he is rhapsodizing.

Nicky Diary 4 November 1895 Tsarskoe Selo
I can hardly believe it's really our child! God, what is happening? There was a mountain of telegrams

His sister, Xenia adds:

5 November 1895 Tsarskoe Selo Alix looks very well and she is once more in good spirits. She is delighted that everything has turned out well. The little angel has a full head of black hair.

And by the following day,
Nicky is fascinated by a few unexpected ^{aspects of} ~~new~~ infant nutrition.

Nicky, Diary 5 November 1895 Tsarskoe Selo
The first attempt at breastfeeding took place and ended up with Alix successfully feeding the son of the wet-nurse while the latter gave milk to Olga.
Very funny!

There is no record of any reply by Nicky to these weighty warnings of ~~bloody wars and revolutions to come~~. It is possible that the new Tsar is paying no attention. Willy, after all, according to Alix, is ~~a gloomy German~~. ~~Such people are~~ ^{and} always full of foreboding. Moreover, Nicky is concerned about Alix. She is more than pregnant. Her belly is huge ~~for so slim a~~ ~~woman~~. It is no common anxiety to await the birth of an heir—the young bouncing male baby who will become the next Tsarevitch to Nicholas II.

It is the mark ^{however} of Romanov breeding, ~~however~~—indeed, it is ^{part of their} ~~usually~~ their honor, ^{that} no disappointment is mouthed when the infant is born. ~~What comes forth but~~ ^{has come forth,} strapping ten-pound female.

It does not matter to Nicky. His love is so direct that his relief is pure. No matter the sex of the infant--Alix is safe!

Nicky's Diary 3 November 1895 Tsarskoe Selo

A day I will remember forever. At exactly 9 o'clock P.M. a baby was delivered and we all breathed a sigh of relief. With a prayer we named the daughter from Almighty God "Olga!" When all the anxieties were over and the terrors had ceased, there was left simply a blessed feeling at what had come to pass. Thank God of Princes, Granddukes, statesmen, generals at reviews, burials, dinners, races—with the head of the Republic or in his entourage makes Republicans—as such—believe that they are quite honest, excellent people with whom Princes can concoct and feel at home. Now what is the consequence in our different countries? The Republicans are Revolutionists de nature and treated—rightly so—as people who must be shot or hung, [but] they tell to our other loyal subjects, "Oh, we are no dangered bad men, look at France! There you see the Royalties hobnobbing with the Revolutionaires!" Don't forget that Faure

~~four~~ } close up

not his personal fault—sits on the throne of the King and Queen of France by the grace of God whose heads Frenchman Republicans cut off. The blood of their Majesties is still on that country!

Look at it, has it since then ever been happy or quiet again? Has it not staggered from bloodshed to bloodshed? Nicky, take my word on it, the Curse of God has stricken that People forever! We Christian Kings and Emperors have one holy duty imposed on us by Heaven, that is to uphold the Principle "von Gottes Gnaden." [by the grace of God.]

~~holy~~ } close up

Your most devoted and affectionate friend and cousin, Willy

his German soul, was happy to pass on ~~the~~ baton to Hitler. What Chamberlain had envisioned in his master work--Foundations of the Nineteenth Century-- ~~— as he saw it —~~ might now actually come to pass through the exceptional if most uncharacteristic figure of this new leader, ~~who~~ ^{this young Hitler} was ready to pay a visit to a great mind, ~~like himself~~. Chamberlain's vanity may still have been intact, but he was virtually on his death-bed when they met. Nonetheless, his support offered political substance to Adolf. Chamberlain had been, after all, the intellectual who had been most favored, honored, and respected by Kaiser Wilhelm the Second whose own ideas (as will be suggested in the next two letters) were waiting for a philosopher to enrich them.

In September and October of 1895, on the 14th of the first month and the 13th of the next month, Alix's Uncle Willy wrote to the new Russian Tsar. His English was not perfect, but his ideas were obviously ~~not at all~~ important to him.

Kaiser Wilhelm II to Nicky, 14 September 1895, Jagdhaus
 Romingen
 Dearest Nicky,

God knows that I have done all in my power to preserve the European Peace, but if France goes on openly or secretly

(F) recognize that Kaiser Wilhelm II who was always impressing his ^{conquering} weight on Nicky's mind was looked upon later by Hitler as the ~~real~~

-17-

-17-

Q If the Romanians are now at the center of my interest ~~this is no more than~~ ~~the center of my interest~~ ~~this is no more than~~ a temporary) present temporarily at the center of my interest, who was ~~Hitler~~ or is the King Har. Adolf Hitler. I only understand of Adolf Hitler. ~~Adolf Hitler~~ core of my motive in writing this book. So, it may be wise to remind ~~No other than~~, ~~I am~~ it is interesting to ~~(?)~~ ~~concerning~~ Wilhelm II was ~~the~~ truly the Kaiser's father ~~was the~~ the motto of young Adolf Kaiser, whom Hitler was later to look upon as the fool who had helped to lose World War I for Germany. All the same, Willhelm II remains was indirectly connected to Hitler's life by way of an English philosopher named Houston Chamberlain who was a great Wagnerite and married, indeed, to Wagner's daughter, Winifred. In 1923, ~~most~~ most Houston Chamberlain the latter Hitler would ~~meet~~ also a him in Bayreuth, and Chamberlain, very much an elitist (devoted racist, and an intense believer in the putative superiority of the

-25-

By the time the Tsar and Tsarina arrived for the peasants' festival, most of the litter on Khodynskoe Field had been cleared. The bodies had been removed as well as the greater part of the clothing that had been torn from those bodies during the intensity of the struggle to stay alive by climbing above other limbs and torsos as one was being driven forward to the ground. So, a scatter of lost, ripped, and otherwise expropriated clothing lay along the sand and in the pits like a lower order of carnage, also there to be carried away. The bodies had been taken by the police, and now by a regiment of soldiers who had been quickly brought in, those dead transported completely off the field to sheltered areas behind the outlying kiosks and hutches. There, the corpses were laid out in orderly rows, there to sit until more wagons could be brought to stack them up and transport them to the cemetery. Some relatives did come by before this occurred and there were shouts and screams of recognition but Nicky and Alix were far enough away, some two hundred yards at the nearest (which had been cleared first), and close to half a mile from the farthest hutches,. So they were not obliged to suffer any such ungainly sights. Besides, a chorus, long prepared, had been installed in front of the Royal Pavilion, and this chorus, composed of more than a thousand singers, for the moment, prevailed. To the immediate left and right, the viewing stands were crowded with another assembly of distinguished foreigners and Muscovites in their best uniforms and the ladies in their best examples of afternoon finery. Colorful bunting was arrayed above the pavilion, flowers were everywhere, and these bursts of gaiety were reinforced by the social principle which demands that one must never speak aloud or give other heed to any unpleasant moment ~~that occurs~~ ~~happens~~ during a fine social occasion. I have been present at fetes, galas, and soirees in the most fashionable rooms when one of the guests, usually one of ours, unable to control himself or herself, breaks wind. Usually, the hideousness of the odor is in direct relation to the involuntary nature of the act, plus the ^{depth} intensity of our Satanic investment in the client's ^{passage ways} bowels. ^{Then the} favorable pestilence sits in the air for the next ^{for} ^{Sometimes, longer.} moments. ^{For the good record} Yet, no one remarks on the odor. ^{It is as if} it has not happened.

This ability to ignore the ~~evil and the~~ repellent has always been the ~~great~~ ingrained strength of the upper classes.

Now, hearing a thousand voices in chorus ^{before} in front of ten thousand ^{onlookers,} ~~people viewing,~~ no one is about to recognize that only a few hours ago, ^{immediate} (horrors occurred. Dead faces ^{still} lay on the field in all the ~~last~~ extremity of ^{given} their last intolerable physical agony ~~in the hour of one's death.~~ The Russians, ^{pan-European} with their desire to ape the etiquette of the best English occasions, now looked to ~~demonstrate that they possessed~~ ^{with those of the select} show their social kinship to the quiet delight of those who are to be seen on a notable day at the races. ^{The occasion} ~~It~~ looked perfect ^{until there was} It would have been but for one surprise. An unbelievably strong wind blew up without warning, and it scattered odorous clouds of dust all over the Khodynskoe parade ground. ^{This maelstrom} ~~maelstrom~~ that even reached the pavilions. There should have been no such ^{had been} wind. It ~~was~~ still and glorious day. But the wind had come. I hardly ^{I witnessed} knew if it was the fury of the Dummkopf or the rage of the dead.

^{tail}
 On the ~~back~~ of this wind, the Tsar and Tsarina arrived. Everything ^{there to be)} changed. It was as if the gale was dispelled by an uproar of cheers so loud ^{hardly} that one could ~~hardly~~ hear the band, ~~not even~~ that immense national band, as it struck up the national anthem. The pavilion guests bowed to left and to right, and waved their arms in ~~various species of greeting~~ salute.
 Khodynskoe Field was now only half visible in the dust. ~~And more cheers~~ ~~came~~ as the close ground began to fill up from all the late arrivals appearing ^{in the present safety)}
~~now half a day~~ after the riot in the dawn. Soon enough, Nicky and ^{soon after} Alexandra waved to the new people flocking in, and ~~then~~ left the pavilion to ^{in order to) the} step into their carriage and be driven a few hundred yards ~~away from the~~ ^{near entrance)}
~~field~~ to the ~~entrance~~ of Petrovsky Palace where the Tsar was to receive ~~emissaries and deputations and~~ selected groups of chosen citizens. In the glimpse I caught of him, he looked exceptionally pale and I wondered if he knew yet how much had happened. I suspect that his information was highly imperfect, but in any event, the order of the prearranged ceremonies was maintained. Not a quarter mile from Khodynskoe, Nicky and Alix now ^{(all,} ^{the} stood at the palace gates ~~there~~ to receive ^{There were fourteen in)} ~~fourteen~~ delegations. As I was later to learn, there were representatives from the Cathedral of Christ the Savior. A special gift was presented to Nicky and Alix—a large platter for ceremonial bread and salt. Nine months had been spent by eight men carving this platter out of crystal. Nicky screwed up his buttocks to force a little gratitude into his expression ~~on his face~~, an act invisible to all but connoisseurs like myself, and then proceeded to thank the eight workers for the generosity of their offer. Next came a Cavalry regiment, the Georgiyevskys. A delegation of peasant woman was followed by distinguished artists of the Moscow Imperial Theater. After which, a delegation ~~selected by~~ ^{from} the Moscow coachmen ~~to pay~~ ^{paid} their respects to the Tsar and Tsarina. There was even a showing of the Moscow All-Believers who offered a silver platter on which Nicky's initials, but not Alix's, had been laid out in diamonds. Not to mention an army of contractors who had decorated Moscow with lights and false fronts for the Processional on May 9th. Representatives of the caterers, ^{plus} the Society of the Hunt, the Moscow Racing Club, and even (for their centuries of service since the time of Peter the Great) a few of the leaders of the Moscow German colony ^(come up and filed in) (After ~~much~~ of this, Nicky and Alix were finally able to enter the palace and preside over a feast for the common people. That is to say—~~these~~ most honored representatives of the common people. Inserting his remarks between representatives of the common people. Inserting his remarks between choruses of cheers, Nicholas II spoke to these ~~most~~ distinguished plebian elders: "The Empress and I heartily thank you for your expression of love and dedication. We do not doubt these feelings are shared by your fellow villagers. Care for your welfare is as close to my heart as it is to that of our Father and Beloved Savior."

It is not easy to believe, but I happened to look at the time ~~in this~~ ~~moment. To look at the time~~ ^{That} is no more than a phrase, since I was not in any ^{hardly ~~any~~ needed a wrist or a watch for} visible form and so there was no wrist on which to mount a timepiece. But ^{clothed or invisible} then, no devil, ^{precise} ~~being within his invisible presence~~ is ever without a clear sense of the minute, even the ~~second~~. ^{precise} ~~It is~~ as if a chronometer is installed ~~in our spirit~~ ^{it is in our spirit} ~~if I may speak in such fashion of our invisible entities. And~~ ^{can state}
~~So I know~~ ^{unsworn} that at the exact moment when the Tsar was making this speech, an event ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~marking~~ also occurred at the morgue, yes, at this ~~precise~~ instant (for another devil reported the exact time later.) Two of the corpses ^{carried from} ^{to be laid out} who had been ~~laid out~~ ^{came up out of} ~~into~~ the transport wagons, prior to being ^{on} ^{came up out of} ~~brought here~~ ^{now reached up from} to the morgue tables, ~~now reached up from~~ their comatose state,

- [illegible]

comatose, but now alive.

- 가장 좋은 품질을 얻기 위해서는 이 설명서의 단계를 따르십시오.

要获得最佳质量, 请按照本页的说明进行操作。

最高品質でプリントする為には、 左記の順序に従って下さい。 was suffering her own private darkness of this same moment. For each of the guests who came forward, she had smiled and bobbed her head, still a pouter pigeon. But she was in her own terror. She had heard enough of ~~what had gone wrong to be filled now with a thought that her own death~~ ~~was all I would ever experience.~~ might be near and Nicky's as well. Maybe even sooner! In what danger her husband lived! How could such a hideous event have occurred? For this would Nicky have to pay? And for the first time, she allowed herself to feel ~~Great and~~ open wrath against the Russian people. Why, she asked herself.

~~did they have~~ to riot? She even said to her husband, "There is so little courtesy among our Moujiks." Nicky did not know whether to be offended or pleased that she spoke of our Moujiks.

These thoughts, of course, I received at second hand from another of our special devils who had some superficial entree to one of Alix's ladies-inwaiting.

Petrovsky
~~from the Palace~~

A half mile away, some soldiers were laying out the last of the victims, and on those far fringes, ~~thousands of peasants from far places and~~ of Khodgashoe Field ~~nearby villages as well as~~ and Muscovites kept searching for the lost people of their families. Meanwhile, in the courtyard ~~of Petrovsky Palace~~ the, Nicky went from table to table of the villagers as they ate their Poltava Borscht, ~~veal~~ their with fresh greens, cold whitefish, roast spring chicken, duckling, fresh and pickled cucumbers, dessert, fruit, wines.

Back on the field, there were new events for the late-comers. Gypsy dancers were performing. Bands. Jugglers. Ice cream was being sold. And behind the hutches, corpses were still being laid out in rows ~~and peasants~~ while the living kept looking for family members, staring into the battered faces of ~~dead men~~ the ~~perished~~ looked somewhat like who might, given their large disfigurement, ~~might still be~~ the relative they sought. ~~And some, moving away,~~ a few even laid a few copper coins on one or another ~~dead man's chest~~ strangers however. In some places, ~~spiles~~ however of bodies remained. A heap of fifty here, twenty there, arms and legs at odd angles, filthy clothing. Dust was everywhere. ~~The doctors present~~ They knelt in the dust to see if they could detect anyone who might still be breathing. Almost at the same moment, one of the dead was no longer to be seen as dead. He rose up. His wife, who had been weeping beside him, began to beat herself on the chest. "God is here!" she screamed, "God is here! God has saved you!" But another family fifty feet away who had been covertly relieved at the demise of ~~their~~ long-lived ~~old~~ old wretch family tyrant were now shrieking. For the family despot had opened his eyes. "The devil sent you back, you Monster!" his wife cried out.

Do Second to be seen double-speak funny pp 547-562

-26-

It is time to explain my relation to the events at the field. Even as I was not present at the Coronation so was I not a leading actor during the ~~occurrences~~ occurrences ~~following episodes~~ just described. I had only the satisfaction

~~For me it had to suffice~~ that I foresaw the possibilities of the project and the Maestro ~~so~~ approved my intuition ~~that he did place the greater part of his resources out at Khodynaskoe rather than looking to disrupt the~~ if I had assumed of ~~Disrupt that I~~ Disrupt that I ~~Coronation itself.~~

~~During the first weeks I was present in Petersburg, I had assumed I would be one of the Maestro's field officers assigned to the task of~~ steer ~~disrupting the proceedings on the field, but I was disabused of such a notion~~ yes ~~even~~ before I came down to Moscow. The Maestro stated it directly!

Simply put I was not sufficiently familiar with Russia ~~Self, certainly not~~ ~~Enough~~ to command the Muscovite devils we would use. Better, for you, suggested the Maestro, to keep a close watch on the Romanovs and the family discords that ^{are} ~~were~~ bound to ensue after it ^{is} ~~was~~ all over.

^{Can I say that?} ~~I cannot pretend~~ I felt no disappointment! ^{Or had no suspicion that?} I was being relegated to a tangential proceeding. [?] Yet, as I studied the letters, and became, to ^{my} ~~A~~ limited degree, familiar with Nicky, Alix, and a few of their relatives, I had to ^{value} recognize the ~~wisdom~~ of the Maestro's choice. He had, after all, to contend ~~with the morale of his Russian cohort.~~ But I also knew (and this is where I felt the pang) that he had concluded I was not strong enough for the job, which is to say, ⁷ ~~not~~ pitiless enough. We may serve him, but we have our ^{demanding tasks} vanity, ~~and mine~~ was that I was capable of any ~~sort of assignment~~ high or ^{low}. Now, I had to recognize, and should have known it from the start, that my assignment to study the letters would ^{remain} ~~become~~ my basic role in Russia.
^{my knowledge}
 All the same, ~~that~~ might be of real use now. ^{I certainly had, in} ~~As it turned out, I did have, in~~ ^{while} the aftermath of Khodynskoe, some interesting reports. ^{For those who perished in a} ~~If the event had~~ ~~been a direct disaster for those who perished in that~~ muck of blood, flesh, broken bones, torn finery, and suffocation, the reputations of the Romanovs ^{had} also suffered their ^a ~~own~~ variety of depredations.
^{discernible}
 One ~~immediate~~ result was that the ^{efficiency of the} ~~Cudgels~~ now had gaps in their ^{There now were gaps in the circle} ~~circle~~ of protection around Nicky. It was now possible to come closer to ^{they formed} able to approach the situation, I was, for example, within viewing distance of the Tsar when (on the day of May 19th) he and Alix showed up early in the afternoon to sit in the viewing stands that had been set up in advance at one end of the field. Given that narrow the Maestro had succeeded in keeping keeping passage kept open to his mind, I could inform the Maestro that Nicky was unsecurely not only very pale as he approached the pavilion, but that this pallor came from unruly passion. I could even certainly feel its intensity. Some turn red with rage. He was pale with ~~rage~~ ^{even} unspoken fury at the peasants. In this, his sentiments were comparable to Alix's. How could these people have been so pushy, so stupid, so ungrateful, so ridiculous, so self-destructive? Yet—heavy as a ~~load of~~ chains lying upon his heart—his duty was to forgive them. Could he call upon himself to feel such a sentiment when he was marooned in anger?

There were so many aspects to his fury. He was ^{equally} enraged at the ineptitude of the police. He was also furious at himself. He could not be expected to watch over every detail, but nonetheless! Why had he not paid some attention to the arrangements for security? Much of this could have been prevented! Or was that even true? Were the events inevitable? He did not know. He could hardly know. Later that night, before he tried to sleep, he put down a few sentences in his diary whose contents I soon received by the usual route.

Up till now, thank God, everything went perfectly but today a great sin has taken place. The crowd spending the night on the Khodynka meadow, in anticipation of the distribution of food and mugs, broke through the barrier and there was a terrible crush, during which it is terrible to say about 1300 people were trampled.

The news left an ugly impression. We lunched at 12:30 and then Alix and I went to the Khodynka to be present at the unfortunate popular celebration. There was nothing in particular to see; we looked out from the pavilion over the huge crowd surrounding the platform, where the national orchestra kept on playing the national anthem and "Be Glorified!"

I kept studying the phrase, "a great sin has taken place." I could not determine what he meant. Nor, ~~so far as I know, could any of his~~ how he would react to his immediate duties, colleagues. Yet, even on the afternoon of May 18th, Sergei Witte, who was considered to be the most practical statesman Russia could present in those years, sent word to the Tsar: "In respect for the dead, all festivities should be cancelled immediately." Then he added, "Most particularly, the French Ambassador's Ball." That, scheduled to take place on the very night of May 18th, would be the largest social event of the Coronation.

Witte was answered by a man who held no small opinion of himself or his power. That was the Governor General of Moscow, the Grand Duke Sergei Alexandrovich, who was married to Alix's sister Ella. He had taken over, among his many other duties, the position of the Director of the Peasants' Festival. "The Tsar considers Khodynka a great disaster," Sergei Alexandrovitch replied by messenger, "but would inform you that in effect it was not so great a disaster that it should darken the Coronation holiday."

The older Grand Dukes, ^{the Governor-General's} Alexandrovitch's brothers, were immediately ~~in accord. But if their conclusion was unanimous, it was hardly shared by~~ ^{Wichy must attend the Ball must attend the} ~~their conclusion was unanimous but was not shared~~ by Nicky's cousins, the younger generations of Grand Dukes. Nicky's dearest friend, his first cousin, Sandro, who was married to Nicky's sister Xenia, ~~declared that his~~ ^{declared that his} considered the attitude of their uncles, these older Romanovs, this senior level of Grand Dukes, ~~as nothing less than monstrous,~~ ^{was} ~~Sandro was one of~~ ~~four brothers, sons of grand Duke Mikhail, and they, in turn, were as upset~~ ^{they were as upset}

~~as Sandro. (How could one attend a fancy ball on this night?)~~ ^{were in passionate agreement Nicky the French tonight?}

~~all! What an outrageous insult to the dead! It was a slap in the face of~~ ^{where was Russia's}

~~Russia's honor.~~ ^{honor} Sandro said as much to Nicky. ^{Even as our young} In turn, the Tsar's Uncle

~~Alexey, who was now the oldest remaining brother of Nicky's dead father,~~ ^{Tsar's four days into his Coronation was feeding that}

~~his message was divine he~~ ^{he agreed with} told his nephew to beware of Sandro and his brothers.

^{agreed with} Sandro up came Uncle Alexey, now

"Nicky," said Uncle Alexey, "surely you are aware that your cousins, these Mikhailovichi, and Sandro most particularly, are not people you should listen to. They are young and inexperienced, ~~They are radical,~~ ^{They} are silly. They are worse than silly! I tell you, they will not admit it, but they are siding with unholy forces. Now, they wish to depose Sergei Alexandrovitch and put in one of their own as Governor-General of Moscow. Think what that will do to Sergei Alexandrovitch and to Ella. Your wife will be distraught that her sister Ella has to suffer such disgrace.

That would be so unfair."

^{quickly} As fast as these opinions ~~came in,~~ ^{were stated, so was I in the chamber to hear} I heard them. Again the Cudgels were not about. They were ~~in too much disarray and~~ rushing to too many places—such a host of just-perished souls ~~so~~ in need of succor! ~~For this~~ ^{at all} once, I found it not impossible to stay close to Nicky.

So, I heard Sandro's brother, Nicolai Alexandrovich. He spoke ~~to the~~ ^{had} ~~—~~ ^{had} right after Uncle Alexey, and his speech commenced with some eloquence. "Nicky, I beg of you, do not go to the French Ball tonight. Recognize what I am saying. Whether we like it or not, we are still living in the shadow of Versailles. Louis the XVI and Marie Antoinette could dance all night because they were naïve. They could have no sense of the approaching storm. But we can. We know. Nicky, search into your heart.

What happened, has happened. The blood of those men, those women, and those children will remain forever upon your reign. That is unfair, because you are good, you are kind. I know, if you could, you would revive the dead. But you cannot. So, Nicky, it is crucial that at the least, you must show your sympathy to their families. ~~Your respect.~~ ^{Your respect!} Your allegiance to them. How can you allow the enemies of this regime—who are everywhere—to say that our young emperor danced while his slaughtered subjects were taken to Potter's Field?"

He had succeeded in ^{reaching} ~~touching~~ the center of Nicky's feelings. Nicky did not want to go to the Ball. But ^{this} ~~his~~ most eloquent cousin was young, and ~~the convincing edge of his debate~~ did not have enough experience to maintain ~~this advantage.~~ ^{So, he soon} surrendered ^{his} ~~the eloquence of these words~~ to his rage. "Why, I would ask," he went on, "didn't Sergei anticipate how great was the need for police? Any fool could have told him." Soon enough, ~~he was hinting that some~~ ^{Somebody} nasty tricks had been played with the funds set aside for Coronation events.

He did not know exactly what he was talking about, but I ^{had heard} ~~could recognize~~ ^{as much myself} ~~as much myself~~ ^{Cousin Nikolai} ~~the theme~~ ^{come upon} ~~He had been listening to the same rumors I had heard even~~ before the Processional on May 9th. In Moscow, the word ^{was} ~~had been~~ out that the Governor-General was siphoning off Coronation funds to pay for his gambling debts. It was not true. Sergei Alexandrovitch was not guilty of that. It was his assistant. ^(This assistant) ~~He~~ was not only in debt to the Crown, and to certain gamblers, but to us—he was one of our agents. So, it was the assistant who had initiated the rumor that it was the Governor-General.)

^{preference of funds} That proved one of our more effective ^{actions} gambits. For indeed, there was ^{little} ~~certainly not~~ money on hand to hire enough police ~~for~~ the night before the morning of May 18th at Khodynskoe Field. Moreover, ^{through the connivance} with the aid of a

^{of a} (number of Colonels who ~~were~~ ^{the} also our clients; we had arranged to keep the body of available soldiers off protecting the gates to Moscow, ^{available for the occasion had been} assigned to the outskirts of the city in their

Poor Nicky. If he had one weakness, it was that he could not hold two contrary ideas in his mind long enough to decide which argument might have the most to offer. Just as he was in the midst of giving real attention to his cousin Nikolai's fine speech, so two of his uncles came upon the echo, and proceeded to explain in the sharpest terms that it would be an insult of incomparable consequence if the Ball were called off. The French Embassy

^{the most} had gone to such ^{open} generous lengths of preparation. The absence of the Tsar and Tsarina could ~~cause~~ ^{open} a rupture between the two nations. "Nicky, your absence cannot even be considered ~~not now~~. We depend upon the French alliance. Nicky, you have to attend the Ball. It would be a sign of great weakness not to appear. The French pride themselves on the sanity they ^{are} ~~are~~ ^{able to} bring to heated emotion. The froidure! They detest sentimentality. They protected

the gates if any we banished revolutionaries leaving to try to come back in cleaving cooperation week will not see you as a man, but as weak, womanly, sentimental in the worst way. Foreign policy must not be determined by unfortunate accidents or ~~personal grief.~~ passing compassion."

Nicky attended the ball given by the French Ambassador. He had the first dance of the evening with Countess Montebello who was the wife of the French Ambassador, and Alix danced with the Count. In his diary, Nicky left this comment:

The Montebello Ball was very magnificently done, but the heat was unbearable. We left after supper at two o'clock.

3 Close-up

One of the reasons he left may have been the smile on the face of the Governor-General of Moscow. Grand Duke Sergei was enjoying the Ball. He had a favorite saying: "It does not matter how awful the day has been. One must possess the character and the wit, to be able, when the music is lively and the drinks inspire you, ~~to be able~~ to enjoy an evening to the full.

That is also our duty."

had long been Sandro and his brothers were well aware of Sergei's epigram. ~~They~~ He was known to quote himself such a concept of duty to be ~~had heard it more than once.~~ On this night, they found it odious. So, they they left at departed, all four brothers left the exact moment that the dancing began.

Decided for most head land

Wachtel's father and the year.

Andersen, Peter and Andersen, Peter and decide what part of the land will be used for

Q. Did not want him

1. John
 2. John
 3. John
 4. John
 5. John
 6. John
 7. John
 8. John
 9. John
 10. John
 11. John
 12. John
 13. John
 14. John
 15. John
 16. John
 17. John
 18. John
 19. John
 20. John
 21. John
 22. John
 23. John
 24. John
 25. John
 26. John
 27. John
 28. John
 29. John
 30. John
 31. John
 32. John
 33. John
 34. John
 35. John
 36. John
 37. John
 38. John
 39. John
 40. John
 41. John
 42. John
 43. John
 44. John
 45. John
 46. John
 47. John
 48. John
 49. John
 50. John
 51. John
 52. John
 53. John
 54. John
 55. John
 56. John
 57. John
 58. John
 59. John
 60. John
 61. John
 62. John
 63. John
 64. John
 65. John
 66. John
 67. John
 68. John
 69. John
 70. John
 71. John
 72. John
 73. John
 74. John
 75. John
 76. John
 77. John
 78. John
 79. John
 80. John
 81. John
 82. John
 83. John
 84. John
 85. John
 86. John
 87. John
 88. John
 89. John
 90. John
 91. John
 92. John
 93. John
 94. John
 95. John
 96. John
 97. John
 98. John
 99. John
 100. John

[Faint handwritten notes at the bottom of the page]

[Faint, illegible handwriting]

[Faint handwritten notes]

[illegible]

Handwritten signature: J. J. [illegible]

1000

1000

2000

12

[Faint handwritten notes at the bottom of the page]

3

[Faint handwritten notes at the bottom of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.]

[Handwritten notes, mostly illegible]

10/10/10

11/11/11

2-7-20

20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30

1. 1. The first
 2. 2. The second
 3. 3. The third
 4. 4. The fourth
 5. 5. The fifth
 6. 6. The sixth
 7. 7. The seventh
 8. 8. The eighth
 9. 9. The ninth
 10. 10. The tenth
 11. 11. The eleventh
 12. 12. The twelfth
 13. 13. The thirteenth
 14. 14. The fourteenth
 15. 15. The fifteenth
 16. 16. The sixteenth
 17. 17. The seventeenth
 18. 18. The eighteenth
 19. 19. The nineteenth
 20. 20. The twentieth
 21. 21. The twenty-first
 22. 22. The twenty-second
 23. 23. The twenty-third
 24. 24. The twenty-fourth
 25. 25. The twenty-fifth
 26. 26. The twenty-sixth
 27. 27. The twenty-seventh
 28. 28. The twenty-eighth
 29. 29. The twenty-ninth
 30. 30. The thirtieth
 31. 31. The thirty-first
 32. 32. The thirty-second
 33. 33. The thirty-third
 34. 34. The thirty-fourth
 35. 35. The thirty-fifth
 36. 36. The thirty-sixth
 37. 37. The thirty-seventh
 38. 38. The thirty-eighth
 39. 39. The thirty-ninth
 40. 40. The fortieth 41. 41. The forty-first
 42. 42. The forty-second
 43. 43. The forty-third
 44. 44. The forty-fourth
 45. 45. The forty-fifth
 46. 46. The forty-sixth
 47. 47. The forty-seventh
 48. 48. The forty-eighth
 49. 49. The forty-ninth
 50. 50. The fiftieth
 51. 51. The fifty-first
 52. 52. The fifty-second
 53. 53. The fifty-third
 54. 54. The fifty-fourth
 55. 55. The fifty-fifth
 56. 56. The fifty-sixth
 57. 57. The fifty-seventh
 58. 58. The fifty-eighth
 59. 59. The fifty-ninth
 60. 60. The sixtieth
 61. 61. The sixty-first
 62. 62. The sixty-second
 63. 63. The sixty-third
 64. 64. The sixty-fourth
 65. 65. The sixty-fifth
 66. 66. The sixty-sixth
 67. 67. The sixty-seventh
 68. 68. The sixty-eighth
 69. 69. The sixty-ninth
 70. 70. The seventieth
 71. 71. The seventy-first
 72. 72. The seventy-second
 73. 73. The seventy-third
 74. 74. The seventy-fourth
 75. 75. The seventy-fifth
 76. 76. The seventy-sixth
 77. 77. The seventy-seventh
 78. 78. The seventy-eighth
 79. 79. The seventy-ninth
 80. 80. The eightieth
 81. 81. The eighty-first
 82. 82. The eighty-second
 83. 83. The eighty-third
 84. 84. The eighty-fourth
 85. 85. The eighty-fifth
 86. 86. The eighty-sixth
 87. 87. The eighty-seventh
 88. 88. The eighty-eighth
 89. 89. The eighty-ninth
 90. 90. The ninetieth
 91. 91. The ninety-first
 92. 92. The ninety-second
 93. 93. The ninety-third
 94. 94. The ninety-fourth
 95. 95. The ninety-fifth
 96. 96. The ninety-sixth
 97. 97. The ninety-seventh
 98. 98. The ninety-eighth
 99. 99. The ninety-ninth
 100. 100. The hundredth

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54
 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62
 63
 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78
 79 80
 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92
 93 94
 95 96
 97
 98
 99 100 101 102 103 104
 105 106 107
 108 109 110 111 112 113
 114 115 116
 117 118 119
 120 121 122 123 124 125 126
 127 128 129 130 131 132 133 134 135 136
 137 138
 139 140 141 142 143 144 145 146 147 148 149 150 151 152 153 154 155 156 157 158 159 160 161 162 163 164
 165 166
 167 168 169 170 171 172 173
 174 175
 176 177 178 179 180 181 182 183 184 185
 186 187 188 189 190 191 192 193 194 195 196 197
 198 199 200 201 202 203 204 205
 206 207 208 209 210 211
 212 213 214
 215 216 217 218 219 220
 221
 222 223 224
 225 226 227
 228 229
 230 231 232 233 234 235 236 237 238 239 240 241 242 243 244
 245 246 247 248 249 250 251 252 253 254 255 256 257 258 259 260 261 262
 263 264 265 266 267 268 269
 270
 271 272
 273 274 275 276 277 278 279 280 281 282 283 284 285 286
 287 288 289
 290 291 292
 293 294 295 296 297 298 299 300 301 302 303 304 305
 306 307 308 309
 310 311 312 313 314 315 316 317
 318 319
 320 321 322 323
 324 325
 326 327 328 329 330 331
 332 333 334 335 336 337 338 339 340 341 342 343 344 345 346 347 348 349 350 351 352
 353 354 355 356 357 358
 359 360 361 362 363 364 365
 366
 367 368 369 370 371 372 373 374
 375 376 377 378
 379 380 381 382 383
 384 385 386 387
 388 389 390 391 392 393
 394
 395
 396 397 398 399 400 401
 402 403 404 405
 406 407 408 409 410 411 412 413
 414
 415 416 417
 418
 419 420
 421 422 423 424 425 426 427 428 429 430 431 432 433 434 435 436 437
 438 439
 440 441 442 443
 444 445 446 447 448 449 450 451 452
 453 454 455 456 457 458 459 460 461 462 463 464 465
 466 467 468 469 470 471 472 473 474 475 476 477 478 479
 480 481 482 483 484 485 486
 487 488 489 490 491 492 493 494 495 496 497 498 499 500 501 502 503 504
 505 506 507
 508 509
 510
 511 512 513 514 515 516 517 518
 519 520 521 522 523 524 525
 526 527 528
 529 530 531 532
 533 534 535 536
 537 538 539 540 541

12

2

100

12

Uncle Alexey spoke out loudly, ~~enough for them to hear~~, "There go the four imperial followers of Robespierre."

I was content. The Maestro would be pleased. He would also be amused, I was certain, when he learned that I had been able to ^{that night} insinuate myself into the Royal Chamber ~~that night long enough to enter Nicky's mind~~ again. That was hardly to be believed. I was in the Bedroom, yes, the Cudgels were in more disarray than I could ever recall.

So, for a few minutes, (before they ^{returned, and I had to} ~~came back once again and I~~ decamped) I was able not only to ^{peer} ~~live~~ just a little in Nicky's mind but to feel ^{for one good instant} close enough to him to be able to report that he felt doomed. Doomed and damned. He knew this with some certainty of vision. His vision, not ours. It would take 21 years to confirm what he knew on that night. But that was the night when he knew. If I had it in me to feel ^{sympathy} ~~compassion~~ (or for that matter could afford to), I might have been moved by how he suffered. He was truly appalled. He told Alix that it might be his duty to retire to a monastery where he could pray for the victims. It was no way to speak to a wife on a night so full of a sense of future disaster. It may even account for the letter Alix would yet write to her friend, the German Countess Rantzaу.

I feel that all who surround my husband are insincere. And no one is doing his duty for Russia.

They are all serving him for their career and personal advantage and I worry myself and cry for days on end as I feel my husband is very young and inexperienced—of which they are taking advantage.

How much more she might have wept if she had known ^{what ladies in} ~~how~~ Moscow ^{were serving} ~~was talking about~~ her.

Before the Coronation, she had made a ^{critical} cardinal mistake. She had ^{confided too much to} ~~told~~ her closest lady-in-waiting ^{she had confessed} ~~how much~~ she adored Nicky. "Not only for his heart, but for the other matters. I love him so much ^{that I must} ~~that I~~ call him ^{All kinds,} ~~all kinds of~~ secret names. I ^{do that all the time.} ~~do that all the time.~~"

"What are these secret names?" asked the Lady-in-Waiting.

"Oh, I cannot tell you. They are ~~so~~ ^{many} secret. I call him these sweet words, usually in English. That is such a warm language for me. ^{so hospitable.} ~~so~~"

It came out. Bit by bit. At last, it was in the air—^{her} ~~the~~ big secret. The secret that the Lady-in-Waiting swore she would never ^{pass on} ~~tell~~ to a soul. And the Lady-in-Waiting did not, not for a day or two. ^{and then} ~~And then~~ she only told it to one trusted friend, ^{and this lady swore in turn that} ~~who swore~~ she could be trusted absolutely not to tell it to anyone else.

^{In the event} Since this lady was second in line, she did not feel free to give the secret away immediately. ^{It took two weeks before} ~~secret away immediately.~~ secret away to more than two close and trusted friends ^{she told} ~~who~~ also took a vow ^{They} ~~that~~ of silence. They did not wait as long, however, to break their word. Within the week, Moscow's best society was snickering ^{over} at Alix's love of English. Everyone who had a reputation for knowing what others did not know now knew Alix and Nicky's intimate words for each other. "Lovy, Boysy, Sweet one, my soul, my very soul" (which Alix converted to Russian—dushki—also "mannikins mine, sweety, pussy-mine, Sunny."

They all laughed at Alix until one of the ladies ^(sooner or later) would remind the others, "She comes to us from behind a coffin. She carries misfortune."

For that matter, the Governor-General of Moscow was ^{now} ~~soon~~ called "The Prince of Khodynka."

-27-

In the week that followed the disaster, there were eight days of fetes, dances, receptions, state visits, and musicales. On May 19th, there was a banquet in Alexander Hall in the Kremlin and on the 20th, Sergei gave his own ball. The 21st brought the Moscow nobility together at the Hall of Columns, Prince Trubetskoi as host. Four thousand guests appeared. On the 22nd, Nicky and Alix made a state visit to the Troisky-Sergeyevsky monastery, and on the morning of the 23rd, Nicky gave 20,000 rubles as a first installment on a children's home for the orphans of Khodynka. That evening, there was dinner with the English Ambassador at a palace ball in the St. Andrew Hall of the Kremlin. Thirty-one hundred guests. The Germans, laying low, gave no more than a Musicale at their embassy ^{next} on the ~~evening~~ 24th which was followed by a Palace dinner for all the ambassadors on the 25th. ~~And, for~~ ^{was messy} conclusion, they were back at Khodynka Field on the 26th ~~for~~ ^{to} ~~a~~ military review. ~~Needless to say, a good~~ many of the ravines and pits had been filled by then. It was another brilliant day and Nicky's carriage was drawn by six white horses. Thirty-eight thousand, five hundred sixty-five enlisted men marched in company with 2,000 officers. Sixty-seven generals watched.

By now, I was awaiting orders to leave. I did not know if I could acclimate myself to Hafeld after these exceptional weeks in Russia, but the Maestro was quick to tell me: "Respect Hafeld. It is more important than you think."

There was no reason to believe or disbelieve him—his real opinion was, after all, concealed in the mirrors of his impenetrable bearing.

I can say that on my arrival back to Austria, I did feel better than I had in years. Khodynka had come off as the finest major operation I had participated in for a long time. Indeed, I could not recall when we had spent our time more efficiently.

It is sad to say, but few devils are permitted to retain much memory—I think the Maestro employs the same principle as intelligence agencies. No one in intelligence is told anything about a project unless there is a need to know. We, in turn, are not encouraged to remember what we do not need for a new project.

All the same, Khodynka remained in my memory and my morale was close to excellent. In dealing with this Hitler family a second time, it was easier to accept the interest of the Maestro. Obviously, he had an aim larger than I could comprehend.

Given such respect, filled with a lightness of spirit altogether different from the heaviness that is requisite to being loyal ^{when} ~~because~~ there is no other choice, I felt elevated upon my return to Hafeld, and soon enough did cease to think often about Nicky ^{and} Alix, or any of the others. There was, after all, no need ~~for memory~~. If I was ever to be called back to Russia, and I expected that I might be, the necessary recollections would be reconstituted by the Maestro.

Let me admit that ~~that~~ ^{that} was how it seemed at the time. I find it interesting now, as I choose to write this book, how much I do recall, but then I was indeed sent back to Russia in 1908, and remained there until the murder of Rasputin nine years later—that incomparable Rasputin who ^(of those I can remember) became my most exceptional client. ^{(He was not only able to work in the} ^{insisted upon remaining)} closest union with me, but was also in the service of one of the D.K.'s best things too once excluded.

Cudgels. ^{Indeed, this maverick human world} ^{presented in the face of the separate and} ^{inclinations of the D.K. and the} ^{"the worst I've met since Nietzsche," the}

I will look to tell that story in all good time, but not until I record what happened to Alois, Klara, and Adolf through the twelve years until 1908 when Adolf at the age of nineteen went off to Vienna and I, after a little while, was sent back to Russia to commence my exceptional task with Rasputin.

That is the route ahead. For the present, we are back at the farm ~~and I~~
From here, I can see the road that leads to Der Alte's house.