Outstanding Wrestler—Larry Rippey, Lock Haven State

Fourth-Ranked Wilkes Set for Sixth-Ranked East Stroudsburg

Colonels to Entertain Warriors Wednesday In Annual Mat Battle

The Wilkes College Grapplers, ranked fourth in the Independent's Eastern Wrestling poll, will entertain a young and powerful East Stroudsburg squad this Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the Wilkes Gym.

Coach John Reese's Colonels carry an 11-1 log going into combat with their archrivals from the Poconos. The Warriors have defeated the Colonels the last four years. The charges of Coach Clyde "Red" Witman are ranked sixth in the East, while riding high with an eye-catching 12-3 record. All three of their defeats have been to nationally ranked teams. East Stroudsburg bowed to Oregon State and Iowa early in the season and recently were bombed by Lock Haven State.

Meanwhile, the Colonels have coasted to a record of 11 wins on a relatively lighter schedule. Last week the Blue and Gold was surprised by a sky-high Lycoming team, 15-14, halting an 11 meet victory skein.

Both squads will field some outstanding wrestlers. The 123 pound match should be one of the top encounters of the meet, when Wilkes' Andy Matviak clashes head-on with ESSC's Ted Pease. Matviak recently captured the Wilkes Open title at 115. Pease on the other hand was the Army Plebe titlist last season and also was voted the Most Outstanding Wrestler.

Another strong point in the Wilkes lineup will be NCAA Small College Champion Joe Wiendl, who will see action at 167 or jump a weight to 177, depending upon the progress of the meet.

ESSC's Al Detwiler captured the Pennsylvania State College 177-pound crown last winter. Earlier this season he finished in the runnerup spot at the Coast Guard Tournament.

Coach Reese stated, "This is a real big meet for us. We were a little down after our loss to Lycoming, but I feel the wrestlers on our team realize the challenge facing them. We've got to be in top form if we hope to come out with a victory."

Reese said that he had a few changes in mind which would involve his upper weights. He would like to drop Gary Willets to 152, Wiendl to 160, and Rich Ceccoli to 167. These moves would inable the Colonel mentor to insert heavyweight Ron Fritts at 177. Fritts, who has been battling opponents 40-60 pounds heavier, has recorded an 8-1 record in the heavyweight class. A changed lineup in this form would be a formidable squad for the Warriors to face.

Coach Witman says, "We always look forward to wrestling Wilkes. We know that they are well coached and conditioned. We've had some great battles in the last few seasons and this Wednesday's meet shouldn't be any different."

"We're a very young team but we have been improving steadily over the season. It was to our benefit to wrestle Oregon State in the early part. It has toughened our people up—and was really a tremendous experience."

With four years of frustration the Wilkes Colonels will be ready for the Warriors.

Wilkes Matmen Host East Stroudsburg Wednesday

COLONEL GRAPPLERS—The Wilkes College wrestling team will be out to snap a four-meet winning skein by East Stroudsburg State College this Wednesday evening at the Colonels' gym. Coach John Reese's Colonels were recently ranked fourth in the East, while East Stroudsburg was ranked sixth. ESSC defeated Mansfield yesterday, while Wilkes downed University of Massachusetts.

This Weekend

Opening Round Matches On Friday Afternoon; Pitt and Navy Entered

Friday will mark the opening round of the 37th annual Wilkes College Open Wrestling Tournament, which is called "Rose Bowl" of wrestling in mat circles. Wilkes College Coach John Reese is anticipating over 300 entries this year, which is an off year because of the Olympics.

Wilkes inherited the tournament back in 1950 from the local YMCA, which did not have the facilities to accommodate the overflow crowd of grapplers who wanted to compete.

Former Wyoming Seminary Coach Austin Bishop, whom many consider as the father of wrestling in Wyoming Valley, started this prestigious event back in 1932. Little did he know it would grow in proportion to one of the nation's top Holiday events.

Wilkes College has never captured the team title, which has gone to such mat powers as Pitt, Michigan, NYAC, Lock Haven State and Bloomsburg State, but this may be the year the Colonels pick up their initial first place award.

Last year Wilkes had only two place winner in Andy Metviak and John Marfia, but Joe Wiendl, a 1966 place winner and 1968 College Division NCAA champion are all back, giving the Colonels a strong nucleus.

While the list of entrants is growing slowly, already Navy, Pitt, Oswego, Waynesburg, Penn grapplers and a number of other schools have sent in enough contestants to have representative teams.

Some of the notables entered thus far are: John Logan, Penn Grapplers, who took a first at 177 last year; Brian McGann, Oswego State, fourth at 123; Ed Bannat, Navy, second at 177; Joe Richatti, Waynesburg, third at UNL; Wayne Wents, Michigan, fourth at 177; Mark Kane, Navy, EIWA champ, and Bob Christian, Navy, third in EIWA tourney.

Wilkes Team Strong
Getting back to Coach Reese's Colonels, Matviak copped a third at 115, while Marfia took third at 130. Wiendl was upset last year, but appears in much better condition for this year's event.

Wilkes has plenty of team balance from top to bottom. Ron Fritts, who defeated C. W. Post's heavyweight who captured the Coast Guard Tourney, whipping East Stroudsburg's Rich Schumacher, who won the Open last year, may be one of the surprises of the tourney. It's possible he'll go at 191.

NYAC's Jerry Bell was the outstanding wrestler in last year's tourney, but he's not expected back at this time.

Coach Gray Simons of Lock Haven State College, who was an Open Champion himself, said last week he'll bring in three or four men for the event.

Navy, coached by Ed Peery, Wrestling's Coach of The Year in '68, will bring a number of grapplers to the tourney. One of his contestants is Tom Jones of Kingston at 177. Tom's in his plebe year at the academy. He was a district champion in 1967 for Kingston.

Many of Navy's entries are underclassmen, but the Middies are the defending EIWA champions and are rated the team to beat in eastern mat circles this year.

Pitt coach Dave Adams is bringing his frosh team, headed by 167 pounder Jim Flemming, who was second in the PIAA State meet last March. He's from Mt. Lebanon high.

Many more entries are expected this week, which should make the tourney another superb event.

Wiendl Captains Wilkes Matmen for Tough Year

Team Opens At Oneonta

Wilkes College wrestlers will open their campaign at a quadrangular match tomorrow afternoon at Oneonta (N. Y.) State College against two New York teams and a New Jersey squad.

The meet is a first for the Colonels of Coach John Reese, in his 16th season at the helm of the local grapplers.

All participants in tomorrow's meet had winning 1967-68 records, Wilkes leading the pack with 13-2. Their opponents are the host college which was 9-5 last season, the University of Buffalo (8-3) and Montclair (N. J.) State (9-3).

Coach Reese was well pleased with the showing of his matmen in practice sessions with West Point and Princeton before the Thanksgiving recess.

The first three days of this week, the Colonel grapplers engaged in elimination bouts to determine the starters for tomorrow's opener.

Six regulars from last year's squad have won berths. Of the other three starters, one saw limited but successful action during the first semester last season, one lettered in his freshman year but didn't participate last year and the other is a freshman.

Leading Reese's new edition into a new season is senior Joe Wiendl, who was elected captain. Joe is competing at 167 this year after winning the Middle Atlantic Conference title at 160 in his sophomore year and the NCAA College Division championship last year. He finished dual competition with a perfect 15-0 record.

Other veterans starting are the lightweight aces from Easton, Andy Matviak at 123 and John Marfia at 130. Both juniors, they came along fast last year with Andy posting a 13-2 record and John 12-3. Matviak led the squad with eight pins, followed by Marfia with seven. Dick Cook, who graduated in June, also turned in seven pins at 167 as he battled to a 14-0 record.

Steve Kaschenbach, a junior from Dallas, will go at 137 pounds. He lettered in his freshman year, but didn't compete last season.

Dennis Verzera, a sophomore from Baldwin, Long Island, is back at 145, where he posted 11 wins, three losses and one tie in his first year last season.

A newcomer to the squad will be at 152 pounds. He is Allan Zelner, a freshman from Williamstown, N. J. Last year he was second in the New Jersey State championship at 148.

At 160 will be Gerry Willetts, a sophomore from West Morris, N. J., who lettered last year.

Overall record 13-2 — Coach John Reese

OUTLOOK FOR 1968-69

As in the past Wilkes College once again should turn out an outstanding wrestling team for the 1968-69 season. Reflecting on last seasons 13-2 record, with only 3 starters absent from this years roster, the Colonels should again be tough.

Filling in the slots vacated by graduating seniors will be promising freshmen and seasoned veterans. The Wilkes mat squad, though smaller than in past seasons, should bypass this deficit with greater speed, versatility, and desire.

Adding to the excitement of the Wilkes College fans this season will be Andy Matviak, Joe Wiendl, and John Marfia, all NCAA championship contenders. Along with proven upperclassmen on the squad, Wilkes also boasts a tremendous influx of freshmen talent. This season should in all probability be another banner year for the Colonels.

RICHARD CECCOLI — sophomore from Forty Fort, Pa. . . . regional champ in high school . . . outstanding strength and ability . . . 5-0 wrestling at 160 last winter . . . potential MAC Champion . . . slated to wrestle at 177 for coming year

RON FRITTS — sophomore from Erie, Pa. . . . small for heavyweight but has lots of aggressiveness . . . 6-2-1 record as a freshman with 3 pins . . . would be an ideal 191 pounder . . . could be the sleeper of the year.

BILL HARRIS — Junior from Wilkes-Barre Meyers . . . won George Hooper Award, symbolic of the top wrestler in Wyoming Valley, as a senior in 1965 . . . extremely durable and very quick . . . will grapple at the 130-137 pound weight class . . . 3-1 in limited action last season

STEVE KASCHENBACH — junior from Dallas, Pa. . . . surprise of the 1966-67 wrestling season for Coach Reese when he lettered . . . out of competition last year . . . a very aggressive 145 pounder who constantly works for the fall

JOHN MARFIA — junior from Easton, Pa. . . . 12-3 last winter as a 130 pounder . . . fifteenth on the all-time top Colonel wrestler list with a 19-5 log . . . runnerup in the MAC Championships last March losing in the finals 9-7 . . . most improved wrestler on the squad . . . smart grappler with great moves

ANDY MATVIAK — Junior from Easton, Pa. . . . holds Wilkes team record for pins in one year with 8 . . . fifth among all-time Colonels with a 19-2 records . . . hardest worker on squad . . . compiled a 13-2 log in 1967-68 . . . fourth in the NCAA Small College Tournament . . . second place finisher in the MAC's

DENNIS VERZERA — sophomore from Baldwin, New York . . . quickest wrestler on the team . . . 11-3-1 as a frosh . . . great leg man with a lot of stamina . . . 145 pounder . . . will be the key man in the Colonels success

JOE WIENDL — Senior from Westfield, New Jersey . . . NCAA 160 pound Small College champion in Mankato, Minn. in 1968 . . . was chosen on last winters mid-season all American team . . . 35-1 varsity life-time record makes him number two on the all-time charts . . . 1967-68 record 15-0 . . . holds 5 Wilkes Football records . . . co-captain of this years grid team which has won 29 straight . . . hit 357 and topped the league in stolen bases to lead the Colonels to their first baseball championship last spring . . . should be Wilkes' first 12 letterman . . . captain of this years wrestling squad . . . JOHN REESE

This winter spells the 16th year that John Reese has coached the Wilkes College grapplers. During his previous years as the wrestling mentor, Reese has built up an outstanding 121-24-6 record. From 1957 to 1961 Coach Reeses' grapplers held a monopoly on MAC honors.

An area native, Reese attended Kingston High School where he began his wrestling career. As a high school wrestler the Colonel Coach attained laurels on a district level and was a state semi-finalist. After attending Millersville State College, he completed his education at Penn State University where he gained a BS Degree in Physical Education in 1951. Coming to Wilkes in 1955, Coach Reese has built the Colonels year after year into one of the top teams in the country.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities the Wilkes mentor is also the Director of Athletics at the College.

To Honor East-West Teams

WVAA Wrestling Fete This Friday Evening

The Wyoming Valley Athletic Association will hold a banquet this Friday evening at the Wilkes-Barre American Legion Home honoring the participants of the first scholastic East-West Wrestling Meet.

Another highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Sunday Independent Cup to Ed Peery, head wrestling coach of the U. S. Naval Academy. Navy was voted by a panel of the east's top wrestling coaches and members of the news media as the top team in the east for 1969.

Many of the east's top wrestling coaches have already indicated they will be in attendance for the affair to pay homage to the East-West All-Stars and Navy's coach.

Wilkes College, which captured the MAC Crown recently, will have three of its individual champions on hand to receive recognition awards from the WVAA. They are John Marfia (130), Dennis Verzera (145), and Joe Wiendl (160). Wiendl also won a second NCAA College

Division title and finished fifth in the NCAA University Division tourney.

The WVAA has opened the banquet to the public, but tickets are going rapidly. They may be purchased at Lewis-Duncan Sporting Goods, WBER Radio, Chuck Robbins Sporting Goods, and Trucksville Pharmacy. Cost of the affair is $3.50.

One of the principal speakers for the evening will be LeRoy Alitz, head coach at West Point and past president of the NCAA Coaches Association.

Coach Peery, who was selected as College Wrestling Coach-of-the-Year for 1968, will make the principal address.

Wilkes Schedules 39th Annual Open Wrestling Tournament

OVER 350 MATMEN EXPECTED DEC. 28

The 39th annual Wilkes College Open Wrestling Tournament, the oldest and largest event of its kind in the country, will be staged at the Wilkes College Gymnasium on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 28 and 29.

Over 350 grapplers are expected to take part in the tourney which has been dubbed by Sports Illustrated magazine as "The Rose Bowl of Wrestling."

Tournament Director George Ralston announces that weigh-ins will take place on both Tuesday, Dec. 28, and Wednesday, Dec. 29, from 8 to 9 each morning. The registration desk will open at the Wilkes gym on Monday evening, Dec. 27.

Among the top teams expected to vie for team championship laurels are the defending titlists, the New York Athletic Club plus Navy, Slippery Rock, Temple, Buffalo, and Wilkes.

The Colonels, hosts for the two day event, have never been able to win team honors, but made their finest showing last year, finishing a strong runner-up to the New York Athletic Club.

The history of the Wilkes Open goes back to 1932 when Austin Bishop, wrestling coach at neighboring Wyoming Seminary, initiated the tourney at the local YMCA. Wilkes College inherited the tournament from the YMCA in 1950 when it became apparent that the event had outgrown the facilities.

Competition has increased steadily from approximately 56 entrants in 1932 to the 300 plus of recent years.

To Be Televised

A tournament "first" will be recorded on Dec. 29 when the final bouts will be televised "live" on WVIA-TV, Channel 44. Picking up the telecast on a delayed tape will be Channel 39 in the Allentown-Bethlehem area.

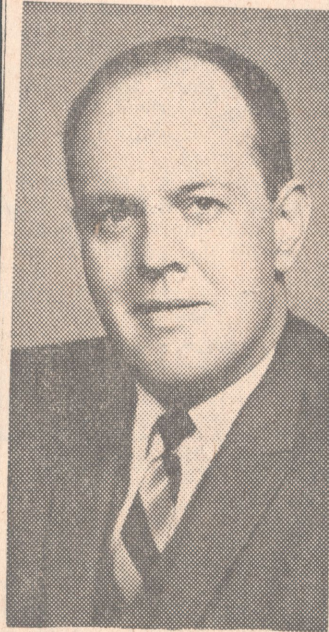

Team trophies will be presented to the top team entrant and runnerup as well as individual awards to all first through fourth place winners.

Highlighting the post-tournament awards ceremony will be the presentation of the Outstanding Wrestler trophy, given annually in memory of Bruce Blackman, late Times Leader Evening News sports editor who promoted the grappling sport.

This year's matches will begin at 1 p. m. Tuesday and continue until completion of the quarter-finals. Semi-finals are slated for 1 p. m. Tuesday, with finals scheduled for 8 p. m.

WILKES vs. E. S. S. C.

Coach Clyde "Red" Witman and his powerful squad of East Stroudsburg Warriors are here tonight with hopes of extending their win streak over Wilkes to five straight. Thus far this season, the E. S. S. C. wrestlers have compiled a very respectable 12-3 record.

After attending Millersville State College, he completed his education at Penn State University where he gained a BS in Physical Education in 1951. Coming to Wilkes in 1955, Coach Reese has built the Colonels, year after year, into one of the top teams in the country.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, the Wilkes mentor is also the Director of Athletics at the College.
