Dear Peter

Here's a batch of forty or so to choose from (in addition to the ones you already have.) As I rec'd on the phone, I'll write in the prose lines on the same page as the drawing once selections are made. (It would take too long to do it now.)

The order in which the drawings are presented here is arbitrary, even catch-as-catch-can. I assume you will want to choose which ~~and~~ one appears in any given issue.

There are some doubles—that is, a pair or trio of drawings that go best together. I've isolated them with a paper clip.

Now, I'll wait to hear from you.

Cheers

P.S. I've got a little I like for the series: PUFFS. It's modestly, mildly witty, and it makes no outrageous claims.
