The Administration and Faculty of Wilkes College are most happy to have the parents of our students join with us on this "Parents Day".

The work that we are doing with your sons and daughters is a joint undertaking, and it is only through sharing your aspirations that we can really render the services that will lead to the greatest self-development of our students.

We need your understanding, support, and cooperation in our efforts, and we believe that the more closely parents and teachers work together, the more beneficial will be the results.

For your confidence and cooperation, I thank you.
