

They Say It's 'All In Fun'

The "Gay 90's" returned to the business section of Wilkes-Barre, when two men dressed as women caused considerable attention among the shoppers by passing out handbills.

After doing both sides of South Main street, they ran into the arms of the law at the corner of South Main and Public Square, when Officer John McGreevy made the mistake of cornering the two and subjected himself to a ten-minute lecture on the "All In Fun" show, which the Wilkes College letter-men will present on May 25 and 26 in the Kingston High School.

Later in the afternoon they invaded the King's College cafeteria and passed the handbills.

3-BARRE RECORD, FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1949

DETENTION PROVES SHORT-LIVED

The old adage, "Be you ever so high, the law is above you," certainly fits the above situation, which shows Officer John McGreevy doing his duty at the corner of South Main and Public Square after he spotted two suspicious looking characters dressed as women passing out handbills to afternoon shoppers.

As it turned out—after both meekly offered their explanations and Howard Ennis, right, had given Officer McGreevy one of the handbills—the boys were members of the Wilkes College Lettermen's Club and simply were advertising their "All in Fun" musical comedy, which will be given May 25 and 26 in Kingston High School. The costumed figure on the left is Dick Scripp.

From The Director

The job of putting together a show—the preparation and planning even before rehearsals start—is tremendous. To prepare a musical requires ant-like persistence. The show is never out of your mind from the moment you put pencil to paper until the sets are struck closing night.

For the Lettermen to want to back such an ambitious project is a gratifying experience. That they should have devoted the time to grueling rehearsals is remarkable in itself, but that a group of men, many of whom have never been on a stage, should turn out a well-rounded show is an achievement.

Planning the show began last December, but not until after the Theatre Conference in March was a meeting called to draw up an outline for the production. Mr. Mailey, Mr. Meyers, Mr. Gottlieb, and myself met with a committee of the Lettermen to work out the details. Rehearsals were underway early in April, and were planned so as not to interfere with studies, baseball games, and dates.

The Lettermen themselves, as an active organization on campus, deserve the full measure of your support—for, through ALL IN FUN, they are creating a scholarship fund for one of Wyoming Valley's high school graduates. That spirit of fellowship, so desperately needed today, is alone with the price of admission . . . at least, I have found it so.

ALFRED S. GROH

GEORGE F. RALSTON

Several years ago Wilkes College got its first glimpse of George Ralston and George Ralston got his first glimpse of Wilkes College. Immediately, the two were close friends.
To "The Coach" his men are God Almighty's gentlemen and to his men, he's "The Coach"—which symbolizes one of the highest honors that a group of athletes can give to their leader.
Because of his efforts the sports program at Wilkes College has attained the position it holds today. Had it not been for his leadership and guidance, there would be no show, no lettermen's club, no athletics.
