

IN CELEBRATION OF THE REFURBISHING AND LIGHTING
OF THE MARKET STREET BRIDGE: RESTORING THE PAST

To build a bridge
The record shows
Is more than knowing
Where it goes
Or knowing how
The river flows
Swelled by rains
Or melting snows.

To build a bridge
Where two towns meet
At the intersection
Of Market Street
To work together
Not to compete
Is more than
An engineering feat.

To build a bridge
Every traveler knows
A symbol of beauty
Strength and repose
American eagles
The record shows
Guard its past and present
As its future grows.

Alfred S. Groh
May 25, 1987