

April - beginning of 1964

Cult)

Harlot warns Harry Oswald himself in Miami (Lino down) communicating with Castro. At the least the idea is very much there on the agenda to be explored, and ~~particularly~~ ^{initiated by}

McGeorge Bundy. "I," says Harlot,

"expect a gradual development of some form of accommodation. The worst of it is that there have been feelers in the UN and we, naturally, have our leads into the UN. There isn't too much that goes on there that either we or the FBI

~~hasn't tapped into.~~ ^{haven't won't be surprised of} The significant ~~of that~~ ~~area now is what we know because it's~~ ^{both of it}

being disseminated through certain areas of the agency, and I expect ~~that~~ it will hit Miami before long if it hasn't already, in fact, I expect this is what ^{this last} ~~the~~ ^{bank of} great hatred of Kennedy.

All those Cubans truly expect to be doublecrossed by him. If your father doesn't find a way to get rid of Castro,

Fidel is likely to become our best friend very soon, and at that point, good handsome white Americans on the streets of Miami in certain Cuban sections which I would alert you to stay out of, are going to be very much persona non grata."

This puts Harry into ^athe peculiar position. He is further along in a special relation to JFK and this has intensified as he has felt closer and closer to Cal over these last months. Harry feels as if he's winning his father's love at last, here in this delayed part of his young manhood, long after childhood which is just what JFK did. Neither of them had been the best beloved child in the early years of their lives. So he feels he understands him, he even comprehends the way in which JFK is inclined to do two things at once--Harry knows things like that also. It makes sense to Harry. It means if one side of the American effort against Castro gets stronger and

Harry really is of the father's death how much he identifies with him

June 163

Scout
the End

Moral Consequences of Alphas
Omega Maylay
it was human to move in two directions at once, stronger, so would the other side get stronger as well, and attempts will be made to find a rapprochement. Harlot's advice he finds excessively paranoid

Meanwhile, news comes in to Cal that AMLASH has been contacted in Brazil by Brazil Station, a CIA man in Sao Paulo, Brazil, who claim that Cubela, AMLASH was getting psyched up to attempt an inside job against Castro's life. That night, however, Castro attended a party at the Brazilian Embassy in Havana and told Daniel Hart of the Associated Press, "Kennedy is the Batista of our time, and the most opportunistic President of all time," and warned against "terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders." Then he said, "We are prepared to answer in kind. If United States leaders think that they should assist in terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders they themselves need not be safe.

Note simultaneity in Cubela

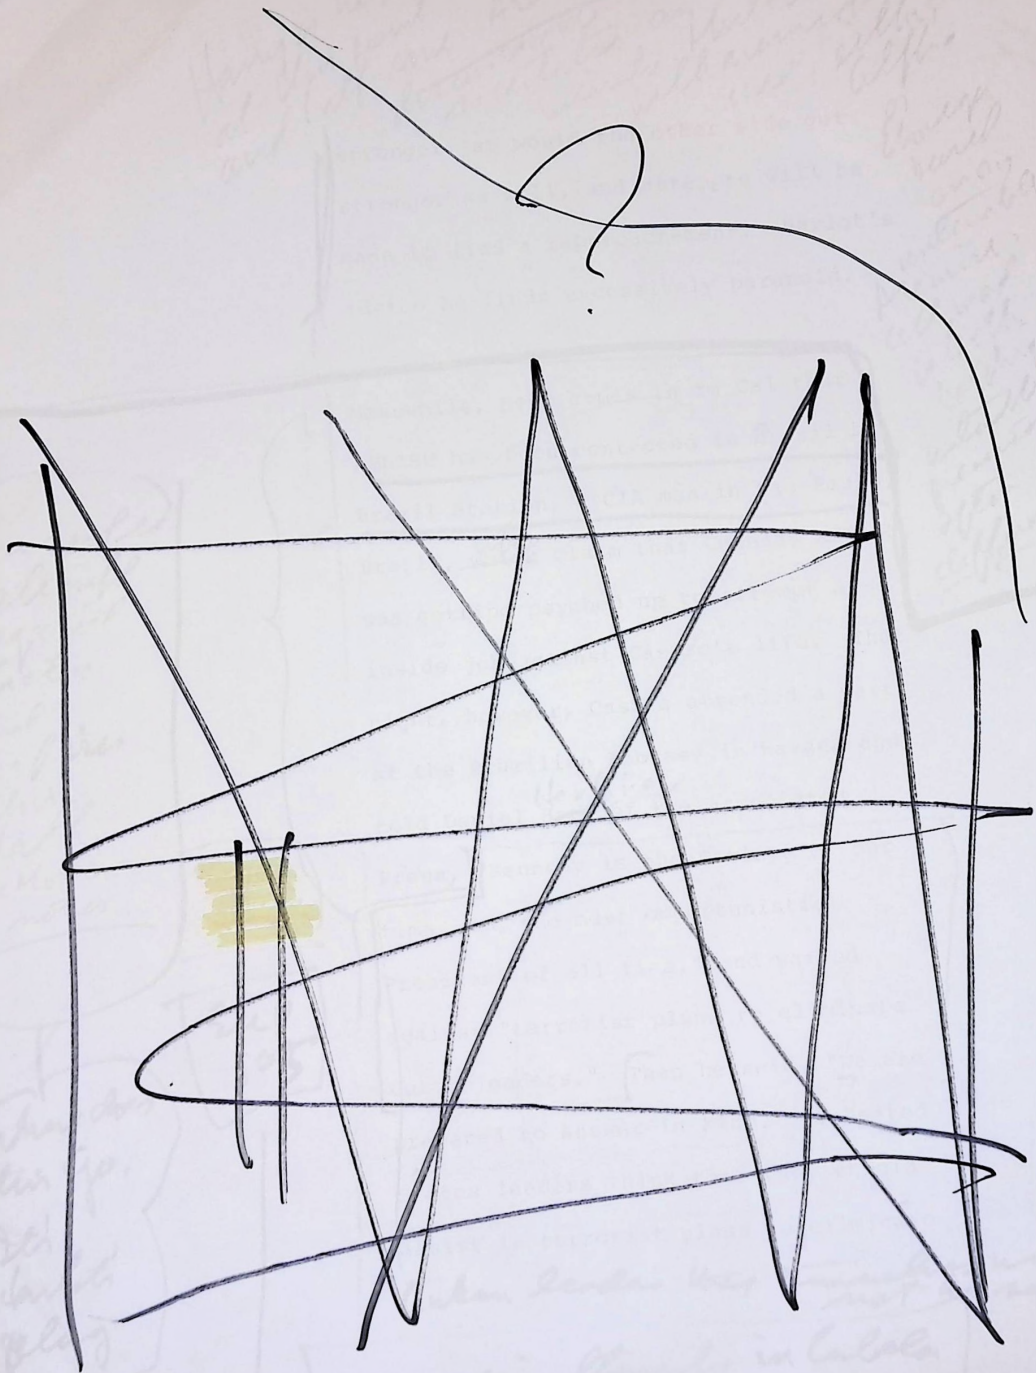

The goaded attempt against Castro that inspires this talk, See Monroe notes.

Sept 7, '63

Sept 505

Where does this go. It's Harlot's plug

Harlot's advice he finds excessively paranoid

~~Cuban leaders, they themselves will not be safe."~~

Now Cubela is requesting murder weapons and a meeting with Robert Kennedy.

Would it be safe, assuming Robert Kennedy would ever agree to be brought into contact in the same room? With a man as unstable as Cubela?

Continuation of this, about Oswald chapter, is on p 516

Oct

*At this point, Cal
at this
assigns Harry to sit on the Atwood
operation + report to Wallace & Kinn.*

At this point, some of the background on Cubela should be given.

Or, it could be saved for the meeting

The next chapter could begin with what Harry knows about Cubela up to this point and the Crile article could be of great use here.

The Hartman description of Cubela could link up here.

AM-LASCO's credentials are described. Harry makes the connection.

+ looky

~~Chapter XII~~ ~~2 or 3~~

10/13/89

In the next grouping which involves William Atwood at the UN working for accommodations with Castro on the one hand and AMLASH, Cal and the others looking to assassinate Castro on the other, we might have Hubbard, seeing the whole afterward, or perhaps even at the time, as a political example of a nation's Alpha and Omega, for Castro and America are each approaching each other with two totally different points of view. Castro furious at the Soviet Union and feeling trapped by his own Communists is looking for accommodation with America, on the one hand, but on the other, he's exploring revolution in Latin America ^{and} in Venezuela where he's planning a big push.

But how do we get this?
Letter from Kathleen

Beginning of Play - Jim Harry thinking about

W. Atwood's remarks

Play Jim

5/11/89

May June

5
E
T

~~Kennedy is looking for~~ ~~yet~~ accommodation on the one side ~~and on the~~ other, fearful of it because of the political disadvantages ~~of it and his~~ fear that any agreement with Castro before the 1964 elections ~~will~~ ^{could} be a disaster.

As an example, Castro at the Brazilian Embassy in Havana on September 7, 1963, the same day that the CIA case officer meets Cubela in Brazil, issues this warning: "You leaders who are aiding terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders, they themselves will not be safe." This kicks off a few worries in

Cal about AMLASH which he confides to Harry. Has Castro doubled him, or is AMLASH proceeding unwittingly? These are serious concerns which are finally settled in the direction of trusting AMLASH or at least going ahead with him because of his proximity to Castro, and the decision is made at the Helms level

p502

...ation on the one side and the
... it because of the
... it a side
... with Castro
... be

... example, Castro at the
... in Havana on
... the CIA's officer
... issues which
... are
... to eliminate
... they themselves will not
... This kicks off a few worries in ... Cuban Delegation
... about AMELASH which he confides to
... and ... the
... Harry. Has Castro doubted him, or is
... this information. ...
... AMELASH proceeding ...? These
... the State Department, who is privy to
... are serious concerns which are finally
... of the early discussions. ...
... settled in the direction of trusting
... is ... whom ... states
... AMELASH of ... least going ahead with him ... on the basis of
... because of his proximity to Castro, and
... is ... at the ... level

Sub 7

World in action Investigation

Helms: We have very little choice. If he is ⁻⁵⁰⁶⁻ a double agent, and Castro is aware of our plans, all we have left is that he is now convinced in his paranoia, and that is an undeniable plan for us more well known countermanded of cause by & considerable increase, I should think, in his real anxiety.

On the other hand, I AM/US California has not been doubled than we are giving upon of the most of the most promising California as per On balance, the answer declarations. and as know for certain as well taken with AM/US.

on down. McCone, of course, is out of it, is cut out of the pipeline. They may never have a better opportunity to knock Castro off and therefore must go along with it.

During this period, in early October, (not certain of the date) William Atwood, Special Advisor to the delegation at the UN, working under Stevenson, began a series of talks with the Cuban Ambassador to the UN, a man named Leechuga, to discuss opening negotiations between Castro and the US.

There are taps on the Cuban Embassy's and the Cuban Delegation to the UN's telephones and Harlot, via the FBI, obtains this information. So, too, does
the State Department, who is privy to some of the early discussions. So, too, is Helms with whom Harlot shares the information on the basis of strengthening his position since Helms will be next Dec

Does Harry
get this from Kittredge
who in turn receives it from ~~Holt~~ ↓ Pk

Heary in turn always another version from Hank.

Still another from across via his tail into the State Dept. (A long

~~Harry Lenn
via Cal.~~

Credit card of info the offer accept card of money

Ward
Recess
(Kingsman)

FBI
to
↓
Hacker

~~My opinion~~ ~~shouldn't say to keep~~ ~~strategies when we're looking at~~ ~~the~~ ~~real~~ ~~media~~ ~~report~~ ~~in~~ ~~the~~ ~~company~~ ~~of~~ ~~it~~ ~~and~~ ~~just~~ ~~down~~ ~~the~~ ~~well~~ ~~the~~ ~~we're~~ ~~we're~~ ~~being~~ ~~critical~~ ~~as~~ ~~an~~ ~~open~~ ~~in~~ ~~principality~~

~~-506~~

McCone, of course, is out of t, is cut out of the pipeline. They may never have a better opportunity to knock Castro off and therefore must go along with it.

John Byron Kithley

Harry
Lewis
via Cal.

Sept 7

[illegible]

~~Oct 3~~

OCT 3 -507-

It will help if a new chron is established

August 63 to Nov 63

~~strengthening his position there for certainly Helms will be the next DCI.~~ ~~After Castro's speech on the radio in Jan~~

AAP

On October 3 (this is from the AAP. p. 173)

173) 1963, the Special Group approved nine operations in Cuba, several of which involved sabotage.

On October 24, '63

1963. 13 major sabotage operations, including sabotage of an electrical power plant, oil refinery and sugar mill, were approved for the period from November 1963 through January 1964. on the other side, there'd been a diplomatic effort to restore accommodation with Castro. (AAP, 173)

Killings command as per govt. memos needs to be maintained under 70 to other

*Note: As Harry read these letters from Kitzinger
he is in effect betraying his trust in moving in the other direction via Cuba.*

Cal's part raised up of this

This is the reaction to the Attwood peace drive led by Mc Lane.

One official said it gotten up quickly by Cal.

Castro's reaction

~~As early as January 4, 1963, Bundy proposed to President Kennedy that the possibility of communicating with Castro be explored. In a meeting on June 13, 1963, the Special Group agreed it would be a useful endeavor to explore various possibilities of establishing channels~~

~~of communication to Castro~~ ditto

p513 ←

Sept '63

AAP

Since I put directly, it was long & detailed, expanded and somewhat lost how? Will remain problem.

~~of communication with Castro.~~ In the fall of 1963, Willaim Atwood was the Special Advisor to the United States Delegation to the United Nations with the rank of Ambassador, ~~Atwood testified,~~ that from September until November 1963, ~~he had~~ ^{begin} a series of talks with the Cuban Ambassador to the United Nations to discuss opening negotiations on an accommodation with Castro and the United States. At the outset Atwood informed Robert Kennedy of these talks who told him the effort was "worth pursuing."
Atwood regularly reported on the talks to the White House and to Adlai Stevenson, his superior at the United Nations. Bundy told Atwood that President Kennedy was in favor of "pushing toward an opening with Cuba" to take Castro "out of the Soviet realm, perhaps wiping out the Bay of Pigs and getting back to normal."

Atwood

Stevenson

Rush
talk

First Harold talk via Marley

Early September

White House
& Harbun Castro

Highly
in preceding chapter

Rush bonds out via Harlot?

Harry Winston?
AAP

Sept

Sept 63

Harlot: Mr Atwood is ingenious
if he believes there are the only people who know

Harlot has an agent in Leagues mission.

Atwood said he believed the only people who knew about his contacts with the Cubans were the President, Ambassador Averill Harriman, Ambassador Stevenson, Attorney General Kennedy, McGeorge Bundy, Bundy's assistant, and ^{Lisa Howard} Lisa Howard who had initially reported to Atwood that during a trip to Cuba, she had learned Castro was anxious to establish communications with the United States.

to 524
sheet

States. Atwood also arranged for a French journalist, Jean Daniel, to visit the White House prior to Daniel's scheduled trip to see Castro. And Daniel met with President Kennedy on October 24, 1963, when they discussed the prospect of reestablishing United States-Cuba relations. Kennedy asked Daniel to report to him after seeing Castro.

Handwritten scribbles

Oct 63

Harry
frustrated that we cannot get a view of Daniel's interview
w Kennedy

On November 18, 1963, Atwood spoke by telephone with a member of Atwood's

515 deleted
510 deleted

511-514 re-located in Clinton

AAP

staff in Cuba, and pursuant to White House instructions informed Castro's staff member that the United States favored preliminary negotiations in the United Nations rather than in Cuba (as proposed by the Cubans) and that the United States desired to work on an agenda for these talks.

redundant

Atwood reported this conversation to Bundy who told him that after a Cuban agenda was received, Kennedy wanted to see Atwood to "decide what to say, whether to go, or what we should do next."

Jean Daniel the French journalist, met Castro four days later, on November 22, 1963, the same day AMLASH was given the poison pen. On the same day President Kennedy was assassinated.

Mar 1, '63

Goes back to early XV when ~~Harold~~ ^{was worried} ~~Schlessinger~~ about Miami

Now that is the official summary from the Church Committee. This is from Arthur Schlessinger.

Castro gave Lisa Howard of the American Broadcasting Company ten hours of interview in late April. She concluded on being debriefed on May 1, 1963 by the CIA, that Castro "was looking for a way to reach a rapprochement³ probably for economic reasons." The "US limitations on exile raids" were a proper step¹ toward accommodation, Castro said. Che Guevara and Raul Castro, Lisa Howard thought, opposed accommodation. Vallejo and Raul ^{Roa} ~~Rosa~~, the foreign minister, favored it. Castro himself, Howard thought, was ready to discuss rapprochement "with proper progressive spokesmen." he indicated, however, that if the "rapprochement was wanted,

President John F. Kennedy would have to⁸ make the first move."

CIA
A report on the convention (with hope?)

Use as collateral
guide.
Covers the same ground.

Mar 1, '63

~~Briefing~~ Shooting during Harry Rosen's funeral dinner.

This, as a CIA
debriefing, ~~was~~ soon reached virulent anti-Castro elements in the CIA.
Could be a scene with Hunt & Harry,

p. 494

After letter from Kittredges in into the book
+ birth from Cal

Cal said there was meeting to challenge

or from the
as a result
June '63?

Carla K. Decker used Lisa Howard,

CIA
report

However, a few days after his talks with Lisa Howard, Castro was on his way to the Soviet Union and returned five weeks later with a glow of enthusiasm. He seemed to have dispelled the anti-Soviet doubts he had had after the missile crisis. The collapse of the 1963 sugar crop made him more dependent than ever on Soviet aid.

May + June
'63

Cal points out to Henry that he thinks McCon was steered
to this:

He is guided toward this key Helms who is something of Cubela the more with by Cubela when it comes,
could then have the sanction of a general authoritative tidy way of saving ourselves.
CIA

Use this

On its side, the Standing Group in Washington at the end of May had McCone arguing for sabotage in order to "create a situation that would subvert military leaders to the point of their being willing to overthrow Castro." McNamara preferred overt economic pressures rather than sabotage. the Attorney General said the United States "must do something against Castro, even if we do not believe our actions will bring him down."

(p. 44)

Our own
Helms
He said it in sub

see note
in left hand margin

Cubela

May-June

if McCon's premises approved by the NK.

Schlessinger

Reflection
of Castro toward interview?

On June 3, the Special Group recommended the "exploration of various possibilities of establishing channels of communication with Castro." The American government, like Castro, appeared to be facing in two directions.

Castro - Khrushchev reconciliation

Reflection
of Castro's trip to Moscow
and rapprochement?

But on June 19, the Special Group suddenly approved a new sabotage program directed at major segments of the Cuban economy, the resurrection, in a highly qualified way, of the secret war. The object "to nourish a spirit of resistance and disaffection which could lead to significant defections and other forms of unrest." "One must surmise," says Schlessinger, "that what lay behind the June revival was the desire to keep Castro from Venezuela, where his secret war against Betancourt was building to a climax. Also, to reassure Latin American governments, Cuban exiles, Republican critics, and the CIA that the

that the Administration was not betraying its opposition to Castro

Pawley
Hughes
DeLeon
Marshall
Crafford

Arturo
(Cubela)

Castro again pick. God has led him to the money East can religious Schubert) let it on the table near me of I want to ~~administration was not faltering in~~ ~~opposition to Castro~~ my hand, I don't want it inside me like heart burn. I don't trust

Arturo, in Nicaragua, under Somoza's blessing, was setting up an anti-Castro base.

June

this action for just that earn

My first tie this to a conversation between Hunt & Harry.

See preceding chapter
concerning reun with Hunt.

Plan - June

The June 19 decision had the CIA turning to an "agent in place" in Havana, Rolando Cubela Secades, the revolutionary zealot who had killed Batista's military intelligence chief in 1956, fought beside Castro in the Escambray Mountains, seized the presidential Palace in advance of Castro's own arrival in Havana in 1959, and in 1960 was Castro's instrument in destroying the ancient freedoms of the University of ~~Havana~~ ^{Havana} ~~miami~~ (?? do you mean Havana??). Thereafter, Cubela suffered disillusionment. The agency recruited him in 1961 and gave him the code name of AM/LASH. A heavy drinker and a psychiatric patient, Cubela was not the ideal operative, but he was better in the CIA view than no man in Havana ^(near Castro) at all.

Schlesinger

In ¹⁹⁶³ September, Cubela met a CIA man in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and said he was prepared to do an inside job against Castro's life. On September 7, the same day, Castro attended a party at the Brazilian Embassy in Havana. Here he told Daniel Harper of the Associated Press, "Kennedy is the Batista of our time, and the most opportunistic president of all time." He warned against "terrorist plans to eliminate the Cuban leaders," and said, "we are prepared to answer in kind. The United States leadership think that if they assist in terrorist plans to eliminate Cuban leaders, they themselves will not be safe."

The rapprochement between Atwood & U.S. Castroites breaks that off.

*Report
of 502 + 506*

Oct 24
to
Oct 29

Harlot is terribly upset by this because it seems to him that Castro is signalling his knowledge of the Sao Paulo meeting with AM/LASH. Suspicions increase when Cubela requests murder weapons and a meeting with Robert Kennedy. Again, from Schlessinger: "Was Cubela an agent provocateur? Even if not, was it safe, given his known instability, to bring him into direct contact with high American officials?"

Harlot's disapproval of it is very strong, but Cal ignores it and refuses to discuss it any further with Hugh

Montague. Helms solves it by deciding, according to the CIA Inspector General's report, that it's not necessary to seek approval from Robert Kennedy; ^{Cal} ~~McMone~~ Fitzgerald can speak in his name. ^{RFK's} Nor do they go to ~~McCone~~ with it. ~~During this period, McCone has read about Sam Giancana and the CIA in the Chicago Sun~~

A new chapter here perhaps with Helms to decide Cubela's scene? How will Cal will react?

Maybe Cal on his own.

Or with Helms' backing.

Can be handled in passing as one more example of Cal's not to take it through Helms.

How can come a description of how Helms is handled!

Oct 26/29

Times, and demands an explanation.

Subordinates explain Giancana away as a historical incident, all over now, (Not Dallas) nothing to do with him. AM/LASH is not mentioned.

*El Presidente
Rolando
Cubela
de Cuba (Presidential ambitions)*

no assassination Elimination!

Cal, presenting himself falsely as Robert Kennedy's personal representative, meets Cubela on October 29, 1963. Cubela wants some means of killing Castro without being killed himself. Three on Nov 22 weeks later, Cal promises Cubela everything he needs, telescopic sights, silencer, all the money he wants, and presents him with a ball point pen containing a hypodermic needle so fine the victim presumably will not notice its insertion. Cubela wants something more sophisticated than that.

This meeting takes place in Paris november 22, 1963.

*PP 518-521
mover CLIX*

Criles

Now for the account from the George

Criles piece:

Am/LASH was a Cuban doctor, a former commandante of the rebel army and a hero of the revolution. An intimate of Castro. During the period before the Cuban revolution, a decision was made to kill Blanco Rico, Batista's chief of military intelligence. This is again from Crile. The revolutionary logic of that day called for sparing certain sadistic officials because of the hatred they aroused. "Rico treated everyone like a gentleman. he wouldn't even torture people," Alaman explains. So he had to be done away with. Rolando lets Eugenio Martinez participate in the decision to kill him, but the man they assigned to kill him was ^{charge} Cubela. In October of 1956, Cubela shot Rico through the head in ^{the} a fashionable Montmartre nightclub. As he died, Rico

Cubela on Blanco Rico:
"A good man lost among rotten apple, those putrefying revolutionaries Rico smiled at me at the end. I believe he had a vision of what was coming to Cuba and how Cubela, talking to Harry, could ^{may} turn." mentions Martinez

Cubela

the Royal Palms

caught Cubela's eye and, Cubela believed, smiled understandingly at him. Cubela escaped to Miami where he lived at the Trade Winds Motel, one of the properties, including the Miami Stadium, which Aleman owned.

A large number of revolutionaries were forced to flee Cuba at that time and many ended up staying at Aleman's expense at the Trade Winds. Cubela was now a hero among the exiles but was tortured by the memory of Rico's dying smile. He was convinced that Rico was talking to him at night and he had a nervous breakdown. Martinez, who had also gone into exile, shared a room with him and served as his confessor and analyst. After a few months, Cubela appeared to have recovered and returned to Cuba to join Castro's Second Front in the Escambray Mountains. Castro made Cubela a commandante, the highest rank

Rico is with him whenever he awaken. "The smile passed on into me
I believe it is inducing a cancer"

P458

~~This heart trip could take place under the terms of the similar, but in Sept. after Martin's visit to Hartman~~

The heart trip w/ Hartman could use the Culemat material expounded by Hartman to get many inroads in talking Cal into accepting the government since 1961 relation w/ Cubela.

~~All this could happen in Sept. on taking trip to Cuba.~~ in his army, and when Batista fled Cuba on new year's Day, 1959, Cubela swept into Havana several days before Castro and led the force that seized the presidential palace. Cubela, as a triumphant revolutionary and a big wheel at the university, drove around Havana in a gigantic touring car, drinking and womanizing. In the midst of these dissipations, he got into a car accident ~~killed a young girl~~ and began hearing ~~seeing~~ ^{hearing} Nico at night. As before, he took to calling Aleman whenever he heard the voice.

Aleman, who had now decided that Fidel was a Communist, had decided that Castro had to be eliminated, went with another revolutionary friend to convince Cubela to take on the assignment. Cubela said, "I'm a nervous wreck. I'm just getting better--now you want me to kill Castro? I don't see him as a Communist. But if I ~~at~~ recover maybe I will, I won't say as described by Hartman

Haunted by ghosts, Hartman could feel infected by him, and wonders if he sees a ghost that night. He to Anguiano, Far, + to his experience in ~~Cuba~~ off-shore Calu water to Hartman.

See p 540 also p 458

~~On the heart trip, Hartman could tell the story of Cubela's ghost and his ghost.~~

Cubela

Martinez

Martinez?

yes, I won't say no." Aleman was then paying for a psychiatrist for Cubela and persuaded the analyst who shared his political views to try to convince Cubela that the only way to exorcize Rico was by assassinating Castro. The man who accompanied Aleman was Jose Pepin Naranjo, an old revolutionary colleague whom Castro invited to join his government as minister of interior and director of all the nation's police forces. Naranjo rose to a position of total trust with Fidel; he even tasted Castro's food to make sure it wasn't poisoned. And today is still at Fidel's side (as of the writing of Crile's piece.) In a Dan Rather CBS documentary, Naranjo is seen taking Castro's gun and bandelero from him as Fidel settled back to relax.

Many Dreams of Augustus Barr, ~~Cubela was number two man in the~~ ~~interior ministry at the time of his~~

~~recruitment by CIA~~

Do Glor

Long time

any society of communists and peers?

~~Oct 29~~

~~Oct 22~~

Cuba

Cubela was #2 man in interior ministry at the time of [unclear]

*Hemill Kalla Seedal
long distances*

*Cal's Commenced
Oct 29*

*Blanca
Rice*

recruitment by the CIA. The CIA, having recruited Cubela, found that his temperament was mercurial. He would propose Castro's execution, but grew disturbed when the case officer used the word assassination. This could take place with Harry. It was not the act he objected to but the choice of words.

*It would be
the CIA
operative in Brazil,*

Where do they meet?

Wants some insurance killing Castro without being killed himself.

Scene

Harry, seeing him, tells Cal that Cubela demands a meeting with Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and Cal decides to bring himself ^{to Paris} there on October 29, where Cal presents himself as Kennedy's personal representative and they agree to meet again in Paris on November 22, at which meeting Cal gave AM/LASH a ballpoint pen rigged with a hypodermic needle, the point of which was so fine the victim would not notice the injection.

~~Note that later in 1965 that Artime, also, quoting Crile, faithfully reported all~~

*523 deleted
moved to Rome*

Later, in 1965, Criles

3 days

Arttime reports (his) as B-1 in 1965 Faithfully these plans to his case officer, My query: was that Hunt?

Set for Harvey cluster

Vol II

1965

Criles

Providing Cubela with a silencer and some "small highly concentrated explosive," the two men work out elaborate arrangements for Cubela's role in the new Cuban government after the revolution, and the logistics of his escape. Arttime was to land with his commandos as soon as Cubela struck. The assassination itself was to be carried out at Veradero Beach. Castro himself was planning to spend the Easter holidays at a house once owned by the DuPonts. Cubela stayed at a home close by. From there he planned to use his high powered rifle.

~~Now to the Atwood negotiation: From~~ ~~Schlessinger: "September of 1963 saw~~

~~the negotiation of the limited test Ban~~

~~treaty. It was followed on September 24~~

Schlessinger

Seller

September of 1963 saw the negotiations of limited East-West trade by a comfortable ratification in the Senate. This enlarged possibilities within the hemisphere and interested the Kennedys in putting out 'some tentative feelers' to Castro. Atwood, working at the UN, had heard from the Canadian Ambassador to Cuba that Castro, unlike the congress around him, disliked Cuba's satellite status and was looking for a way to escape. Atwood found this reasonable. In early September, Carlos followed on Sept 24

By Feb 28, Helms has found in Pal's favor

Sept 18

Kuchell
date

Leads from State Dept
to CIA would reactivate Cuban exiles suspicions of Kennedy,

fresh Nancy

Leechuga, Cuban Ambassador to the Un, raised the possibility of exploratory talks. On September 18, Atwood sent the State Department a memo on Cuba.
Isolating Cuba, he argued, not only intensified Castro's desire to cause trouble, but froze the United States before the world 'in the unattractive posture of a big country trying to bully a small country.' From the memo:
"There is reason to believe that Castro is unhappy about his present dependence

Sept 18

Harry thinks it is less than all over again

Punch

Attwood Memo
from Harold (via Helen)

to Cal
to Harry's

He also gives Brian
Hunt

via the Cuban embassy
via other
CIA
men.

Twice in the same day, Harry
receives
this memo.

Brian they in Cuban delegation

on the Soviet bloc; that he did not enjoy, in effect, being a satellite; that the trade embargo is hurting him--although not enough to endanger his position; that he would like to establish some official contact with the United States, and would go to some lengths to obtain normalization of relations with us--even though this would not be welcome by most of his hardcore Communist entourage such as Che Guevara. . . it would seem that we have nothing to lose by finding out whether Castro does, in fact, want to talk, and what concessions he would be prepared to make."

Atwood saw our principal political objectives in Cuba as a) evacuation of all Soviet bloc military personnel; b) an end to subversive activity of Cuba in Latin America; c) adoption by Cuba of a policy of non-alignment

See Confusing
on 12/3 + 12/4
with confounding
on 12/3 + 12/4

Schlessinger

Schlessinger, "This was a bold proposition for 1963 with a presidential election coming up in the following year. Of course, it was an extraordinary risk. If Keating, or Goldwater, or Nixon or Rockefeller, or the Cuban exiles ^{Cal} caught a whiff of ^{this} there'd be hell to pay."

Subting

*unrequited
memo
from a Kennedy
official*

*Aseraunt
on the memo Henry
receives.*

Not yet written on his memo

Atwood got in touch with Robert Kennedy who put him in touch with Mac Bundy. The Attorney General thought the effort "worth pursuing." Bundy reported back to Atwood that the president was in favor of pushing toward an opening toward Cuba to "take Castro out of the Soviet fold, perhaps wiping out the Bay of Pigs and maybe getting back to normal." Atwood talked to Leechuga, Lisa Howard, Dr. Rene Vallejo.

on October 31, Vallejo told Howard that Castro was ready for a meeting, and 507

John F. Kennedy Office meeting in Paris

Daniel

Very important

2 days after Oct 29, meeting
in Paris.

It is an opportunity to show the reversal sides Kennedy.

on Oct 31, Vallejo told Lisa that Castro was ready for a meeting and would send a plane to fly a designated

American official to a private airport near Havana. "The President gave the go ahead," Robert Kennedy stated later in 1964, "and Attwood was to go to Havana, and see Castro, and see what could be done in the way of a normalization of relationship."

Oct 31

delayed by Castro's
speech

Memorandum of Attwood around to Ben Bradlee

Daniel interview

Attwood and Ben Bradlee urged the President to see Jean Daniel of L'Express, who was on his way to Havana.
Kennedy saw him the next day in the late afternoon of October 24, and said,

Oct 24

See Daniel

"there is no country in the world where economic colonization, humiliation, and exploitation are worse than in Cuba, in part owing to my country's policies during the Batista regime. I believe that we created, built and manufactured the Castro movement out of whole cloth and without realizing it." He assured Daniel that "I have understood the

To find out when Andrew the Jean Daniel
appeared.
New Republic
Dec 7 + Dec 14, 1963?
Alia Le Temps Qui Parle Paris 1973

redundant

528 redundant

Daniel's note are photographed in his hotel room.

Killredge letter

redundant

Cubans, I approve the proclamation that Fidal Castro made in the Sierra Maestra. I will even go further--in some sense it is as if Batista was the incarnation of a number of sins on the part of the United States. now we shall have to pay for those sins. In the matter of the Batista regime, I am in agreement with the first Cuban revolutionaries."

Crucial
Killredge must say it

Unfortunately, Kennedy continued, it had ceased to be a purely Cuban problem, it had become a Soviet problem. Castro had betrayed his promises in the Sierra Maestra and had become a Soviet agent in Latin America. In so doing, he had brought the world to the verge of nuclear war. The Russians understood this, "I don't know whether Castro realizes this, or even if he cares about it." And then said, "Come and see me on your return from Cuba. Castro's reactions interest me."

Could Killredge have heard this from Kennedy himself? Or is he a platonic relation with her (partially) and both of them are Harlot according to Worth exploring.

Yes.
although that may just be my vanity speaking.

Stearns - FBI tap

Nov 5, 27

Push freely into the lines

In reaction to Kennedy?

RUSH

unconditional surrender

On November 5, however, Bundy told Attwood that the President was more interested than the State Department in exploring the Cuban overtures. A State Department memorandum of November 7 certainly took a much harder line than the White House. Before the United States could enter into even minimum relations with the Cuban government, the department opined, it would not only have to end political, economic and military dependency on the Sino-Soviet bloc and cease its subversion within the hemisphere, but would have to renounce Marxism-Leninism as its ideology, remove Communists from positions of influence, provide compensation for expropriated properties, and restore private enterprise in manufacturing, mining, oil and distribution.

— Daup.

Now, my comment on this is that given the intensity of negative reaction in

Harry
could have 2 sets of reactions
and feel the election campaign and some inner sense of the loss of base that came from losing in Alaska and Omega and virtually the entire time. What this new psychopathology?

* Hunt, independent of the public gets wind of this, ^{from State Dept} sends Harry to pay it onto Harlot, Harry is amused at Hunt's narrative that Harlot would not know already.

-530-

NOV 18

This has been noted in the margin some pages back. Shouldn't say 'marginized'?

Harry could round Hubbard also discovers what is behind it, and explodes, Monday, Castro saw Daniel.

Given Kennedy's original plan * Harry pass attention to the speech.

the State Department to exploring Cuban overtures, it is impossible that they did not pay close attention to one, what was happening at the UN between Attwood and Lechuga, and two, more importantly, that the word got passed from the State Department to the CIA. And from there to the Cuban exile population in Miami.

Cuban exile population according to Hubbard in news.

In fact, it might be even worth having a scene between Hunt and Hubbard where Hunt explodes over the intensity of betrayal in this maneuver on the part of the Kennedys. "I knew they could never be trusted; I knew that from the beginning." ~~The question is where the real enemy to America is to be found.~~

Again, from Schlesinger: "On November 18, Kennedy himself flashed a new message to Castro. Speaking before the Inter-American Press Association in Miami, he emphasized once again that the Alliance for Progress did 'not dictate

Redundant pp 531-538 n 532-538 536 moved

* Harry's plan: only attempt

Wed day, Nov 19
Castro saw
Jean Daniel

Schlesinger - On Nov 18, Kennedy broadcast a new message to Castro, speaking before the Inter American Press Association in Miami.
He emphasized once again that the alliance for progress did not subordinate to any nation how to organize its economic life. Every nation is free to shape its own economic institutions according to its own economic needs and will.' As for Cuba, 'a small band of conspirators' had made it 'a weapon in an effort dictated by external powers to subvert the other American republics.

This and this alone divides us. As long as this is true, nothing is possible.
Without it, everything is possible. .

.once Cuban sovereignty has been restored, we extend a hand of friendship and assistance to a Cuba whose political and economic institutions have been shaped by the will of the Cuban people.'

The next day Bundy told Attwood that the President wanted to see him as soon as he had spoken to Leachuga. the president, Bundy said, would not be leaving Washington again except for a brief trip to Dallas.

Schlessinger

Again from Schlessinger: "In this period, Jean Daniel had been spending three fruitless weeks in Havana and had finally booked passage for Mexico City on November 20, unable to see Castro. At 10 o'clock on the evening of the 19th, [which is significantly one day after Kennedys speech on the 18th] Castro accompanied by Vallejo unexpectedly came to his hotel room. They talked till four in the morning. Daniel described his conversation with Kennedy. Castro listened, Daniel thought, with 'devouring and passionate interest,' stroking his beard, tugging on his paratrooper's beret, 'making me the target of a thousand malicious sparks cast by his deep-sunk, lively eyes.'

My comment on this: someone speaking of Castro might say, "I did not know if he was a devil or a pagan god."

Newspaper?
Dec 7, 1963

Schlessinger

Back to Schlessinger: "He made Daniel repeat three times Kennedy's indictment of Batista. Three times also Kennedy's remark that Castro himself, in defiance of the superpowers, had almost brought the world to nuclear war. Khrushchev, Castro recalled, had called Kennedy 'a capitalist with whom one could talk.' Daniel felt that Castro saw Kennedy as an 'intimate enemy.' 'I believe Kennedy is sincere,' Castro finally said. "I also believe that today the expression of his sincerity could have political significance. He inherited a difficult situation but I also think he's a realist." Later he refuses to discuss Cuban relations with Russia: 'I find this indecent.'" This is p. 599 of the RFK book.

Castro rambled late into the night, early into the morning. "Kennedy could be the man capable of understanding the

*Might have Harry recounted the conversation
to some extent he learned later from the transcript from Daniel's writings.*

Schlesinger

explosive reality of Latin America. 'He could still be this man. He still has the possibility of being in the eyes of history the greatest president of the United States, the American leader who can at last understand that there can be coexistence between capitalism and socialists. He would then be an even greater president than Lincoln. Personally I consider him responsible for everything but I will say this, I have come to understand many things over the last few months, and then too, in the last analysis, I am convinced that anyone else would be worse. Tell him that I'm willing to declare Goldwater my friend if it will guarantee Kennedy's reelection.' He then told Daniel to delay his trip to Mexico and saw him again on November 22. ~~He was in his villa at the beach with Daniel when the news came from Dallas. 'Es una mala noticia.'~~ he muttered again and again to read this after the assassination

Hubbard
Could
and feel
stricken.

The news of Kennedy's
assassination
might be prearranged in the scene
with Castro.

End
of
chapter

News of Kennedy's assassination
comes this way.

Harry
can put this in chronologically
even if it
about it later.

Chapter - 3 days

-535-

Chapter could go on from 634

Castro was in his villa at least a year on Nov 22 when the news came from Dallas. "Es una mala noticia" he murmured again and again.

Daniel, 'voila, there is the end to your mission of peace.' He said later, 'I'll tell you one thing, at least Kennedy was an enemy to whom we had become accustomed. This is a serious matter, an extremely serious matter.' In the afternoon, he had a fusillade of questions about Lyndon Johnson, and finally, as if well aware that political leaders might not be able to control their intelligence agencies, asked,

'what authority does he exercise over the CIA?' In this light, the AM/LASH operation could be seen, according to Schlessinger, as "a studied attempt to wreck Kennedy's search for normalization. The deepest rage of all against Kennedy was among the anti-Castro fanatics in the Cuban exile community. in their perception, normalization would complete the perfidious course begun with the Bay of Pigs and carried further during the

Redundant

Schlesinger

June '63

Start earlier atmosphere in Miami

missile crisis. no one had a greater interest in putting the Kennedy-Castro exploration on ice than ^{those} ~~most~~ Cubans who had committed their lives to the destruction of the Castro regime. In ~~June~~, the brigade leaders protested to the CIA that the only hope was 'a massive US intervention.' They were, Helms reported to the Attorney General, 'disheartened that they do not foresee such an invasion.' Miro Cardona resigned as chairman of the Cuban Revolutionary Council in an outburst of wild accusations against the Kennedy administration. ^(After Kennedy closed down their ops.) A broadside of unknown origin told Cuban exiles in Miami that 'only one development would return them to their homeland--if an inspired act of God should place in the White House within weeks a Texan known to be a friend to all Latin Americans.'"

Antwar in March April 1963

Redundant 532-538

Schlessinger

Again, from Schlessinger, "It seems inconceivable that the CIA knew nothing about the Attwood plan. American intelligence had UN Cuban diplomats under incessant surveillance. They followed their movements, tapped their telephone calls, read their letters, intercepted their cables."

Castro's view of the Alliance for Progress, again from Schlessinger: "The goal of the Alliance," he told Frank Mankiewicz a dozen years later, 'was to effect social reform and improve the condition of the masses in Latin America. It was a politically wise concept put forth to hold back the time of revolution. A very intelligent strategy. Basically, one has to admit that the idea of the alliance for Progress was an intelligent one: however, a utopian one.' Utopian, because as Castro told Herbert Matthews

Unin
1963

*memory to put it in Dimit piece
taken care of it.*

On the Assessing in Discussions

Again
for the the Kennedy period after assass.

Not for the Jean Daniel
scene!

Redundant

in 1963, 'You can put wings on a horse but it won't fly.' Again, from Castro, 'Kennedys good ideas aren't going to yield any results,' he assured Jean Daniel. 'Historically, the United States has been committed to the Latin oligarchs. Suddenly a president arrives on the scene who tries to support the interests of another class that has no access to the levers of power. What happens then? The rich see that ^{their} ~~their~~ interests are being a little compromised, the Pentagon thinks its strategic bases are in danger, the powerful oligarchs in all the Latin American countries alert their American friends, they sabotage the new policy; and in short, Kennedy has everyone against him.' ~~Not in retrospect," says~~ ~~Schlessinger, "a bad analysis."~~

In all this, be it noted that on November 1, 1963, a coup toppled Diem

Harry thinks Cubela is Cal
in 21

Cal English lord
w too people
w wife w children Cal likes →

See 568

* ~~You can never believe what Santos tells you. All you know is that this is what makes you think...~~ and Nhu and they were murdered. Madame Nhu accused the US.

My own note: On November 22, when Cubela is handed the poison pen by Cal, he turns it back with scorn. "I am a Cuban. I do not use ladies' weapons."

I do not wish to assassinate Cantor. I like him personally.
But I will do it because it is my sacred duty to perform such acts, ~~however.~~

Cubela
scene

* Hoffa got away of a number of doctors Marlene knew to pass her a special visit.
He looks into the doctors.

Just before this meeting, Cal, dining with Harry at La Tour D'Argent, tells Harry about the death of Marilyn Monroe (hears about it from ~~truffaut~~) as he learned about it from the Mafia who were impressed at how the Kennedys got out of Hoffa's trap. He tells him the story they told him--he doesn't know if it's true or not--(this may have been mentioned before but we can mention that he's now divorced from big Mary and Rough and Tough hardly speak to him).
Thus he has been drawing closer and closer to Harry who is both moved and resentful. ~~Harry's mother Jessica keeps~~ done by 811

than Cubela scene in Paris

~~calling Harry. She wants to move in on Cal.~~

~~Cubela, talking of how he killed Blanco Rico: "a good man lost among rotten apples, those putrefying Batistianos. Rico smiled at me at the end. I believe he had a vision of what was coming to Cuba and how I would suffer in my turn."~~

P- Martinez
call.
moved
to Ch IX

On November 24 Lee Harvey Oswald is killed as millions watch on TV. Harry has just long enough to think of Oswald's face, that narrow, triangular working class face. They soon discover--the agency soon discovers while looking for Oswald's movements in Mexico City that Cubela may have had something to do with Yatskov and Kostikov, and Cal's worries about Cubela and Trafficante erupt again.

De Mohrenschildt severs the hell out of them. Inquiries on him disappear into the iron lips of the inquiry. Cherry learns the meaning of no gossip.

It was all very well for Harriet to summarize the situation and move on, but not for me. A obsession is a sheep of mourning for themes that are buried on a bed of silence.

After the assassination, Harry has long worries and doubts about Hunt. Hunt has had the time, the opportunity, the inner rage, and the contacts with the most violent elements of the brigade. The Marilyn Monroe story haunts Harry. If elements that could kill Marilyn Monroe could get to the Kennedys, then how many people and forces were not above using Oswald to kill Kennedy to kick off a war against Castro?

Had we lost the Mandate of Heaven?

P 574
Insert
page

After the assassination, Harry broods on Ruby's connections with gambling figures in Havana and how Ruby went to visit Trafficante while Trafficante was in jail. He wonders if Castro assassinated Kennedy, but then thinks that Castro would hardly have been able to control Ruby. But then on the other hand, once Oswald was removed, the assassination was open to different kinds of handling and interpretation. So it's possible

SP. Sease^{MHR} Mar 4 ✓ Nov

During an executive session of Labor Commission, Chief Justice Warren said: "The FBI and the CIA and all other agencies do employ and employ men who are of terrible character." Allen Dulles: "Terrible and characters," he agrees.

~~SECRET~~ (C-161) ✓

Speech

(over)

(b) Harlot: That ~~is~~ has to be one of Allen's finest moments.

(all the sadness, all the weight, and all the pride of a gentleman, who could summarize up the presence of effective rubbians of the street that Castro succeeded in killing Kennedy, which is Harry's first thought, and then the agency killed Ruby. You have to get to how wild it all seems to Harry at the time.

After the death of Kennedy, Harry could turn to Harlot's set speech on the events at the seventh floor.

He cannot then, after attending something at the WH

He might recall that later Harlot would have a set speech that he gave to friends and sometimes offered on the Thursdays, at least on low Thursdays, but in actuality the few days after the assassination were worse than that. At least for the first week, when Harry actually checked to see if Harvey was in Rome, then realized it didn't matter--or did it? Could one run such an operation from Rome? Of course not. Could one run such an operation from Dallas? how could one? It was all beyond him.

Dulles, after all, in Puerto Rico on the Bag of Pigs.

Harvey called to talk to Rosselli.

Rosselli is on the phone to Cal. He believes that the same hit men who were targeted against Castro were also ~~used~~ ^{used}.

against Kennedy and ties in the fact that Carlos Marcello was kidnapped by the CIA and taken to Guatemala at Robert Kennedy's orders before the Bay of pigs.
And then was flown back from Guatemala to America by a guy named David ~~Ferry~~ ^{Ferris} and mentions how Trafficante was visited by Ruby when in Havana jail, because Ruby was close to one of Trafficante's number one people, Louis McWillie.

Stet → And Harry actually wonders on that day and that week whether God had withdrawn his sanction from America. Maybe we no longer had the 50 just men. Whereas he ~~later hears that Giancana in December, remarking on Oswald after a henchman says he was some kind of anarchistic Communist, Giancana says, "Oswald was a marksman. He knew how to shoot."~~

~~Anarchistic Communists are Red-eye!~~

← On December 9, 1963, the FBI says Oswald acted alone.

WM

The following is worth quoting: p. 151 in Wilderness of Mirrors: "The CIA station in Mexico, in a routine surveillance of Communist embassies, intercepted a phone call that Oswald made from the Cuban to the Soviet Embassy demanding in his broken Russian to speak to 'Comrade Kostikov' about his visa application, a curious request since his visa application was on file with the Soviet Consulate in Washington."

My comment: this suggests that it was not Oswald who was calling.

WM

"Valery Kostikov and his boss, Pavel Yotskov, chief of the Embassy's Consular section, was later overheard to say that he actually met with Oswald and both these gentlemen were known officers of the KGB, a CIA memo reports.

Immediately after the assassination, headquarters at Langley cabled Mexico City for the names of all contacts of Yotskov and Kotiskov. Early on the morning of November 25, the Mexico City Station came back with their response. one of the names on the list was Rolando Cubela."

~~My comment: Cal is now doubly in the hot seat because the chief of his own SAS counter-intelligence, actually Harlot above that chief, warned Cal that Cubela's bona fides were subject to question.~~

Finally, I In 1963, Hannah Arendt's "The Banality of Evil" came out, "Puff, the Magic dragon" was the big song and "Dr. Strangelove" was the big movie.

~~In the post-assassination grouping which now comes, I have a note to the effect~~

Oct 3-11

-556-

Cvile

mention, nor did his prosecutors ask him, about his earlier CIA work. There appeared to be a studied attempt to avoid any mention of Cuba's plotting before 1961. Finally Castro himself intervened on Cuba's behalf to ask for The would-be assassin sentenced to 25 years in prison and is now reported to be in a state rehabilitation farm.

Barlow, Traff & Harlot

Oct 6 or later?
Oct 6-11

Cal's first name

Cal's
Harlot

Oct 31
Oct 163

~~States government. Some of the commandos captured gave us a surprisingly full account of their mission, giving the names of their case officers and the location of their bases in Miami." Castro was infuriated by the glib US denials of involvement. The American press refused to report the attacks, even when confronted with evidence they could have easily substantiated. "You can see," he rails, "that in this free press they boast of, the wire services, the CIA, everyone acts in unison, elaborating and developing the same lie in order to disguish the truth."~~

~~Note that while arms were delivered to AMTASH in March 64 and June 64 by the CIA, on April 7, 1964, in between, at a Special group meeting, President Johnson decided to discontinue sabotage raids on Cuba and abandon the objective of~~

*Am. Helms to AMEAS in March 1964 Hence let by CIA Pres. Johnson decided to O. April 7, 1964
discontinue sabotage mission on Cuba Castro's overthrow. Rusk said sabotage* was unproductive and had "a high noise level." He suspected Cuban exiles who conduct the raids of possibly wishing to leave fingerprints pointing to the US involvement.

It's possible that Harvey was still continuing, in fact it's even likely that Harvey was still continuing the actions against Castro and Cubela had gone to Rome precisely to be set up by Harvey in a way that would not attract attention in Miami--false hope. Nonetheless, this would establish the Helms-Harvey-Cubela triad that I feel is implicit in all this.

Harry might even be aware that Harvey's being fired and what is going on with Cubela.

2 day

Hubbard goes to see Harvey in Rome in '65 and in the course of chatting, the early stages of their getting together, Harvey mentions going on trips to Germany, "sentimental trips, you could call them" he says. Needless to say, his drinking problem has escalated.

KS

Man who Kept the Secrets, p. 391:

"Harvey took a dislike to one of his officers in Rome and made his life miserable there. The officer once told him, 'If you don't give up the liquor you'll kill yourself,' and Harvey responded, 'I'll live to piss on your grave, and that's what I'll do.' he had the officer sent home in a degree of disgrace and one of the officer's friends gave him a personal letter to give to Helms explaining things. When Helms read the letter, he was furious and said, 'If I had hold of Harvey right now, I'd ram his head through the wall.' Harvey was recalled and given a final job of making a study of audio security

← This has to be because Helms is counting on Harvey for something rather than being sorry for him.

KS

The
end?

for CIA stations, and then retired on medical grounds. When he left Rome, the station gave him a farewell party at the Hotel Flora. When it ended, Harvey walked over to the US Embassy on the Via Veneta and urinated against the wall of the building.

note, p. 173, there's reference to "one CIA officer in Rome who maintained several contacts with Cubans on his own, who also picked up word of Cubela's boasting." I would say that has to be Harvey. The quote in its larger context is "That June the CIA learned from listening devices among other sources that Cubela had been talking freely about his plans to kill Castro during his frequent trips to Europe." Harvey must have blown the whistle because the CIA broke off all contact with Cubela and warned Arttime that he was not to be trusted.

See WH for more details

The firing of Harvey is described in detail on p. 186 ⁱⁿ the the Wilderness of Mirrors. I won't take up the space here now, but FitzGerald was the one who wrote the report and finally had Harvey retired as chief of the station.

"Fitzgerald submitted a lengthy report to Helms to the effect that Harvey was sick and coming apart at the seams. Helms ordered Harvey relieved of command." If we're using Cal instead of FitzGerald, Harry says, "I got the job of going back to Rome and relieving Bill Harvey." ^{Cal} ~~Hubbard~~ was very glad he didn't have to do it, ^{Harry} and says, "It was a night I will not soon forget. For seven hours [this is from Wilderness of Mirrors] he sat across from Harvey explaining that Harvey was through. Harvey kept drinking brandy with a loaded gun in his lap, paring his nails with his sheath knife. Harvey never threatened him, but the barrel of the

See Document I p 14

*Cal is ill
and off drunk*

$ If Harlot falls, Harry is not sure he can delay him. He is anchored, but does not like the anchor.

WM

* It became part of my life. I remembered ^{reaching the land} w Harlot. I ^{found} stood ^{an} ^{un} ^{known} ~~found~~ ^{side} ^{for} ^{had} ^{been} maneuvered about to find ^{the} way through a ^{part} ^{of} ^{the} ^{land} unaccompanied overland. In that half-hour, I had come to know what it was to ^{be} ^{one's} existence on a vertical rather than a horizontal plane. Sitting down from Bill Harvey
all those years with that loaded gun on the table pointing at me,
I came to know what it was to live on a line, not a plane, and I never forgot who was to guard that I could make when the sun came gun was always pointing directly at him. *

Harvey then sent out a cable announcing he was returning to Washington and it reached all CIA stations on the Ides of March. There was no indication Harvey was going home in disgrace. He threw a farewell party for himself in the ballroom of the Rome Hilton, complete with a flowing fountain of champagne.
Excessive by any standard, but particularly for a supposedly anonymous CIA man. After a meeting of Helms, Cal Hubbard, Angleton, and Harlot, it was decided to find Harvey something he could work at on his own time where he wouldn't have anybody to supervise and any operations to run." [This again, is from Wilderness of Mirrors.] "He was placed in charge of the Special Services Unit where his job was countermeasures against electronic surveillance." he was drinking like a fish and keeping 9 in ^{bottles} ^{in his} ^{desk}

(up which way I knew the most powerful safeguard had ~~been~~ to keep Bill Harvey from reaching by that point.)

~~one.~~ Was it possible that the KGB now willing of ~~during~~ MONGOOSE, through Roselli from Giancana to Trafficante, may have decided that Oswald as a sole killer would not only be in the best interest for them, but also the best interest of the FBI, the CIA the Kennedy family themselves--and so it worked. Even Lyndon Johnson would have to go along in order to keep the seams of the Democratic party from bursting. Don could this ~~If~~ right before the exposure. The Kennedy had died as a martyr and a hero, one would not want talk of assassination plans bursting loose in that period.

Don could the fight along afford exposure. They were on the cusp of being implicated.

On October 17, 1964. Brezhnev replaces the deposed Khrushchev. In November of 64, a Johnson landslide. November 3, the election which he won against Goldwater, and in November 64, although it actually took place in October, Polly Galen Smith was found murdered on the towpath in Georgetown. In the book we

*Harry
thinking Mazman
+ his chess game*

*Oswald as a low assassin
was in the best interest of everyone.*

*If that was the case,
we might never learn the answer.*

Note - If we end with

-567-

Harvey's firing

- then pp. 566-567 come out the end and this page as well. If Harvey goes on, we can't use this page.

combat role. This is the moment when the conflict in Vietnam became an American war. Note, this should be put back to the part about Harvey.

It's solely an ending

Harvey's firing
could take place against the background of the big war in Vietnam getting cranked up.

On the day Harvey is asked to resign by Hubbard in Rome, Harvey says at the end: Even when I ~~uncovered~~ ^{knew} "Ever since I got Philby, I ~~felt~~ ^{his safety} the Russians were blowing ~~him~~ ^{big guy} to protect somebody bigger. Now I'll let you guess who that is." He said no more, but one part of my brain forever afterward had to worry about Harlot."

End?
==

This note--it's possible this could be used during the last night rather than as memory in Moscow.

The last night might well focus on watergate.

Last of all, and possibly (the Wofford Book, Of Kings and Kennedys, p. 416) RFK

A lot of the history that can be worked in gracefully Calvin's end, and various historical notes could precede the Harvey firing.
It would end with him saying, "I'm going to know a farewell party for myself.
I want you to stay over."

then this as the dawn comes and he puts his gun away.

in 1967 could ask Frank Mankiewicz at a time when they're both in P.J. Clarke's whether Garrison had anything going on the CIA-assassination business, but before Mankiewicz could reply, Bobby said, 'Well, I don't think I want to know.'" Is it possible Hubbard hears this all the way over in Vietnam, or could it come in a little memo from Harlot? This will go into the Vietnam section if it's not used before.

The following are an appendix to all that's gone before:

539 ← the key to AMLASH may be that he bitterly resents the Russian presence in Cuba. He sees it as his sacred duty to replace Castro. I think ^{that} may be a key to the man along with all else.

~~I do not wish to do it.
It is my sacred duty to perform such acts.~~

Oct '63 569 is moved to Harlot's drawer

November - Butler

~~Butler?~~

~~Butler~~
or November Butler
Butler

In October 63, after the Attwood initiative, the CIA, tapping into all telephone Cuban telephone lines at the UN would be hip to Kennedy's moves. In Miami, JMWAVE would see this as betrayal. Hunt has to talk to Harry, he's so sick and incensed. I think this should be a scene. Butler is outraged and takes it out that night on the Cuban in the toilet bowl. "You like Jack Kennedy?" Butler asks. "Kiss Jack Kennedy for me" says Butler and shoves the Cuban's head deeper into the bowl.

I don't know if I want to use this date, July 21, 1963, but at this point, Peking and Moscow were planning to resolve their ideological differences. Harlot says, "they're setting a trap; for once I agree with Angleton." The Peking and Moscow inability to resolve ideological differences comes after two weeks of conferences and comes over coexistence with the West. China's seeing it as a war that will not stop Russians are looking for accommodation

Butler V

Harlot
meets with Jack Kennedy

Harlot
the and Kennedy
never to be brighter accuses her of being a celebrity bunch.

Hyman?

~~In October, after the Attwood initiative, the CIA, tapping into all telephone lines at the US would tap into Kennedy's moves. In Miami, JB, could see this as betrayal. Hunt goes to talk to Harry, who's so sick and incoherent. I think this should be a scene. Butler is outraged and takes it that night on the Cuban in the toilet bowl. "You like Jack Kennedy" Butler asks. "Kiss Jack Kennedy for me," says Butler and shoves the Cuban's head deeper into the bowl.~~

Kittredge
Vehltman

Fuel?

Harlot predicts to Harlot. on July 22 that Moscow & Peking will pretend of

*Harlot
 might break with Jack Kennedy*

*Harlot
 the and Kittredge
 never terrible bright. It accuses
 me of being a celebrity
 fucker.*

don't know if I want to use this date, but at this point, Peking and Moscow were planning to resolve their ideological differences. Harlot says, "they're setting a trap; for once I agree with Angleton." The Peking and Moscow inability to resolve ideological differences, comes after two weeks of conferences and comes over the table with the West.

JULY

over that will not stop Russian are looking for accommodation

Summers' figures has as many as 600 CIA officers and 3000 contract agents. In any event, a great many front operations were spawned, boat shops, detective agencies, travel agencies, gun stores, hundreds of safe houses, and many arms were stored in secret caches all up and down the Everglades and the Keys. In 1963 (this is from The War that Never Was, p. 125) the Miami headquarters of the CIA, the Zenith Technological Enterprises compound was on the University of Miami South Campus facing the abandoned Richmond Naval Air Station. At the border of that ~~That's the airfield where~~ there's a cluster of wood-framed barracks. Zenith was set up with a false front. There were phony sales and reproduction charts in the halls and offices and business licenses from state and federal governments, also a certificate of award from the United Givers' Fund to Zenith and so forth.

P572 moved to
1973 memo

Elliot Key has a small dock concealed in the mangroves where a narrow coral road goes through the mangroves to a ramshackle old house covered by palm trees and heavy vegetation. There's a big kitchen, an equipment shed where weapons are kept, outboard motors, boats, hats, green fatigues and various military hardware. All supplies, however, including fresh water, have to be shipped in. There's also a shrine in the main room before which the exiles can pray. On Elliot Key the main boats used are Boston whalers, either 13', 6" jobs or 16' 7".

At the Coral Gables headquarters, the Zenith vehicles used were new Fords or Chevy Impalas with Florida license plates. You had to hand in your security ID card through the letter opening in the door. Southwest ^{6th} Street near the downtown area is Little Havana. There are bars in South Miami where CIA men drank. The Formosa Restaurant in South Miami is one example.

In Miami one can find prevalent the smells of oleander, an evergreen shrub with narrow leaves and white and red flowers. All kinds of fish, lobster, snook (S.), trout, bonefish, sharks, marlin, eels, rays, octopuses. There's the stink of the mangroves and rotting vegetation and dead marine life.

will perfume
agave guaraná Havanese Natal palms by the water Poinsettia
tiled fountain Wass, lobster sea oats Strombos
pink lotus

One of the planes used is an SB 16 Albatross seaplane. There's a marine boat shop for aliens that's stationed in a warehouse off Southwest 7th Avenue, South Miami. I don't know what the N means, maybe Southwestern 7th Ave, it's SWN 7th Avenue, South Miami, is what I have written.

~~Cubela, by all reports, is a heavy drinker.~~

~~From WTNW, 179. A CIA spotter plane in Miami is a Cessna single engine.~~

P54
My note: The Zenith complex after the assassination was like a political headquarters after the vote. Empty desks, empty paper coffee cups all over the floor, all the unseen ash from burned nerves was in the atmosphere.

Another note: Near Miami International Airport, is a "small earthy Cuban hideaway" known as El Rinconcito